SCHOOL EXPANSION SLATED FOR VOTERS

Editor's Column

STUART R. PADDOCK

The State Department is coming to Chicago this week to tell its story to the news media. We attended a similar session in Washington last year.

We wonder if the administration expects to sell newsmen a bill of goods in an effort to bail out the New Frontier that is running into difficulties from its own Congressional members?

Next week's issue will tell you what it is all about.

We had an interesting talk Sunday with Michael Varenick, who fought with the White Russians against the Bolsheviks over 40 years ago and served the United States with Stephen Jurco, Arlington Heights attorney, in the CIC during the second World War.

We now understand why Russia can boast of its scientists and why their collective farms are falling down on production.

Schools are mandatory but only those who are above average are allowed to attend colleges; others are thrown to the wayside or are sent to vocational schools.

Farmers are largely kept in ignorance but when they are provided with some modern machinery, they do not know how to keep it in repair.

When we asked Mr. Varenick how he knows so much about what is happening in Russia and Bulgaria today, he explained that he recently responded to an appeal from the overworked State Department to translate Slavic newspapers, magazine articles and letters from those two countries.

The telephone company has issued booklets telling why phone numbers are being replaced by figures—seven in place of the ori l five—and on calls to other zones there will be 10 figures. Subscribers are lucky if they can remember four digits.

Must our minds be trained to do the work of computers?

If the telephone company wants to do a real service for the local subscribers, they will again furnish a local directory. Otherwise, a lot of time will be wasted by dialing errors.

When we turned over the greater part of our historic data to Arlington and Palatine historic societies we thought we were unloading historical responsibility—but NO.

A descendant of a family interred in the old Cady cemetery on Ela and Dundee roads has asked if there is any record of such graves. Many of the original fallen tombstones have been placed in a single pile.

We have the names of 40 persons who, at the request of Sarah Page of Barrington, contributed to a new fence 38 years ago. Can anybody take it from there?

We are told the airport terminal building at O'Hare surpasses any other in this world. We cannot vouch for authenticity of that claim, because we are not a world traveler. We will find out next week when we entertain two such travelers.

Anyway, O'Hare's new facilities are worth shouting about. When you are showing Chicago to visitors, do not miss taking them to OUR airport.

The next time our police catch up with a teenager who has a rifle in his car, we ask that they ask some questions about the number of road signs in Inverness that have been damaged. Some of the posts have rifle holes.

Referendum In October

An October bond referendum for two new schools and improvements at another has been tentatively set at $1.2 million by Elementary School District 25.

The total will go up if the district finds a site for a fourth junior high school.

The board of education approved the $1.2 million figure Monday night for a third junior high school, $850,000; an 11th elementary school, $275,000; and Wilson Elementary School, $35,000, and site development, $15,000.

A reduced estimate on the new grade school, Dunton, allowed provision for a contingency fund of $25,000. Architect William Ganster's original estimate for Dunton was $300,000.

PROVISION for purchase of a 20-25 acre tract for another junior high was ma[illegible] event an option is avai[illegible]e in the area north of Rand and Palatine Roads, just west of the corner of State Road at Sunset Drive.

Realtor Charles Wilson of Arlington Heights was authorized by the board to investigate the availability of a site in the general area described. Plans for construction will be made at a future date if a site is located.

The third junior high, Thomas, will go in at Thomas Avenue and State Road, with 18 sections in the first phase. It will be designed for 30 sections and serve the district north of Oakton Street.

The construction plan is similar to that used for Miner Junior High. The first unit of 18 sections was constructed in 1956-57; a 12-room addition is being completed this summer.

DUNTON SCHOOL is planned for a site bordering Dunton Avenue on the west, Cypress Street on the north and State Road on the east. The first phase will be seven rooms, similar to other schools in the district, with plans for a six-or 12-room addition.

A base cost of $15 per square foot was used to make the estimates for both new schools.

Ninety feet per student for 540 students is allowed in the Thomas plan, bringing the cost per student to $1,350. The per student cost for Dunton is figured at $825, allowing 55 square feet for each of 270 students.

In comparison, the first unit of Miner was constructed for $678,000, about $13.85 per square foot. The addition cost about $14.80 per square foot.

The increased construction expenses are attributed to generally rising costs.

Site development at Wilson will proceed immediately if funds are granted in the referendum. The alterations may be help up, pending the board's decision on use of three present sub-standard classrooms.

IN OTHER discussion Monday night concerning the proposed construction, board members agreed with Ganster and Supt. Ralph Clabaugh's suggestion not to pre-qualify bidders.

Such pre-qualification had been discussed as a means of assuring submission of bids by well-rated firms. It would entail thorough investigation of contractors' financial conditions and references before they could even check out prints to figure the jobs.

Ganster said he thinks lower bids result without pre-qualification and that qualified firms which might submit the lowest bids could be unfairly ruled out of the bidding.

The board also voted to request alternate bids on certain items such as boiler controls, unit ventilators and unit hardware. This move was made to bring savings to the district, rather than the contractor, on materials of equal quality as those originally specified.

Construction Slow At Two New Schools

District 25 elementary school children may have to go in on top of the contractors at Olive and Patton Schools this fall.

Architect William Ganster made this suggestion only half-humorously in his progress report to the board of education Monday night.

CONSTRUCTION at both schools, slated for occupancy this fall, is going slower than planned, he said.

"But I know Ralph (Supt. Clabaugh) will get those kids in—he's done it before," Ganster commented.

Olive, a seven-room school at 303 E. Olive, is planned for use by three kindergarten classes (in two rooms), two first grades, one second grade, one third grade, and one combined second and third grade. Also a seven-room school, Patton, at 1616 N. Patton, will have two kindergarten classes and four first grade classes.

GENERAL contractor for the buildings is Northfield Builders.

The 12-room addition to Miner Junior High is going well and should be ready on schedule, Ganster said. General contractor for this job, as well as the recently completed addition to the district Administration Building, is John Lindstrom, Inc.

No More Spraying

Eleven residents of the 600 block of East Clarendon this week asked that spraying or fogging for insect pest control and dutch elm disease be discontinued on their properties.

They cited "obvious sensitivities of some people to the ingredients used in the sprays" as this reason in a letter to the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District in Wheeling.

"WE DO, HOWEVER, advocate continuing the spraying of mosquito breeding areas," they said.

It is the policy of the district to comply with such requests by homeowners.

No spraying of special areas has been done yet this summer. Mosquito breeding areas are inspected daily. Spraying of certain sites is usually done only when requested or on the basis of electric light trap contents.

Pass 1949 Peak

Membership Record Reached by Chamber

The Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce hit an all-time membership record of 150 this week.

Signing of Roy Baumann of Baumann Music broke the record of 149 members set in 1949.

"And we're going to hit 200, at this rate," said Will Schwantz, membership chairman. "More than 80 per cent of the firms and individuals we've contacted so far have joined."

THE DRIVE started in late May and will continue throughout the year.

Schwantz said businessmen are looking to the Chamber for assistance in problems dealing with merchants' relations with one another and the village and for aid in general promotion. Industrial interest has picked up also, he said.

He credited Village Pres. John G. Woods with encouraging memberships among members of village boards and commissions.

RECENT ADDITIONS to the membership list include Francois Palmatier, member of the Zoning Board of Appeals; Heights Glass and Mirror Co.; Gieseke's Department Store; Eugene Tillman, insurance; Charles B. Cronin, member of the Park and Plan Commission.

Other members of the membership committee are co-chairman Bill Kaucher, Bob Heller, Muriel Maitland, Don Hartman and Warren Lattof.

Traffic Charges Face Teen Driver

Two traffic violations were charged against a 15-year-old Palatine youth last Friday after an accident in Arlington Heights.

Todd Schiller was ticketed for failure to have a driver's license and damaging village property after the car he was driving struck a car parked at 407 N. Dunton. A village property meter was damaged in the accident. The struck car belonged to Charles E. Glimes of Mount Prospect.

LEON J. STEVENS, also of Palatine, was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to drive. Schiller was driving the Stevens vehicle.

A Chicago man was ticketed after an accident Monday on east Northwest Highway. William J. Laurino was charged with driving too fast for conditions after his auto hit a car driven by Alta A. Hutchinson, 1218 Woodford, Arlington Heights.

Charge of failure to have her vehicle under control was filed Saturday against Joan M. Skahill, 636 S. Salem, Arlington Heights. Her car hit a parked car as she made a left turn from Ridge onto Sigwalt. Byron B. Hawley of Chicago owned the parked car.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT Friday resulted in three charges. Elizabeth N. Swanson of 528 Bristol Lane was cited for driving too fast for conditions and damaging village property, and Murray C. Hoover of Chicago was charged for failure to yield. Their automobiles were involved in a collision at State and Miner and the Swanson vehicle hit a street light.

2 Troopers Affected by State Probe

One Arlington Heights state trooper was suspended and another transferred this week as investigations continued in scandal-ridden district 3.

Cpl. John J. Jaskula of 1708 Clarence Ave. was the 23rd man suspended in the northern Cook County district following discovery of improper procedures in truck weighing inspections by state police. District troopers have been under investigation for allegedly taking bribes from trucking companies in the Chicago area.

TRANSFERRED from district 3 to district 14 at Macomb was Trooper Robert D. Lamb. He was one of seven transferred "for the good of the service," according to James McMahon, assistant state public safety director.

Jaskula has been accused by other troopers with taking "gratuities" from trucking firms.

Next Tuesday

Officials to Study Sewer

Officials from three communities will meet Tuesday in hopes of ironing out conflicts over Arlington Heights' planned $3.5 million comprehensive storm relief sewer system.

Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines board members, attorneys and engineers will discuss the system in relation to its effect on flood conditions, viewed with alarm by Mount Prospect and Des Plaines officials.

The sewer will empty into Weller Creek drainage ditch, increasing the high water mark from six to 15 inches, it is alleged.

ENGINEER Carl Reh, who studied the system for Mount Prospect, said the level may go up nine to 15 inches. The increase was estimated at six inches by engineer Robert Peterson of Arlington.

The maximum effect will be felt by Des Plaines at the Gold Road bridge on the eastern side of Mount Prospect, Reh said.

Mount Prospect attorney Ed Hofert, reporting an "amicable" meeting among several of the officials during the past week, said three goals have been set:

—OFFICIALS will try to develop an interim solution.

—Arlington Heights will help Mount Prospect attempt to get $643,000 unfrozen from state funds to cover Weller Creek from Central Road to Lincoln Avenue. The money was appropriated last year.

—Officials will work for new legislation for money to complete other stages of improvement in the creek suggested by the State Department of Waterways.

Tuesday's meeting is set for 8 p. m. at the Mount Prospect Village Hall.

"We are trying to get an amicable solution to this problem because it is of concern not only to Mount Prospect, but to other villages as well," Hofert said.

HE REPORTED that officials of the Waterways Department said Friday in a meeting with Mount Prospect delegates that the permit issued to Arlington for the sewer does not imply approval of the plans by the state.

Arlington Pres. John G. Woods said he has already written Gov. Otto Kerner requesting a meeting to discuss jarring the state funds loose for Mount Prospect.

He also noted that Des Plaines is now planning a $1.6 million referendum for a comprehensive sewer system.

Bids were let last week for construction of the first third of the Arlington sewer, and work should begin within the next few weeks.

150 Youngsters To Attend Game

About 150 Arlington Heights youngsters plan to see the Chicago Cubs play the Houston Colts Friday.

The children have signed up for a trip sponsored by the Park District as part of its summer program. Registration ended Wednesday.

Buses to the game will leave from Recreation Park at 11 a.m. Friday.

Fun, Bargains

3-Day Carnival Sale Features Top Values

The big three-day carnival sale opens today in downtown Arlington Heights.

Forty merchants, working with the Chamber of Commerce, offer fun and bargains for family members of all ages.

Cut-rate carnival rides for the youngsters and an auto display of 1962 models highlight the feature attractions.

Special tonight will be 4,000 ice cream sandwiches, distributed from 7 to 9 on the corner of Dunton and St. James. Tickets for the rides and sandwiches are available from cooperating stores, identified by large colored posters and yellow window streamers.

FREE BALLOONS for children add to the festive atmosphere, as do a roving German Band, cowboy Bob Atcher, Len Pabich at the organ and Little Oscar the Weiner Man.

Other colorful additions are supplied by members of the Countryside Art Center. Oils, charcoals and water colors are on exhibit by Carole Komarek, Jeanne Alderson, Joan Wayne, Lucille Anderson and Aloise Zehner of Arlington Heights; Hedvic Vlasak of Mount Prospect; Dorothy Kruse and Frances Shillington of Palatine; Frieda Womeldorf of Barrington and Margot Morris of Des Plaines.

Dancing to the music of the Warren Rogers combo, courtesy of the Chamber will begin at 9 p.m. Friday in Dunton Court parking lot.

Along with most of the other stores, Bowen Hardware will be open Thursday and Friday evenings. Special at Bowen's both nights and Saturday will be auctions every half hour.

FREE SHOE shines by Tommy, the shoe shine boy, are the attraction at the Arlington Auto Wash stand at Campbell and Dunton. The corner of Davis and Vail features a Delta Air Lines travel booth.

St. Simon's Episcopal Church is sponsoring a bake sale all three days. Cookies and cup cakes will be sold Saturday by St. John's United Church of Christ.

THE CARNIVAL midway hasn't been forgotten — games of skill and booths line the streets.

The carnival area, set up around the Dunton-Miner intersection on the north side of the tracks and the Dunton-Davis and Dunton-Campbell intersections on the south side, is blocked off from traffic. However, parking facilities are provided along the edges of both areas.

Wheeling Days Are Extended

Gala Wheeling Days have been extended to include Saturday and Sunday, July 28 and 29, because of the rainy weather last Friday through Sunday when they were originally scheduled.

Rides and amusements will be the same during the extended period as for last weekend. The joint fund-raising project, sponsored by the Wheeling Volunteer Fire Department and Chamber of Commerce, will continue at the same location—Chamber of Commerce Park, northeast of the Dundee-Wolf Road intersection.

Private Aircraft in 'Comeback': Priester

By JIM CARNS

Private airplane piloting is apparently on its way up again in 1962, according to George J. Priester, who operates Priester Aviation Service at busy PalWaukee airport near Wheeling.

Five years go, 41,000 hours of flight training were logged at PalWaukee in over 60 planes. The 1957 boom was followed by a few slower years, Priester says, but "if this year continues the way it has been going, it will be close to the old peak."

Priester added, "most people think it takes a super-human to fly. This is really not the case." Less than two weeks ago, 16-year-old Fred Both Jr. took his first solo flight in a Piper Cub at PalWaukee.

FRED, THE SON of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Both, 433 S. Phelps Ave., Arlington Heights, has logged nearly 20 hours. He has earned the money for flying lessons by cutting lawns and doing other odd obs in his neighborhood.

Many weekdays and weekends, depending on weather conditions, a steady stream of aircraft takes off, lands and takes off again at PalWaukee, adding hours in students' logs towards their student pilot, private pilot or commercial certificates.

The instruction program involves anywhere from eight to 12 or more hours of flight with an instructor before solo flight, depending on the type of aircraft and other factors.

INCLUDING THIS initial instruction, the student must complete at least 20 hours of dual flight and 20 hours of solo flight to qualify for a private pilot's license. He must also pass a written test, make a cross-country flight and be introduced to many technical aspects of piloting.

Many students solo in a week or less. According to Priester, this is the best way since the instruction from past days stays fresh in the student's mind. Other limit lessons to the weekends, necessitating review of past instruction in many cases.

The Aviation Service operated with Federal Aviation Authority approval, is the largest private instruction center in the state, "and quite possibly in the nation," Priester says.

He has been at PalWaukee since June 15, 1953, operating the flying school and several other services for the private aircraft lined in neat rows in and out of silver hangars at the corner of Palatine Road and Milwaukee Avenue.

MANY TYPES of planes are at hand for instruction. "We don't use just one aircraft, we use a variety of types to acquaint students with everything they are likely to fly," Priester says.

Also, according to Priester, flight training is one of the few things you can get today at the same price you used to pay years ago, although gas and insurance rates and instructors' wages have all risen. These are all included in the hourly flight instruction cost.

About 15 instructors, ten of them part-time, attempt to cover during instruction pretty much what anybody would run into at any area airport, according to Priester.

HE RECALLS ONE person who came to the school for a pilot's license and 13 days later had completed all the necessary steps. This is a record though, he says, and others range up to a great deal more time.

The sky around PalWaukee is dotted with planes, though, in which people spend that time learning how to correct error and avoid making them, learning how to suspend themselves as a bird does, and waiting to attempt to meet the ground calmly between sojourns in the air. (B8

FLIGHT STUDENTS at George J. Priester's Aviation Service get a view similar to the pictures above approaching one of PalWaukee Airport's runways for landing practice. The pictures, taken from a Cessna 172 (one of many plane which may be used for instruction), represent only a small lapse of time as the craft speeds, apparently effortlessly, toward the ground. Enrollment Goes Well

Enrollment is filling fast for this summer's girl's session at the YMCA's Camp Kroehler in Hayward, Wis., according to Mrs. Jim Pollard, the camp director.

Mrs. Pollard said this week that cheer leading and modern dancing had been added to the camp's regular program of sailing, water skiing, canoeing, and other sports.

SHE ALSO announced that the Northwest Suburban YMCA, 300 E. Northwest Hwy., Des Plaines, will hold a Girls Camp Kroehler Night July 31 at 8:15 p.m. All interested girls and their parents are invited to see movies and slides and ask questions about the camp program.

Information and registration blanks for the camp may be obtained at the "Y," or by calling 296-3376. (B8

For 'Lively Discussion'

Candidate Kennedy in Arlington Appearance

More shots in the political battle aimed at the November election were fired in Arlington Heights last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert J. Hruby, 618 W. Campbell St., were hosts at a reception for John A. Kennedy, Democratic candidate of the 13th Congressional District.

Members of the Wheeling Township Democratic Volunteers, headed by Hruby as president, reported having a "lively discussion" of campaign plans and issues with the candidate from Winnetka.

THE RE-ZONING of the 13th District and the more diversified population of the expanding suburbs give the Democrats an opportunity to upset the traditional Republican majority, he claims.

The 13th District has un-used and undeveloped facilities for new, "clean", and modern industries, Kennedy pointed out.

"They are vitally needed to relieve the tax burden of the individual citizen, to create employment opportunities for our and this help reduce the vast welfare costs in Illinois," he said.

"LOCAL LEADERS in the 13th District can attract new research and industrial plants with the help of the universities, and your congressman can be a catalyst between these forces and the federal government to equalize investments among the states.

"California, for instance, gets $2.80 out of the U. S. budget for each of its taxpayer's dollars, because of its rapid technological and electronic development. Illinois gets 13 cents return on each dollar."

To achieve equalization, Kennedy claims, more is needed than old-fashioned log-rolling and political pressure. Experience in the research, business and development fields will be emphasized strongly in his campaign.

"THE PEOPLE of our country do not have to fear that the sociologists control the country; it is the technologists," he noted.

"Today, 63 cents of every federal dollar is spent as directed by the Civil Service scientist. Congress needs new talents that can properly bring balance and efficiency into the Federal government."

He says that leaders with technological and business experience are too rare in Congress, traditionally controlled by its lawyer majority.

KENNEDY'S next visit to Arlington Heights is planned for Tuesday, July 31, as an informal day when he will meet commuters at the railroad station and tour the area to visit with local shoppers and business men. (B-8

Is State Income Tax Coming? Asks Carroll

"Is Governor Kerner's call for a special session of the Illinois Legislature to be held after the fall election the prelude to an administration demand for a state income tax?"

This question was posed this week by State Representative John W. Carroll (Rep. 6th) who is chairman of the Public Aid Committee of the Legislature.

CARROLL MET with other members of the Republican House of Representatives last week in Springfield, at which time the group threw down the gauntlet to the Governor charging that in putting off the session until after the November election, Kerner was shirking his responsibility to the people of this state and playing politics with the public aid problem.

The Committee stated that the people of the State of Illinois are entitled to know, before the election, the position of the Governor on the issues of new taxes he might propose and particualrly the highly controversial issue of imposing a State Income Tax. The Committee further stated the people of Illinois have a right to know, before the election, how their legislators stood on questions of new and increased taxes and on the pressing problem of Public Aid.

"THE REPUBLICAN Party," stated the Committee, "is ready to take a public position and vote on the record concerning the continual demand of the Governor for more taxes and more irresponsible public spending." They stated that, "It is high time the State returned to an attitude of fiscal responsibility and integrity, which has apparently been abandoned during the Kerner Administration."

The Committee concluded by urging the Governor to call the Special Session now to let the people know where they stand before they go to the polls in November. They condemned Kerner's position on the November date for a Special Session as a cowardly political maneuver.

Committee members present for the meeting were Minority Leader William E. Pollack (Chicago), George F. Stastny (Chicago), John W. Carroll (Park Ridge), W. J. Murphy (Lake County), Jack E. Walker (Lansing), and Ralph T. Smith (Alton).

Cook County Leads List In License Cancellations

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier this week announced the revocation of 189 and the suspension of 772 drivers licenses, chauffeurs licenses and driving privileges based on local court convictions and police reports.

In addition, 359 persons whose licenses were suspended earlier and who did not have more than a total point accumulation of 62 points have been granted probationary permits to drive.

Mandatory provisions of the law applied in 79 of the cases and discretionary in 882. Cook county residents accounted for 737 of the actions and downstate residents accounted for 186. Residents of other states contributed 11 to the total.

ONE AREA resident, Roland R. Reed, 1216 Race St., Arlington Heights, was deprived of driving privileges for driving while intoxicated.

Another, Dennis E. Zablocki, 380 Pleasant, Hoffman Estates, had his license revoked for displaying a license not issued to him.

Those in the area who temporarily surrendered licenses after three violations within a one-year period are: Jose P. Avila, 1351 W. Algonquin, Arlington Heights; Agnes Y. Blando, 1887 Winnetka Road, Northfield; Maurice T. Bolotin, 608 Gregg Road, Northbrook; Carlo W. Johnson, 7020 Mulberry St., Hanover Park.

Prepared by Legislator

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) — A state legislator said Tuesday he will offer a bill in the 1963 General Assembly to provide a prayer for children in all schools using state money.

Rep. George S. Brydia, R-Prophetstown, said his bill will contain the following prayer which would be optional:

"Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven resecued land,

"Praise the power that hath made and preserved us a nation,

"Then conquer we must, for our cause it is just,

"And this be our motto 'In God is our trust.'"

"Let the United States Supreme Court rule that one out," Brydia said. (A-14

Recommend Adding 65,000 Acres for Area State Parks

(UPI)—A report recommending that Illinois add 65,000 acres in state parks in the Chicago area during the next 20 years was issued this week by the Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

It also advised the counties to buy 40,000 to 50,000 more acres now available to the 7,485,844 persons in the six county area equal 11.14 acres for each 1,000 population.

THIS IS compared to 19.64 acres in San Francisco-Oakland, 18.40 in Detroit, 17.65 in Boston and 17.14 in New York-Philadelphia.

"In order to bring the acreage in the Chicago area up to the 17.14 acres available in the New York-Philadelphia area, an additional 44,900 acres within a 60-mile radius of Chicago would be required," the report said.

To put Chicago on a par with Detroit, the report said 54,400 additional acres would be necessary.

The report warns that the metropolitan area—Cook, Will, DuPage, Kane, Lake and McHenry counties in Illinois—will reach 8,000,000 population by 1980, thereby increasing the needs. (A-14

Naturalists Call For Saving Dunes

(UPI)—Two Chicago naturalists have added their voices in support of groups calling for preservation of the Indiana Dunes.

The proposal to build a harbor on the site of the dunes was branded "bad land use" by Dr. W. J. Beecher, director of the Chicago Academy of Sciences, and Prof. Charles E. Olmstead, chairman of the University of Chicago botany department.

IN A STATEMENT given to the Save the Dunes Council in Ogden Dunes, Ind., Sunday, Beecher and Olmstead also asked Northwestern University officials to "abandon the path of expediency and reconsider" a plan by which the school would take two and a half million cubic yards of dunes sand for use in a fill for enlargement of the campus in Evanston.

United Fund Drive Planning Under Way

An Arlington Heights United Fund organization is well on its way to realization.

Planning a $60,000 to $80,000 October fund drive, the board of directors this week filed by-laws and articles of incorporation with the state. Notification of official incorporation is expected this weekend, according to Thomas H. Stewart, temporary chairman.

The board will meet Aug. 4 to elect officers and committee chairmen, including a campaign director, and to outline plans for the drive.

INDICATING AN optimistic outlook on the part of the board, Stewart noted that "this kind of organization is long over-due in the village."

He said 12 to 14 agencies will probably be involved in the first fund drive. At present about 20 different activities conduct separate campaigns each year.

The combined appeal should help overcome the two major difficulties encountered in such a large number of individual campaigns, Stewart said. These are enlisting a sufficient number of persons to help solicit funds and "getting the money." He noted a general decrease in village contributions to charities over the past several years.

THE TENTATIVE goal was set in view of past collections by charity agencies, he explained. It amounts to about $10 per household or $2 to $2.25 per capita for Arlington's 33,000-plus population.

Organizations will be asked to submit budget presentations after the board elects officers.

The Red Cross, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts — composing the "big three" agencies—have all shown interest in the United Fund, Stewart said. These three groups annually collect about 30 per cent of the total contributed in the village.

Among other groups which may be included in the combined appeal are the Salvation Army, YMCA, Clearbrook School, Campfire Girls, Goodwill and Northwest Mental Health Clinic.

Organization of the United Fund, spearheaded by the Community Council, is the culmination of numerous discussions by various groups. Previous attempts to establish a village-wide united drive have fizzled out, but several residential areas within Arlington including Scarsdale and Stonegate, have their own campaigns.

Other area communities with combined appeals are Mount Prospect, Palatine, Barrington and Des Plaines.

PROSPECT Heights, which has a "so-so" drive, may be included in the Arlington campaign, Stewart said. One of the United Fund board members, Dr. Martin P. Meisenheimer, is from Prospect Heights. However, the solicitation area is still under consideration.

Additional members for the board are also still being contacted, Stewart said. Membership is set at 21, and the present count is 18: Donald R. Hartman, Paul E. Collins, the Rev. Robert O. Bartz, L. A. Hanson, Stephen Jurco, Dr. Dewin M. McGill, James M. Glynn, Ted Seiler, Stewart, Dr. Meisenheimer, Willis J. Jensen, Daniel E. Kain, L. W. Calderwood, William Cook, William Kaucher, Charles H. Wilson, Harold Best, William E. Trude.

The by-laws provide that the directors shall serve three-year terms, with seven to be elected each year. The terms for the first board members will be chosen by lot.

THE BY-LAWS also declare that each person who contributes $5 or more to the United Fund corporation will become a member with voting privileges. The annual meeting of the members will be held in January for election of board members.

The board will elect its own officers, a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, and an executive committee will be set up to conduct business between board meetings. Other committees of the board will be in charge of budgets and admissions, public information and campaigns. (AF

Stolen U.S. Bonds Turn Up at Bank

Some $1,000 worth of 5,000 stolen U.S. Savings Bonds turned up at the Arlington Heights National Bank Monday, but the man escaped apprehension.

Mrs. Helen Brinkman was requested to cash the 20 $50 bonds by a John Barry of New York, who said he was in the area to pick up his wife. While checking the bonds, Mrs. Brinkman discovered they were part of 3,000 blank bonds stolen from U.S. registered mail at Idlewild Airport in New York last October.

SHE KEPT Barry waiting for about 10 minutes while checking and notifying cashier Norman Dewey, and Barry disappeared. Mrs. Brinkman and Dewey then notified the Federal Reserve Bank and Federal Bureau of Investigation offices in Chicago and warned other banks in the area to be on the watch.

Barry is described as a white male, 30 years old, 5 feet 4-5 inches tall, 140 pounds, average build, and with dark hair and dark complexion giving him an Italian appearance.

ANOTHER suspect is Jeanette Miller, white female, 30-35 years old, 125 pounds, platinum blond hair and very soft voice.

U.S. Secret Service agents said the bonds are in the E Series L575387001 and L57390000. About 2,000 of the bonds are still out and may be in many other names. (AF

Counterfeit Notes May Be Circulated

Area residents were cautioned to be on the alert for counterfeit federal reserve notes this week by Arlington Heights Police Chief L. W. Calderwood.

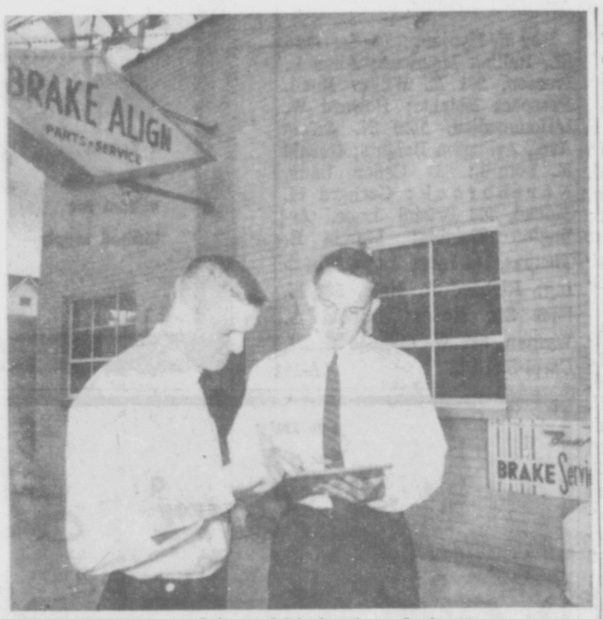
He warned that some $10 notes with the federal reserve seal "G" left of Alexander Hamilton's picture may be circulated. Notes in the $5 denomination were found in the area last year, he said.

Defects by which the counterfeit notes can be detected are inferior paper, with no red or blue fibers; poor workmanship on both face and back and possible brown stains on the surfaces; and a nearly solid green treasury seal, Calderwood said.

ALSO, THE SERIAL numbers are thinner than on the genuine notes and poorly reproduced; the suffix letter "E" or "A" is slightly smaller than the numerals. The serial number, located in the upper right and lower left hand corners, is G80526871E or G80526871A.

Notes are of the 1950 B series and also have the number P409 in the lower left hand corner.

Special Brake Service Opened by Heintz Sons



JEFF HEINTZ, 21, left, and his brother, Jack, 25, are managers of the new Brake Align firm at 201 W. Campbell. "Safety is our business," say the sons of John Heintz, owner of Arlington Body and Fender.

Two experienced auto mechnics who practically grew up in their dad's shop have opened a special brake service in Arlington Heights.

Jack Heintz, 25, and his brother, Jeff, 21, sons of John Heintz, owner of Arlington Body and Fender, recently started service at Brake Align, 201 W. Campbell.

Their specialities are brake service, wheel alignment, balancing and frame and steering service. They also have a wholesale department for brake and chassis parts and supplies.

JACK IS MANAGER of the brake alignment service; Jeff handles the parts division. They plan to hire a general manager in the near future.

"Both of us have been in the business most of our lives, helping Dad," Jack expalined. "We felt there is a definite need for specialized brake service, so we set this shop up as a separate concern from Dad's firm."

THE ELDER Heintz has operated his shop in Arlington for the past 16 years.

Both sons have college training in addition to their father's tutelage. Jack is a business and engineering graduate of Northwestern University. Jeff attended Carroll College in Wisconsin for a year and has also attended the Farris Institute of Technology at Detroit.

League to Sponsor 2 Events

The Luther League of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, corner of Euclid and Wolf Roads, Prospect Heights, is sponsoring two events in the very near future.

Saturday, July 28, from 9 a.m. to noon, a car wash will be held in the church parking lot.

Wednesday, Aug. 1, is the annual ice cream social, 6:30 to 9 p.m., also to be held at the church. Skip Maclennan, Mount Prospect, is in charge of the car wash.

THE COMMITTEE heads for the Ice Cream Social are as follows: Jerry West, Mount Prospect, Bob Meidell, Mount Prospect, Nancy Flanagan, Wheeling, and Sue Dorosh, Mount Prospect.

The public is invited to an evening of ice cream, cake, pie, and coffee, all for a nominal fee. (ACM

To High Schools

Residents Plead for Buses or Sidewalks

Arlington-Prospect High School Board members were told Monday that "after a tragic accident happens everyone will become more concerned with the safety of our children and action will be taken to provide bus transportation along busy roads."

The comment came from a member of the Elk Ridge Villa Home Owners Association who appeared before the school board to plead for bus transportation along Golf Road to the new Forest View High School, slated to open its doors in September.

The request of the group was a part of the mounting pressure on the school district to provide buses for students living within 1½ miles of the school, who are required to walk rather than ride school buses.

LACK OF sidewalks along both Golf and Algonquin Roads, the main routes to the new school, will force students to walk on busy roadways, parents and civic groups stress.

Previous pleas for bus transportation have come from the West Central Civic Association and Robert Palmer, school board member of Elk Grove District 59 who lives in the Forest View area.

The recent deaths of two women at the Golf-Busse intersection and "many other accidents" in that area were called to the attention of the school board by the Elk Ridge group.

JOHN HAAS, president of the high school board, pointed out that free bus transportation was provided all students living more than 1½ miles from District 214 schools.

This limit was set by the state, he explained, for reimbursement of transportation costs.

"The safety of children living within the 1½ mile area is not the real question," stressed Mrs. Eugenia Chapman, secretary of the school board. A special "pay bus" is provided by the school system for all students not eligible for free transportation, she said, pointing out that for a cost of $4 to $5 per month these students can ride to school. This made the main issue one of cost, not safety, she said.

JOSEPH STECKER, president of the home owners group, urged the school district to construct sidewalks from the school site on Goebbert Road to Golf and Algonquin Roads, continuing the sidewalks along these two roads to beyond the 1½ mile limit.

He pointed to the Westbrook Elementary school in Mount Prospect where the school board had built a sidewalk along Busse Road.

School boards were given authority to construct sidewalks within ½ mile of their plants in the last legislature, board members told Stecker. This would not extend the sidewalk along Golf Road.

SUCH SIDEWALKS must be financed through regular school funds, and money for this proposed project was not available, school officials indicated.

Parents, pointing to the dangerous situation along Golf and Algonquin Roads, were told that many students living within 1½ miles of Prospect High were forced to walk along Rand, Elmhurst and Foundry Roads unless they used the "pay bus."

Board members emphasized that free buses to protect students walking along Golf Road would necessitate similar free service for Prospect High students, and would mean still further free service for some students at the new Wheeling High School slated to open in two years. School finances would not permit such expenditures, board members said.

To Advise Police

Recommend Local Obscenity Boards

STARLIGHT, PA., (UPI)—The B'nai B'rith Young Adults Convention recommended last week the establishment of local community boards to advise police officials on matters involving obscenity.

The resolution suggested that police officials and district attorneys consult first with "a broad-based panel representing all community interests in an effort to arrive at a consensus as to whether material is obscene" before invoking any anti-obscenity laws.

THE DELEGATES to the 17th annual convention stressed abhorrence of obscenity and said the organization was strongly opposed to the "sale and exhibition of obscene material."

But the convention expressed opposition to what it called "alarmingly increasing crackdowns by police departments against literature, movies and other forms of communication whose themes may be regarded as obscene or immoral."

The convention contended that some student groups' pursuit or knowledge was at times "threatened by arbitrary bookbanning by well-meaning, self-appointed moral zealots."

IT RECOMMENDED the community boards include religious lay leaders, members of the clergy, jurists, lawyers, civic and business leaders, parent teacher association representatives and the student groups.

Editor Suggests Alternatives to DDT

Can Man Live Without It?

(This is the final in a series of six articles investigating the use of pesticides and the operation and validity of the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District.)

by TOM EDWARDS

How did man get along before the advent of DDT and other such pesticides used to destroy insects, weeds and other forms of life he has labeled as "pests"?

Obviously, he did survive previous to the wholesale introduction in 1945 of today's pesticides, mainly derived from the chlorinated hydrocarbons and organic phosphates, such as DDT, lindane, parathion and marathion.

Man continuously tries to improve his well being. But everything he comes up with cannot be eulogized as "progress" — yet everything new seems to be identified as progress.

There have been all too many blunders in the application of chemicals. But it seems to take results as tragic and tremendous in scope as last week's revelation that what was thought of as a "safe" sedative caused about 6,000 freak babies in Germany.

STILL, IF THE evidence had not been as glaring — that is, babies born with three arms or no arms — it might have taken years to discover, many more years to convince "authorities," and millions might have been harmed.

T cite one of many examples, the artificial sweetening substance, dulcin, was used for 50 years before a doctor — one medical man — finally discovered it was a cause of cancer.

The insidious ills that seem to be enveloping man are much harder to pinpoint and recognize than babies born without arms. It has been noted in previous articles that hepatitis has increased about 200 per cent in the midwest since 1956. Continuing to increase are cancer, heart ailments, mental disorders.

The wholesale use of pesticides has been linked to these disorders. As a result, the Village of Buffalo Grove has requested mosquito abatement authorities to cease spraying in that community — and instead use the time and money saved to eliminate mosquito breeding places.

What are alternatives to spraying?

(1) THERE HAS been some successful research in Florida on sterilizing male insects and releasing them. The eggs from the females they mate with will be infertile.

(2) In many species of insects, the males find the females via scent, a perfume exuded by the female that will attract males from miles (a well known device of women). If these odors could be isolated and produced by man, he might possibly be able to lure every male insect from many miles into death traps.

(3) Natural biological enemies of insects are a built in, permanent means of control. "Without (these natural predators) mankind long since would have been wiped out by hordes of pests," a release of the National Agricultural Chemicals Association stated.

Yet the very chemicals this association usually has advocated are as toxic to the natural predators as to the pests.

THE JAPANESE beetle has several natural enemies. One is another insect and another is a virus disease which attacks the beetle in its larvae state. Although this disease (from Japan, also) has been very effective here on an experimental basis, nevertheless people and governmental agencies still turn to insecticides.

Birds, of course, are a well known enemy of insects. But it has been estimated by one authority that hundreds of millions have been killed by poison pesticides being blanketly applied in midwest communities.

Besides, civilization has destroyed many of their nesting sites. In the name of neatnes, and hay fever, we slash, cut and burn vegetation from roadsides, fields, utility easements, forests, parks . . .

(4) Plants highly resistant to insects and disease can be bred. Yet there appears to be little research in this field at present — although there used to be in pre-war years. Now most pest control research appears to have been shifted to chemicals.

WESTERN WHEAT fields were once plagued with a rust disease. But Agricultural scientists developed a rust resistant variety in short order. Today the antidote would probably be an all out poison spray program.

(5) One very basic approach to agricultural pest control is to maintain and increase the richness of topsoil. Healthy plants, like healthy people, are much less susceptible to disease.

Yet crop rotation and sowing of cover crops is again being abandoned. Farmers have found corn can be grown in the same field year after year by pumping in chemical fertilizers.

And to fight the corn borers, which are harbored in the soil over winter (another reason for crop rotation), seeds may be coated with a poison, the soil impregnated with another, and finally the corn plants themselves sprayed.

(6) ONE MORE alternative to the highly toxic pesticides being used today is to return to the "natural" and the old, pre-war poison preparations. DDT and many other chemicals in use today are very stable, remaining toxic in the soil for up to 20 years in the case of DDT, is is reported.

Also, they penetrate into the plants — and even through human skin quite easily — and therefore cannot be washed off — or even rendered harmless through cooking.

The old pesticides were made from plants or naturally occurring poisons such as arsenic. Humans have developed some resistance to them, evidently, over the millions of years of their evolution. In addition, they are not penetrative and can easily be washed off the body or vegetables. But apparently research on this kind of pesticide has been shunted aside.

Despite statements to the contrary, the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District apparently spends the bulk of its funds for spraying and on trucks to do so.

YET THE BEST means of controlling mosquitoes is drainage, ponding and fluctuating water levels, according to every authoritative account available. The second best means is larviciding — treating the breeding spots directly. All spraying does is to reduce the peak populations of mosquitoes.

The abatement district has never done any ponding, and its drainage program is insignificant next to its spraying and larviciding operations. Officials say drainage and ponding requires expensive equipment besides having to get the permission of municipalities to do such work. For spraying, the district doesn't have to ask anyone's permission, according to its attorney.

But couldn't the district contract on a bid basis for drainage and ponding work?

Last week Samuel Andelman, Chicago commissioner of health, warned in a newspaper account that children should be kept out of the way of mosquito and Dutch elm disease spraying. Further, they should be kept out of the area of these spraying operations during and immediately after them, he said.

THIS IS practically impossible in mosquito abatement operations. For its program is not to spray trees or uninhabited areas; it is to spray the air in inhabited areas — to float in the atmosphere as long as possible its DDT preparations to strike down mosquitoes flying around. It is called "fogging."

Although it claims the amount of DDT used is safe, it evidently is not taken into account the much greater chance there is of exposure to DDT from a fog that rolls into open windows compared to other spraying operations.

The same week that Andelman warned of mosquito fogging, Paul Levin of the DuPage County Health Department, in effect, released a statement that there is nothing to worry about from such fogging operations.

The press release on Levin's statements stated that "... many instances of disease outbreaks in temperate zones of the United States ... were directly traced to mosquitoes." He referred to one outbreak of encephalitis in New Jersey.

ASKED BY Paddock Publications later if he knew of any other examples of disease outbreaks, he did not know of a single one, although the word "many" had been used in the press release.

He criticized the reporter for citing various studies by "individuals" on DDT. He said his authorities were official "agencies." His "agencies" turned out to be one state health official, a "Mr. Dominic" who is an insect specialist.

Dr. John B. Hall, director of the Cook County Health Department, said he didn't "remember of one" case of encephalitis, malaria, or yellow fever indigenous to the Chicago area since 1945 when he began with the department. "The incidence is zero" in the county, he said.

But his department and several other public agencies contacted in the Chicago area have done "zero" research on the effect of DDT and other pesticides on humans, according to their statements, and there is evidence enforcement of some regulations concerning pesticides in foods is wanting.

SUPERINTENDENT of the Conservation Department of the Cook County Forest Preserve District, Roland Eisenbeis, said blanket spraying of the preserves was stopped in 1949 because of destruction to wildlife.

A biological mosquito control program is carried out, and occasionally a particular area may be sprayed. DDT is "powerful stuff," Eisenbeis said.

For two years, he continued, the preserve checked areas considered "hot spots" for mosquitoes in the South Cook County Abatement District. The findings were that the forest preserves are not heavy producers of mosquitoes.

Eisenbeis also said clear water is not a primary source of mosquitoes, that they prefer to breed in polluted water. This suggests another means of controlling mosquitoes, and indeed, disease — that is, more anti-pollution measures. (A-14

Hot Summer Means Sneezin' Season

There are more than eight million persons in the United States to whom the hot weather poses a problem of great suffering. These are the victims of hay fever and asthma who face the misery of sneezing and wheezing.

What are the causes of hay fever and asthma? The most important cause in Illinois is allergy to ragweed pollen. Every year beginning in August and ending in September or October an estimated quarter of a million tons of ragweed pollen is released into the air.

Each pollen grain, too small to be seen by the naked eye, may be carried by the wind for as much as a few hundred miles. When these minute particles come in contact with the nose, eyes or lungs of a susceptible person, a reaction sets in. The eyes may water and itch; there is a tickle in the throat and breathing is difficult. It's sneezin' season!

There are other causes of seasonal hay fever and asthma. During the spring the pollen from trees will cause trouble for some persons. A little later grasses pollinate, causing other persons to suffer. This is called rose-fever but is due to grass pollen, not roses.

Some persons are allergic to molds, which are also a source of seasonal allergy. Molds, such as the type seen growing on bread, oranges or preserves, or cheese, have seeds called spores, many of which are smaller than pollen grains and travel long distances in the air. Persons sensitive to these spores suffer in a similar manner to persons susceptible to the pollens.

TO OBTAIN satisfactory relief of the symptoms of hay fever and asthma, the exact cause or causes must be determined. This requires a complete review of the patient's history by the physician and a series of tests to detect the culprit causing the reaction.

Skin tests are usually done, and these are performed in various ways. For example, a number of small scratches may be placed on the arm or back. To these scratches are applied the various substances to be tested.

A watery solution of the substances to be tested may also be placed just underneath the skin by an injection. When the test is positive, the area tested becomes red and swollen.

Other ways of testing include placing the pollen or grain or mold spores in the eye or nose to see if they actually cause the symptoms complained of.

WHILE IT IS not always possible, economically, to travel to a cold area or one with a high altitude, neither is it practical. Trees, grasses and mold grow all over the world, but, in general, areas with little vegetation, such as high altitudes, have appreciably less of the offending substances in the air. But air conditioning may be effective, provided the pollen is actually filtered out.

Thus, when it is impractical to avoid the irritating sources, the best objective is to build up the body's defenses against them. Good results have been obtained in many susceptible persons by injections of an immunizing agent, which is an extract of the offending substance.

As the dosage is gradually increased, the body's tolerance increases also. While most persons respond, the relief is not always complete. The person suffering from seasonal hay fever or asthma may also require seasonal treatment by his physician.

International Experiment

Long Grove Families to Open Homes to Iranian Visitors

A hypothesis on international relations will be subjected to experiment in Long Grove during the coming month as residents host seven guests from Iran.

Following the theory that people of other countries learn best about the United States when they live and work among the people they visit, Long Grove families will open their homes to the Iranians from July 31 through Sept. 3.

They are participating in Experiment in International Living, founded in 1932 to foster international goodwill, respect and understanding on an informal, personal basis.

More than 1,500 persons are now sent abroad each year through the program, and a like number are brought to the United States.

This is the first time any Iranians have come in a special interest group - all are elementary and high school teachers - and the first time a community in this area has served as host.

"It's going to be a marvelous experience for all of us!" exclaims Mrs. Glenn Miller, Long Grove chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller organized the vists as a community project after hearing about the Experiment through previous contacts. Though first word came through the United Church of Christ in Long Grove, the program is definitely sponsored by the whole community, Mrs. Miller explains.

THE MILLERS base their enthusiasm on past experience- they have had many foreign guests in their home, and, "It's been most rewarding for us," she says. Weekend guests from the International House in Chicago and the Great Lakes Naval Station have often made later extended stays in their home.

One of the Millers' guests will be their counterpart chairman, Mohammed Ali Naghibzadeh, 40, director general of Iran's Ministry of Education and head of the visiting delegation. Working with him they hope to develop a fruitful, educational exchange for both the host community and its guests.

Ali Rahami, 31, will also stay with them for the last half of the month, after visiting the Burt Schell family.

Other visitors and their hosts:

Miss Satemah Lashkary Amoozegar, 42, and Miss Puran Vardi, 32, will split their visit between the Charles Wachs and the Malcom Shroyer families; Miss Talehheik Mohajer, 24, Arthur Edmunds family; Miss Farah Behnam, 28, Grover Jungbluth family; Mohammad Ali Abidi, 40, Gale Livengood family.

"People are extremely interested in their visit," Mrs. Miller says. "I've received many, many calls - everyone wants to know what we'll be doing. One way we'll try to introduce them, first of all, will be at an afternoon picnic in their honor, for the whole community."

OTHER ACTIVITIES on the agenda, not yet definitely laid out, include a day at Ravinia Park, visits to museums and other points of interest, and YMCA-sponsored events.

"We're sorry they can't come when school is in session, since they're all teachers, but we'll try to show them at least how things are organized by visiting summer sessions," she explains.

"Many of the civic groups they might be interested in don't meet during the summer either, but they should get to meet interested people on other occasions during their visit."

All activities will be based on informal family relationships which "will help us all to know each other better."

Living expenses for their guests will be picked up by the host families, who furnish room and board and incidentals as part of the program. Other costs are provided partially by the Iranians, partially through Experiment headquarters.

THE IRANIANS have been in the United States since July 14, when they arrived in New York for an orientation period. They are now at the University of Pennsylvania, where they will stay until they arrive in Chicago July 31.

But their major impressions of American life will come during their stay at the suburban community, where residents are determined to make the most of their opportunity to expand their horizons of international understanding. (B-3

Smorgasbord Is Planned by Club

The Northwest Shrine Club will sponsor a smorgasbord dinner and a night of sports at Sportsmans Park Friday, July 27. The club is comprised of about 700 members of Medinah Temple who reside on Chicago's northwest side and in northwest suburban communities. Anyone interested in attending the affair should contact Harold R. Paul, 5840 N. Oriole Ave., Chicago, who is handling the arrangements. (B8

Commuters Face Hike In Fares

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) — The Illinois Commerce Commission has authorized the Chicago and North Western Railway to increase its commuter fares beginning Aug. 1.

The ICC approved the North Western's petition for a 10 per cent boost in monthly commutation tickets and one-way fares.

Rates on other types of tickets, including semi-monthly tickets, would be governed by a formula which also will have effect of raising their cost by about 10 per cent, an ICC spokesman said. (B8

Adult Group Tells Planned Activities

Square dancing, musical programs and trips to Ravinia highlight the activities of the Northwest Suburban Adult Group.

Sanctioned by the YMCA and the Ministerial Association of Park Ridge, the NSAG provides opportunities for single adults to broaden their interests and activities and widen their circle of friendships.

Membership is open to all widowers, widows, divorced and single persons over 30 years of age.

OVER 100 members participate in the varied schedule of activities planned by the group. Weekly meetings offer dancing and card playing combined with refreshments or a special program.

Past programs have featured the Madrigal Singers of Simpson College, a musicale consisting of selections from "Showboat," travel movies and a trip to the Ice Follies.

An "Interest Groups" committee organizes smaller hobby and sport groups for those who enjoy bowling, bridge, and social dancing.

ACCORDING TO to Mrs. Esther Culton, president, the organization is considering a trip to the Spinning Wheel Restaurant in Hinsdale, barbecues, and summer theatre fare for the coming months. Picnics and the always popular square dancing will continue throughout the summer.

Meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 8:00 in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 306 S. Prospect, Park Ridge. (B-8

Ivy Hill Development Opens in Arlington

Model homes of a proposed 500-unit development in Arlington Heights were opened this week on Palatine Road near Rand Road.

The subdivision, Ivy Hill, is located on a 150-acre plot and will contain park and school sites as well as recreational facilities, and will be close to churches, shopping and commuter transportation. Developer is Meister-Neiberg Co., Inc.

The homes are in the $23,500 to $30,000 range, and the six models feature ranch, bi-level or colonial styling. Construction is of face brick and frame with liberal use of glass, ceramic tile and other quality building materials.

LOTS ARE fully improved and have a minimum size of 70 by 125 feet. Included are asphalt paved driveways, separate storm and sanitary sewers, sidewalks and curved streets.

"We've tried to work into our models the better type of construction and the most desirable features that most buyers now are looking for," said Al Kaplan, sales manager of the building firm.

"All our homes will have oak doors and trim, oak floors, slate entranceways, ceramic tile baths and kitchens, colored cast-iron fixtures, wool carpeting in living and dining areas, and sliding glass patio doors."

IN ADDITION, kitchens are equipped with wood cabinets, built-in oven and range, garbage disposer, and exhaust hoods and fans.

All homes are heated with gas forced air systems and have glass-lined water heaters as standard equipment. Optional installations include whole-house air conditioning and the Honeywell electronic air cleaner which removed up to 95 per cent of all dirt, smoke, and pollen from household air.

Models contain three and four bedrooms and from one to three baths. Custom adaptations of each style of home are available to suit the buyer's preference.

"WE'VE incorporated into these homes the design elements we've learned buyers want from our experience with previous developments," Kaplan said. The company is developer of Niles Gardens, a subdivision in Niles; the Glenayre unit in Glenview; and Lakeview Towers, a development in Des Plaines.

To reach Ivy Hill, take Rand Road to Palatine Road and turn east. The models are one block east of Rand on the north side of the street. (B-9

At Old Orchard Club

GOP Women Ready For Spring Meet

Special invitations were issued this week to some of the 13th District's Republican candidates to join the members of the Women's Republican Club of the 13th Congressional District for luncheon Tuesday, July 31, at the Old Orchard Country Club in Prospect Heights.

Hayes Robertson, chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Cook County will be principal speaker on the subject "97 Days to Work — To Win November 6th."

HAYES ROBERTSON

At the speakers table will be William N. Erickson, Evanston Township committeeman and recently elected chairman of the Township Committeeman's Organization of the 13th District, himself a candidate for election to president of the Board of Cook County Commissioners; Donald Rumsfeld of Glenview, congressional candidate; Elroy Sandquist Jr. of Chicago, candidate for county judge; and Richard Ogilvie of Northfield, candidate for county sheriff.

IT HAS BECOME policy of the club to hold meetings in as many townships in the district as have large enough facilities to accomodate the almost 2,000 members, in order to better acquaint residents of each township with club activities. Wheeling Township was in line for a meeting.

Thomas J. Hauser of Arlington Heights, newly-elected GOP township committeeman, and Mrs. Alan H. Macdonald of Arlington Heights, recently appointed township committeewoman, will both be recognized at the head table and will welcome the women of the 10 townships and the 50th Chicago Ward.

Among the many faces of newly-elected or appointed party leaders attending will be Mrs. Helen Cheney of Wilmette, chairman, women's division, Republican Central Committee of Cook County, and Mrs. Austin Wyman Jr. of Northbrook, appointed by Ralph Church, of Evanston, state central committeeman, to succeed Mrs. Bert K. Murphy, of Evanston as 13th District State central committeewoman.

MRS. MURPHY will preside at the business meeting called for 11, when main business will be to approve revised bylaws, the revision made necessary by reapportionment of the district which removed Maine and Leyden Townships and Lake County.

On-the-Job Training!

ST. LOUIS, (UPI)—When Edward Neu went to pick up his station wagon after having the transmission overhauled last Saturday, he got a surprise.

Neu got into the car and threw it into reverse. The car leaped forward and Neu hit the brakes just in time to avoid a collision.

An examination showed a mechanic, in re-assembling the transmission, had reversed a pinion gear and left the car with four speeds in reverse and one speed forward. (A14

Director of Special Education Appointed

Appointment of Miss Helen Appeldoorn as director of the Northwest Suburban Special Education District was announced this week by Kenneth F. Gill, chairman of the executive committee of the district. Miss Appeldoorn will begin her duties Sept. 1.

The new special education district includes more than 26,000 elementary students and 9,000 high-school students in 10 school districts.

Joint special education programs cover students who are blind, deaf, hard of hearing, multiply handicapped and mentally handicapped.

MEMBER SCHOOL districts are Arlington-Prospect High School District 214, Palatine-Schaumburg High School District 211, Palatine-Rolling Meadows District 15, Arlington Heights District 25, Mount Prospect District 57, Elk Grove District 59, Schaumburg District 54, Wheeling-Buffalo Grove District 21, Prospect Heights District 23 and Feehanville District 26.

Miss Appeldoorn now is acting as director of the South Suburban Schools Cooperative Association of Cook County. For 10 years she was director of special education for Springfield Public Schools, Springfield.

Other past experience has included the position of research assistant at the Institute for Research on Exceptional Children at University of Illinois, teacher and psychologist in Kalamazoo, Mich., and assistant professor at Ohio State University and consultant to the public schools in the area of the mentally retarded and for psychological services.

GILL, SCHOOL superintendent of Wheeling-Buffalo Grove District 21, highly praised the qualifications of the new director. He stressed her past experience which includes work with physically handicapped, mentally retarded, gifted and socially maladjusted children.

He further noted she had worked with programs for home and hospital instruction, impaired hearing, partial-seeing, speech correction, psychological services and multiply handicapped.

Miss Appeldoorn holds an A.B. degree from Kalamazoo College and a M.A. degree from Teachers' College, Columbia University. She has done graduate work at Wayne State University, Detroit; Ohio State University, Columbia University and University of Illinois.

TO COMPLETE her training as a psychologist she served a five-summer internship at Wayne County Training School, Northville, Mich.

Among the new special education projects proposed for the district will be programs for partially-sighted, physically handicapped and gifted children.

Under the agreement, each school district sends students with special education problems to the school which has developed a program to fit that handicap. As much as possible each district holds at least one type of special education program.

Teachers of special education classes will continue to be responsible to the individual district. Miss Appeldoorn is expected to aid in hiring new special education teachers, Gill said.

MAJOR WORK of the new director will be the coordination of all special education programs, assistance in the development of curriculum, aid in the handling of problems in the special education field, planning of new facilities and the supervision of the complicated transportation system needed to transport children to schools in the 144-square-mile area.

The new Northwest Suburban Special Education District was formed by the 10 school districts of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine and Schaumburg Townships last spring. The schools withdrew from the older special education district which included Des Plaines and Park Ridge elementary and high schools.

Reason for the establishment of the new district, Gill explained, was the feeling of the 10 districts that present special education programs needed expansion and the desire of the Maine Township schools to maintain present programs only. (B8

Rule Dunne May Hold Dual Post

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) — Atty. Gen. William Clark said that State Rep. George Dunne, House Democratic majority leader, can continue in his post during the special session of the legislature in mid-November.

The question had been raised whether Dunne could continue to serve since he recently was elected a member of the Cook County Board to fill a vacancy created by the death of John J. Duffy.

Clark said the Illinois Supreme Court has held that courts are without authority to pass on house membership and said the lower chamber itself "is the sole judge of whether any member can sit in the house." The special session is to deal with a pending public aid deficit. (B8 permits for homes 1-24 italic.....

(UPI) — Single-family home permits issued in the Chicago area in June rose two per cent from a year ago after a steady decline during the previous six months, a private survey indicates.

Permits for apartment buildings jumped to a record 4,167 units from 1,698 for June, 1961, Bell Savings and Loan Association reported in its monthly homebuilding survey.

The increase was in marked contrast to an 11 per cent nationwide drop in housing starts from a month earlier and the first decline since February.

SINGLE FAMILY permits in the six-county area totaled 2,522 units compared with 2,470 in June, 1961. It was the first gain over the previous year since last November. Suburban permits rose 10 per cent and unincorporated areas six per cent, but the city of Chicago fell 33 per cent.

The record apartment volume was due primarily to permits issued for a four-apartment building project on Chicago's near north side. Chicago's permits jumped almost four times from last year, while suburban permits rose 20 per cent.

Permits for all types of construction had a total value of $139,867,757, up 22 per cent from $115,018,935 in June of last year.

New Jobless Pay Base Year Begins

A new base year for unemployment insurance claims will begin on August 1, Samuel C. Bernstein, Commissioner of the Division of Unemployment Compensation, announced this week.

Wages earned in the first quarter of 1961 will no longer be considered as part of the wages determining the amounts of unemployment benefits for which unemployed Illinois workers may qualify. Instead, the first quarter of 1962 will be added to the base year, which will be April 1, 1961 through March 31, 1962, for all claims filed during August, September, and October of this year.

"CLAIMANTS who do not have a current benefit year may be eligible for benefits after August 1," Bernstein elaborated. "On the other hand, it is possible that a person now eligible, if he delays filing until after July 31, will find he is no longer eligible."

"Under Illinois law," the Commissioner also explained, "the benefit year, in which benefits are paid, is the twelve-month period beginning on the day the first claim is filed. Claims filed later in that period are additional or continued claims, and do not affect the base period established by the first claim."

Bernstein emphasized that claimants or employers should not rely on advice or information from unofficial sources. They will find the Division of Unemployment Compensation staff, through its 50 offices throughout the state, ready to give correct answers to their questions. (A14

An American Tragedy

By Robert L. Balfour

We enjoy the highest standard of living and are the world's best fed, but because our sedentary push-button way of life is robbing us of exercise, an ingredient as necessary to good health as eating or sleeping, we are among the poorest in physical fitness. We have billions in life insurance to care for our loved ones after we are gone, but do little to care for ourselves while we are still here.

We lack the will-power for daily calisthenics and seldom get adequate physical exercise except on week-ends, when we tend to overdo, because we are too busy trying to make a living. We tolerate flabby blood vessels, flabby muscles, suffer from overweight, hardening of the arteries, fatigue, emotional instability, sleeplessness, coronary thrombosis, high blood pressure and spend millions on sleeping pills, pep-up pills, vitamins, dietary aids and tranquilizers. Your heart, blood vessels and muscles demand daily exercise to function properly. Your lungs need exercise if they are to exhaust carbon dioxide that can tire you. Stocks, bonds and bank accounts are worth little to a person who doesn't have health and physical fitness. We vegetate all day, use mechanical step-savers and spend our evenings sitting in front of a TV set.

The real tragedy is that it just doesn't have to happen. Sensible exercise crutches can supply EASY effortless exercise equivalents for those too busy to get daily exercise for themselves.

A Lincolnwood ROWCYCLE can provide daily exercise the FUN way in your home, office or factory. A ROWCYCLE can help get your body into shape, zip up blood circulation, build up energy reserves and make you look and feel better.

News media and authorities are constantly broadcasting the warning "Start Immediately on a Daily Program of Exercise for Yourself and Family." We stand ready to help those who are unable to help themselves. Exercise now or pay later.

A ROWCYCLE has working motorized parts enclosed for safety and beauty. It is engineered to take care of itself with no maintenance, lubrication or bolting down required, is quiet and fully guaranteed. Over 51 different speeds are possible through a patented variable speed control. Many enjoy riding their ROWCYCLES while watching TV. Sensible budget prices with convenient time payments. Spotnails: A Business That Filled A Dream

by JIM CARNS

Business success, built from the germ of an idea, has always been an important part of the American dream. The dynamic company — the growing industry — is now joining another part of that American dream, suburbia.

Spotnails, Inc., 1100 Hicks Road, Rolling Meadows, is an example of modern Americana in both of these respects.

The new Spotnails factory, two acres on 16 acres of ground, was occupied in 1961, perpetuating a 20-year trend of fantastic growth.

The firm was founded in 1941 in Chicago by Charles Crooks, still president. He had been with an industrial staple company, selling staples for tacking mesh in ordinary house screens.

Customers wanted a nailing machine to fasten the molding on these screens after the mesh was tacked. The trade said it was impossible to put nails together for magazine loading of machines, but the fledgling Spotnail company did it, and devised a machine to drive the nails.

CROOKS EXPLAINS in part the expansion which followed this small Chicago beginning in one statement: "Our civilization is put together with nails. The possibilities of a nailing machine are infinite."

In 1953 Spotnails Inc. occupied a new factory in Evanston after outgrowing its Chicago facilities. In 1960, after six additions, the company ran out of space in Evanston.

When construction got under way at the Rolling Meadows site, Crooks had a large sign erected to face Hicks Road. It read, "Pleasant working conditions for pleasant people."

THE MASSIVE single-level building in Rolling Meadows houses the administration and engineering staffs, and facilities for manufacture of tools and fasteners.

Two other Spotnail plants in the United States, on the East and West Coasts, manufacture only fasteners. In addition to the three United States plants, Spotnails embraces a variety of foreign operations.

The first addition to the Rolling Meadows plant is being planned now, according to Crooks, and will be undertaken "within a very short time." The building in existence was planned so that a duplication of the production segment can be built with easy access to present shipping facilities.

SPOTNAILS now produces over 700 types of fasteners in magazine form for more than 60 different guns, both pneumatic and mallet driven.

Types of fasteners range from 2½-inch, eight-penny nails to quarter-inch industrial pins. Many types only recently thought impossible or impractical in machine driving form have now become both practical and popular.

Spotnails' long list of firsts in 20 years of expansion includes: the first portable nailer to drive fasteners over half an inch long, 1941; the first and only patented divergent chisel staple, 1953; the first pneumatic nailer with air return, the first portable nailer for eight-penny nails, 1962; the first true brad for magazine loading, 1962.

THE COMPANY was also first with nylon coated fasteners in 1961. The coating more than doubles holding power of the fasteners.

The Rolling Meadows plant now has over 300 employes, with expansion planned for the future. Of these, the majority live nearby, according to Crooks, and the percentage of local workers is increasing.

The move from Evanston was made without the slightest inconvenience, and the "pleasant working conditions for pleasant people" sign has become a fact, Crooks said.

MOST SHIPPING from the plant is now done by truck, but necessary easements for a North Western switch track have been made in case of future need, according to Crooks.

Spotnailing and similar operations with competitors' products have become common in many fields, such as wood working, furniture manufacturing, industrial packaging, sash-making, floor underlayment and shingling; and the opportunities for the future are practically unlimited, according to Crooks.

"As more fasteners, such as the eight-penny nail, are developed," Crooks said, possibilities for the automatic nailing machine will multiply." He also pointed out many specialty operations in which Spotnailers are used.

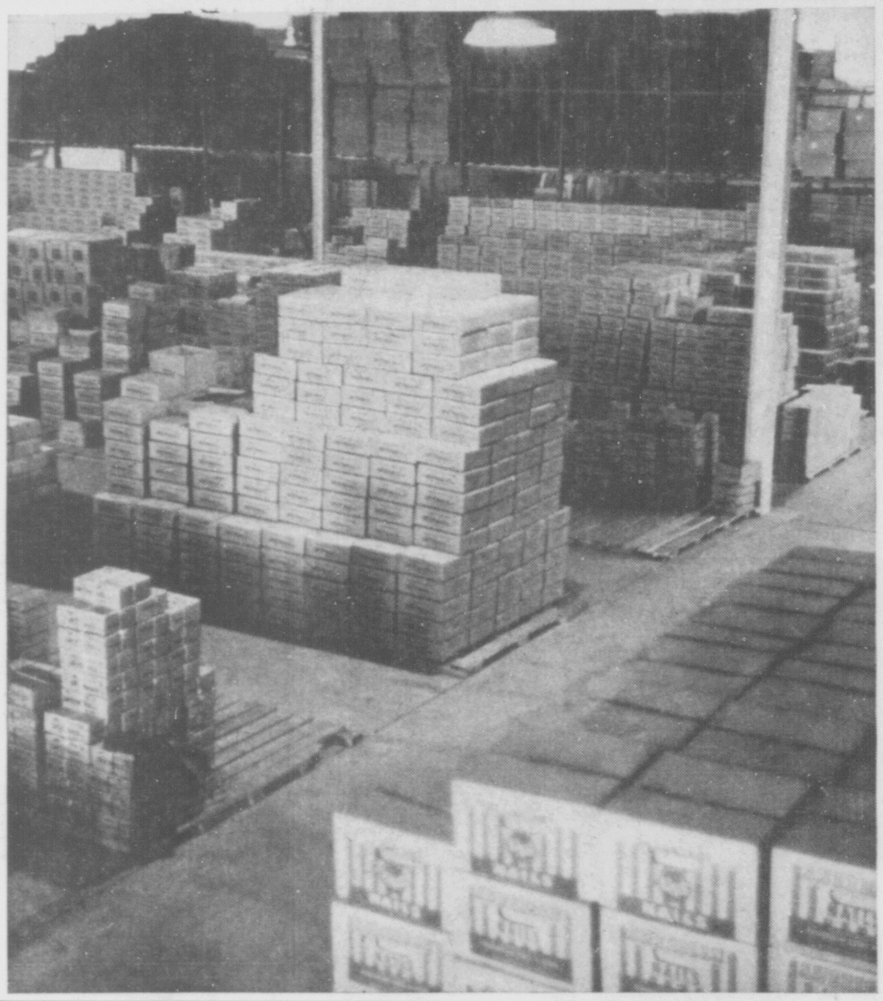
THE AUTOMATIC machines are being used for fence repair in Australia, the manufacture of cockroach traps in South Africa and walling on grass huts in Fiji; and according to Crooks these are only a few of the machines' odd uses.

On a small table in Crooks' office he displays the ultimate goal of Spotnail Inc., suggested and welded by Harold Kerr of Studio Forge, Rand and Dundee Roads. The display is six railroad spikes, welded in magazine form and ready as a challenge for the engineering department.

"We never thought we'd have an eight-penny nail, but we do," says Crooks. "We sincerely hope we won't outgrow this 16-acre (Rolling Meadows) plot too soon." (B-8

Base Permission

Though Hawaii was not annexed to the United States as a territory until 1900, this country obtained permission to established the fortified naval base of Pearl Harbor there in 1887.



ROWS OF NAILING MACHINES are turned out in one section of the Spotnails, Inc. plant in Rolling Meadows. The machines, which work on the principle of a common office stapling gun, may be operated either by pneumatic pressure or mallet drive, depending on the model. Above, tons of specialty nails in magazine form for use in Spotnail guns await shipment. Others are shipped while still hot from machines in another section of the plant.

Night Without End for Bruce

HERRIN, ILL., (UPI)—Bruce K. Durham of Marion had a bad night.

Durham said he was visiting a tavern near here last Thursday night when two other customers jumped him and beat him up. Then on his way home he was given a ticket by state police for driving on the wrong side of the road.

The policemen also informed Durham his back seat was on fire. (A-14

Committee Report

Citizens' Leadership Urged To Form Area Junior College

Superintendents of five local high school districts agreed at a meeting this week that spearheading the organization of a proposed junior-college district by the high schools might "backfire" and create new problems in continuing expansion of high school facilities.

They pointed to the recent defeat of the junior-college referendum in south suburban Cook County and noted a similar overwhelming defeat in the northwest suburban area could mean even further defeats for high school referendums.

The superintendents, who form the steering committee for the junior-college survey, expressed their continued support for a junior college district, but emphasized leadership in such development should come from residents and not from the high schools.

Final recommendation of the survey was that the three North Shore school districts—Evanston, New Trier and Highland Park—be dropped from the initial organization effort since residents in those areas seemed unready to accept a junior college district.

IT ALSO was recommended that the Ridgewood High School District be dropped as students in that area had ready access to Chicago junior colleges, according to information supplied by that district.

This left a "core" area of Niles, Maine, Glenbrook, Arlington-Prospect and Palatine-Schaumburg high school districts.

The official junior-college district survey report has been accepted by the school boards of the five districts. The complete survey, covering 88 pages, has been distributed to the nine original school districts and is available for study at the administration offices. A seven-page digest of the survey has been developed, and the steering committee agreed to develop an even shorter digest for general distribution in their school districts.

The 90-member lay committee, aided by a university consultant staff of six, worked from August, 1961, to last April in preparing the survey. The actual survey was divided into four major studies—population, curriculum, buildings and sites, and finance.

THE SURVEY pointed out that population in the proposed junior college district area was destined to grow in the next 10 years at a rate three times as great as the country at large. This growth, coupled with the high percentage of high school graduates who go to college, means that about 7,000 students in the survey area will be attempting to enter college each year.

For a junior college, excluding the students who will go to established colleges, this could well mean a minimum initial enrollment of 4,950 students in 1964, a maximum of 7,356 or a "best estimate" of 6,153. By 1970 this would swell to about 10,500 students the survey noted.

The lay - committee recommended that a high quality regular academic "transfer" program be offered in the junior college for the majority of students who would transfer to a regular four-year college at the end of their first two years. In addition, the survey recommended a two-year sub-professional or technical curriculum be developed as well as a continuing education program for adults and youth.

THE COMMITTEE further recommended that multiple sites for the proposed junior college be considered. It was pointed out most educators recommended a maximum size of 5,000 students for junior colleges, and with a potential initial enrollment of more than 6,000, multiple sites would be required.

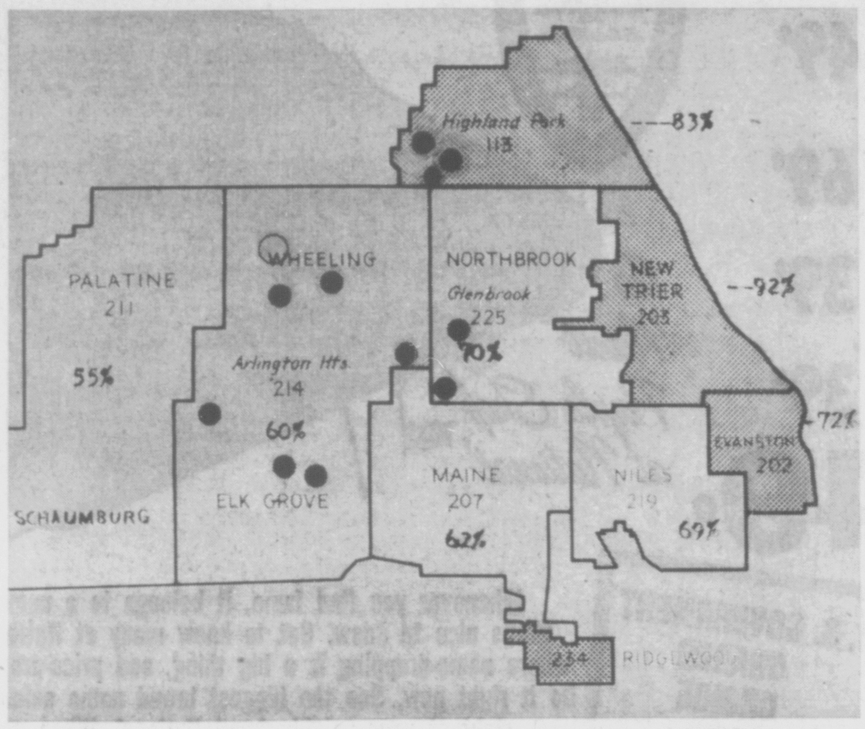
The majority of possible site areas were in the Arlington-Prospect High School District, with a few other sites located in the Glenbrook High School District near Wheeling.

The survey estimated initial construction costs for junior college facilities to house 6,000-plus students would be $22 million.

With an estimated operating cost of $1,100 per year per student, minus a proposed annual tuition of $150 and state support of $200 per year, the survey committee estimated a tax rate of $.23 per $100 would be required in the junior-college district. This would include all costs including bonds for construction and operation of a comprehensive program.

THE SURVEY committee emphasized its feeling that on this basis a junior college district was "necessary and feasible." The committee issued its recommendations with "nothing less than a deep sense of urgency for immediate attention."

As a result of the junior college study, certain sections of the state legislation covering organization of such districts were found to be "vague" and correction needed. The steering committee authorized school officials of Glenbrook High School to request corrective legislation in the 1963 Illinois Legislature to amend the law. (B8



PROPOSED SITES for construction of a North Suburban Junior College (black dots) center in the Arlington-Prospect High School District. The four high school districts to be dropped from the projected district are shaded. The percentage of graduates going on to college in each high school district also is shown on the map. This week superintendents of the five remaining districts recommended establishment of the proposed junior college district be turned over to interested parents.

School Board Decides

Boundary Change to Receive More Study

A boundary change contested by a group of Arlington Heights parents will be given further study by Elementary School District 25 Board of Education.

The segment bounded by Oakton, Ridge, Olive and Chestnut was transferred from the Olive School district to the Ridge School district last month at the request of one group of parents.

They had cited "unsafe" areas lacking sidewalks and paved streets in the neighborhood leading to Olive as the reason for their request.

THE BOARD accepted their views, changing the district attendance area on a temporary basis for one year only. Twenty-five children are involved.

A protest was heard Monday night from another group of eight parents, residents of Mitchell and Chestnut and representing five kindergarten children. They requested that the decision be reserved to the original boundary lines or a compromise be arranged, if possible.

The second group pleaded its case on the basis of safety and distance.

THE DISTANCE is about .9 mile to Olive, compared to one and one-half miles to Ridge, parents said.

"And, the shorter the trip, the safer the trip," one parent declared. (A

No Quorum, But Budget To Be Aired

Public hearing on a proposed $3 million 1962-63 budget for School District 25 will be held as planned Aug. 13, even though a quorum of the board of education won't be available.

Reporting on vacation schedules at Monday night's board meeting, Pres. Joe Faner and members Ralph McGee, Chuck Bennet and Victor Myer all said they will be out of town and unable to attend the meeting.

THE HEARING may be held without a quorum, but adoption of the budget won't be possible until the re-scheduled regular monthly meeting Aug. 20 or the regular meeting Sept. 10. Because public notice has been given as required, the hearing must be held as scheduled Aug. 13.

Supt. Ralph Clabaugh said "a couple" persons have stopped in at the Administration Building, 301 W. South St., to look at the budget. It is available there for public inspection. (A

Spend $782 for 9 State Fair Passes

SPRINGFIELD (UPI)—Agriculture Director Ralph S. Bradley confirmed last week that $782 was spent on silver and gold identification tokens for the nine members of the State Fair Advisory Board and others.

"What's all the fuss about:" Bradley said. "It's been going on for years and years and we spent one-third less than in previous years."

The tokens included sterling silver identification cards and 14-carat gold lapel buttons. Actually, 15 cards were purchased at $32.50 each, and 30 buttons, at $7 each. The others will go for other persons connected with the fair.

BRADLEY SAID the board members and other recipients of the tokens work without pay and the cards and buttons were "tokens of appreciation."

The tokens allow holders to move freely about the fairgrounds during the 10-day exposition. (A-14

Vigil Protesting Soviet Tests Set

(UPI)—Some 400 members of the Chicago Area Sane Nuclear Policy Committee will hold a "24-hour silent vigil of protest" in the Loop following Russia's first blast in its new announced series of atmospheric nuclear testing, the group's co-chairman said.

Frank McCallister said Sunday he viewed the Russian announcement with "sorrowful protest." Mrs. David Pitchmun, a spokesman for another anti-nuclear organization, the Women for Peace, said members of her group would join the protest demonstration.

HER GROUP felt "dismay and regret," she said, on hearing the Russian announcement.

"But it was no surprise to us," she said. "We knew they would resume testing if we did. Both nations are acting like two disobedient kids."

The Sane Nuclear Policy Committee held a protest similar to the one planned, when the U.S. last April resumed its testing program. (A-14

'WAY BACK WHEN'

Compiled by Mrs. G. Rex Volz — Phone CLearbrook 5-9078

60 Years Ago—July 19, 1902

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: The contract with the Chicago, Bridge & Iron Co. for water tower was read and accepted. It calls for a 60,000 gallon steel tank, 19 feet in diameter and 31 feet high, to be set on a steel tower so that the top will be elevated 85 feet above earth.

The sidewalk committee was authorized to buy a carload of paving brick to build crossing.

PALATINE: John Bergmann reports the average pumping of water is 3,400 gallons daily with 72 consumers beside the railroad.

The Palatine Commissioners let the contract for the new bridges on Chicago Ave., at a cost of $530.

The Palatine C&NW freight handlers went back to work Wednesday just in time to save their union. Their loss of time amounts to more than the increase of wages. The merchants had to get their goods by express or hauled by teams from Chicago during the strike.

Mr. John Louis Bergmann died at the Bergmann homestead at the grand old age of 94 years. He had realized for several weeks that the end was near, and he often spoke of the many years he had been permitted to enjoy the companionship of his good wife, surrounded by children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren. He was born in 1811. (The homestead is still in the Bergman family.)

He leaves his wife of over 71 years, who is only 2 years his junior. (There are 12 descendants residing today in the Palatie area.)

50 Years Ago—July 19, 1912

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: Friday Aug. 2, is the usual date when this paper skips a issue and the printers take a week off for annual vacation, while the weather is hot and people have less time and don't feel like reading, as they do during the winter holidays.

The curb lines, especially of narrow streets, should be round and not square at the corners. No vehicle with more than two wheels can make a square turn and even a single buggy needs to cut the corners not to collide with teams going in the opposite direction.

Mr. Friedrich Redeker is an honest and successful business man, who enjoys the confidence of all who have had relations with him. He is not a politician and never seeks office. Three years ago he was prevailed upon to accept the office of Village Trustee. Being a heavy tax-payer and much interested in a proper sewer system, he consented and was elected by a big majority. The use of his name greatly strengthened the ticket and others with less business ability were pulled thru and thus the work was made all the harder for Mr. Redeker. He persistently stood by his convictions and as a result Arlington Heights has the best sewer system possible. He wanted to drop out at the end of his first term; but a large majority of the tax-payers insisted that he stay until the sewer system was perfected. He was re-elected and did his best to bring harmony and system out of the tangled chaos. He even neglected his private business to settle and protect village affairs. He saved the people hundreds of dollars by settling village lawsuits by arbitration. He gave his time, spent his own money for RR fares, telephone and telegraph messages, and the more he did, the more was expected of him. After faithful service to the public for over three years at great personal loss and inconvenience, he deemed his duty done, and having straightened out all affairs he resigned June 13, 1912, and left the board in easy sailing.

PALATINE: Louis Rhode has purchased a 1913 model R.C.H. of Hackbarth & Schering. This car made its first appearance on Palatine streets Monday evening and created quite a sensation with its electric headlights.

The Palatine Commercial Association met Thursday evening and elected officers for the coming year as follows: G. H. Arps, Pres., W. E. Shering, V.P., Harry H. Schoppe, Secy., W. R. Comfort, Treas., Directors, C. H. Patten and Peter Knowe, Henry H. Pahlmann, C. F. Rennack, Dr. J. W. Wilson, R. L. Peck, F. F. Danielson.

The property owners of Brockway St. between Chicago and Slade set a good example to the others this week by cleaning up the roadway.

Grand German Saengerfest will be given by the Euphonia Maennerchor and the Concordia League, Sunday, Aug. 4 in Beautiful Deer Grove Park. This Grove just opened is the Garden Spot of the West.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: Dunton Street sewer is done and graded, so traffic can be resumed on that main thorofare.

North Evergreen Avenue was sewered this week.

Ice cream cones will be sold in front of Mrs. F. A. Whiting's home from 5 to 9 o'clock each Friday evening during July and August.

"If you wish information regarding installation of gas or of any gas appliance particularly the new Cottage Arc Lights, telephone the Northwestern Gas Light & Coke Co., Evanston."

40 Years Ago—July 21, 1922

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: A. H. Community Service is again to the front with a plan for the organization of a group of local players for the purpose of giving citizens of this city the opportunity of enjoying home talent dramatics of a high order. Blanks will be left at each home in the village with the request that they be deposited in "The Dramatic Box" at Davis Store.

Mr. Christian Volz, celebrated his 88th birthday July 13 when a family birthday party was given at the A. F. Volz home. Mr. Volz is a remarkably well preserved man for his years. He was one of the first settlers in this village—and was nearly forty years in the undertaking and furniture business. He is chock full of interest in all the village growth and improvements. His memory of early days and the early residents of this community are as good as a historical reference book.

Many more lots in the east sub-division were sold by auction Tuesday. This subdivision is destined to be the choicest part of this live city of Arlington Heights.

Herman Redeker, who is interested in the Redeker subdivision, says that there are no lots in this city to beat his. He offers these lots with cement sidewalks laid, taxes due next March paid, and a Torrens Title thrown in for good measure. Sewer and Water have been applied for.

SCHAUMBURG: Herman Hartman and his family operate their 80 acre poultry farm in a scientific and profitable manner. They raise fancy full blood poultry, have a model farm, are a hard working, cooperative family, and are making it pay. At present he has Jersey Black Giants, White Plymouth Rocks, White Cochin Bantams, White Holland Turkeys, White Pekin Ducks, White African Guineas, and White Homer Pigeons. He says his success is due to common sense methods, hard work, and plenty of home help. His pure breds find a ready market at good prices.

PALATINE: Advertising placards for the Cook County Fair are now making their appearance. Premium list will be issued soon. Injunction proceedings have been started against the Chicago Cook County Fair, which is scheduled to be held at Checkboard Flying Field the same week.

Palatine Top Repair Co. is now able to supply curtains for Ford cars — Back curtains, equipped with 3 celluloid lights, touring or roadster, $3.20 each. Back curtain equipped with one plate glass light, touring or roadster, $5.80—side curtains, touring cars complete set front and read sides, $11.50; roadsters, complete, front and rear, $8.50.

MOUNT PROSPECT: Herman Scharringhausen has a new Studebaker—disc wheels and everything.

Now that we have 24-hour light service, we think it would be a good idea to have Christ Busse blow the siren at 12 o'clock midnight to remind those who have been in the habit of waiting for the lights to go out that it is "time to hit the hay." Public Service started service here at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, July 18, when the alternating current of the public utility corporation was turned on for the first time. A crew of 40 men have been working here this past week, changing service loads, setting new poles in alleys, placing transformers and rebuilding the lines into the standard public service equipment. This marks the final achievement of the efforts of the old company and prominent citizens to get the Public Service wires into Mt. Prospect.

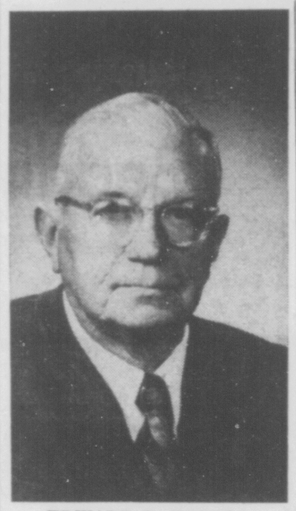
Federal Grant Slated For Sherman Hospital

Sherman Hospital, Elgin, will receive a federal appropriation for the construction and equipping of a new addition, it was announced this week by Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health. The Bureau of Hospitals of this department administers the Hill-Burton federal hospital construction program in Illinois under the direction of George A. Lindsley, M.P.H. The amount of the appropriation will be determined after the appropriation bill passes Congress, Dr. Yoder stated.

Commenting on the appropriation, Edward E. Ekvall, president of the hospital Board of Managers, said that the funds will make possible construction of new facilities and remodeling of some present facilities at a cost in excess of $2,500,000.

The action of the Bureau of Hospitals was based on extensive surveys showing the increasing number of patients from a wide area now being served by the hospital, up-to-date facilities and services already provided, the caliber of the hospital professional staff and population trends in the area, Ekvall said. He added "this expansion is a major phase of a long-range program to bring the hospital to a capacity of 400 beds with facilities for serving as a medical center for a large area in the next few years. The hospital medical staff, with certified specialists in all branches of medicine, is well-qualified to staff an area medical center."



EDWARD E. EKVALL

IN RESPONSE to an inquiry, Ekvall explained that the remainder of the funds necessary for the construction program will be obtained from private donations, monies reserved for capital expenditure and a mortgage on the existing properties.

Commenting further, Ekvall said that it is expected that working drawings will be completed by August 15 and ground will be broken by November 1. The total program, which must be carried out in several phases, will be completed by July, 1965. Some of the new facilities will be in use earlier.

The architects are Schmidt, Garden and Erickson, of Chicago, who planned both the 1951 and 1958 additions. Raymond W. Garbo is the architect in direct charge of the project.

THE NEW addition will adjoin the present north wing and extend west along Cooper avenue to Spring street. It will consist of five stories, a basement, and a penthouse for mechanical and airconditioning equipment. It will provide new and larger quarters for several departments and 100 new beds with well-equipped work areas for nursing personnel. Following completion of the new addition, the present west wing, built in 1895, will be razed. The net gain in number of beds for patients will be 60.

Plans call for a completely new dietary department, new x-ray department, new emergency department, a new and larger snack bar, a new pediatrics department with 39 beds, a new labor and delivery department, a new and larger pharmacy and a new central supply and physical therapy department. The new patient accommodations will consist mainly of semi-private rooms. These will be equipped with radiant panel ceiling heating and airconditioning controlled individually by the patient. All beds will be electrically operated. Other features will be a built-in wardrobe and chest of drawers for each patient.

Kennedy Chided on Civil Rights Stand

WASHINGTON, (UPI)—The Rev. Martin Luther King, Negro integration leader, said this week President Kennedy had failed to take "a vigorous stand" in seeking civil rights legislation.

King said the President "has certainly done a good job in some areas of civil rights" but on the other hand, there are things to be desired."

He said Kennedy had not yet issued an executive order to bar discrimination in federally assisted housing. King also said he thought the President could do a little more in the area of moral persuasion "by occasionally speaking out against segregation and counseling the nation on the moral aspects of this problem."

IN A TELEVISION interview, King was asked if he would sympathize with Kennedy if he were advised that the President was delaying the housing order so as to get Southern Democrats in Congress to go along with some of his key legislation.

King said he "would understand it" but could not accept that as an excuse. He said Southern Democrats are not supporting administration programs and the situation would "be the same next year."(A-14

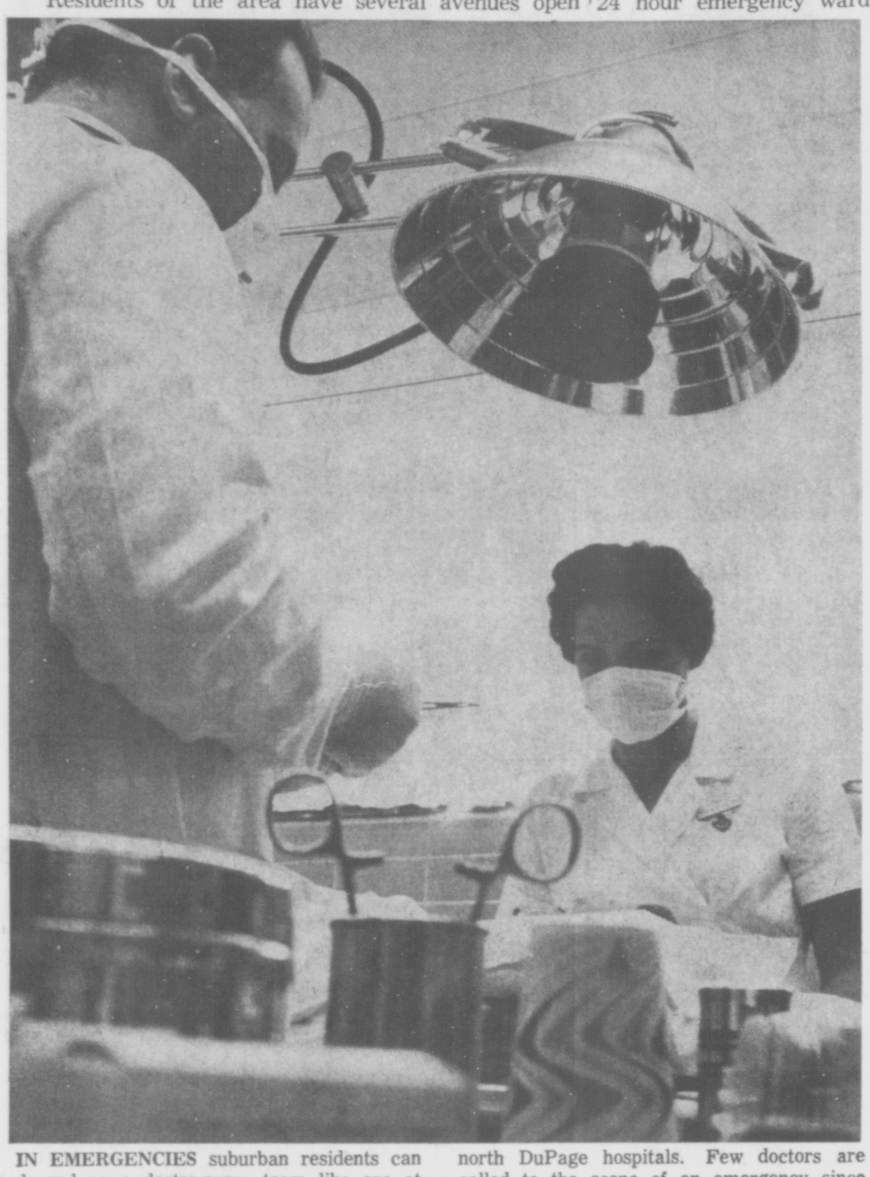
For Emergency Care

Doctor 'Shortage' No Threat in Area

by JOAN LORENSON

If a doctor cannot be reached during an emergency, it usually makes a headline story in a newspaper as it did in a Wheaton paper on June 29. The possibility of this situation occuring in the northwest suburbs, however, is rare.

Residents of the area have several avenues open to them in case of emergency when a doctor is needed. Both the Northwest Community Hospital and the Elmhurst Hospital have 24 hour emergency wards where treatment can be administered. By state statute any hospital is required to render emergency first aid treatment. Both hospitals have a resident on duty and a list of specialists on call.



IN EMERGENCIES suburban residents can depend on a doctor-nurse team like one at Northwest Community Hospital working for them. If a family physician is not available, an emergency victim can receive help at the emergency ward of northwest Cook County or north DuPage hospitals. Few doctors are called to the scene of an emergency since time is of the essence and work can only start at the hospital. Police and firemen are trained in first aid techniques so they can help at an accident scene.

Northwest Community Hospital recommends that the family physician should be called in an emergency. When delay is considered dangerous, the hospital advises that the patient be brought to the emergency entrance of the hospital. Hospital officials also add that it is advisable to have someone at home call the hospital while the patient is on the way so the emergency staff can be prepared. Patients are treated according to the urgency of their condition.

DOCTORS DO not go to the scene of an emergency or accident since experience has shown treatment is better administered at a hospital, declared Dr. Charles Lang, director of the DuPage County Health Department. Bellevue Hospital in New York City tried having interns go on ambulance calls but this did not prove to be effective, Lang said. The main thing at an accident scene, for example, is to stop the victims bleeding or hemorrhaging, commented Lang. Sometimes a splint also is needed, he added.

Local police and fire departments carry an inhalator for emergency victims who might need oxygen.

Lang emphasized that it is hard to assess damage at the scene of an emergency and then the patient must be moved to the hospital. Consequently he advised that a patient be brought to the hospital immediately.

A family which is new to a community and hasn't a doctor can receive emergency treatment at a nearby hospital. The patient is then referred to the doctor on call for that day. Should the doctor not be the type needed, the hospital will give a list of doctors in the area. The person then must contact one of the physicians.

BOTH ARLINGTON Heights and Mount Prospect have telephone answering services. A spokesman for the service said that the service cannot recommend a particular doctor. Instead it gives any caller a list of the doctors in the area after finding out if a particular specialist is being sought. The caller then must contact the doctor himself. The majority of doctors now have a telephone answering service so a doctor can be reached.

In Wheaton where there were several instances when a doctor was needed and the Wheaton Police Department could find none available, a 24 hour emergency coverage plan has been instituted. Doctors now notify police about their whereabouts and how they can be reached. The plan which has been set up by four members of the DuPage Medical Society is completely voluntary, said Dr. Donald Hockman, head of the plan. "It depends on the moral obligation of each man," Hockman added.

The Wheaton plan is intended only to cover emergency calls which come through the police department and is not intended to replace normal call services of family doctors, Hockman warned.

THOUGH POLICE officials stress there is no single way to handle an emergency, the policy usually is to move a patient to the hospital via ambulance, commented Sgt. Maurice English, Arlington Heights police department. Loss of valuable time is incurred if there is a wait for a doctor, he explained.

A town the size of Bloomingdale or Roselle in DuPage County which has no nearby hospital follows similar procedure. In an emergency police will transport the patient to Elmhurst or Elgin Hospitals adminstering oxygen along the way if it is needed, explained Police Chief George Mueller.

If the situation is not critical, a patient is taken to a doctor in Roselle or Medinah. "We try to help any resident in an emergency if possible," the policeman declared.

A check with the telephone company showed that the following procedure is followed should a person dial O for operator. The chief operator explained that the operators have an emergency book in which emergency doctors are listed. After getting the telephone number and town of the caller, the operator tries to ascertain if the person has a family doctor. If the caller has no family doctor, the operator begins going down the list of doctors in her emergency book. The number of doctors on the list varies; any doctor listed has been consulted by the telephone business office and agreed to have his name listed.

"In an emergency, we play it by ear," admitted the chief operator. Sometimes the caller is advised to take the patient to the emergency ward of the hospital, sometimes the police or fire department are called, and sometimes a doctor is called.

NEITHER DUPAGE or Cook Counties have an overall emergency procedure. Each municipality handles the critical need for a doctor in its own way.

Doctors almost to a man advise a newcomer to a community to get a family doctor. One doctor pointed out that many people neglect this procedure though it doesn't even have to involve an office call. A list of doctors in the area is available from the American Medical Association or an answering service. The newcomer then chooses a doctor, calls and introduces himself, and tells him that he is transferring his records from his former doctor to this physician.

It is especially important for the family new in the community to have a doctor if children or a medical history of past illnesses is involved.

In the suburban area it is relatively simple to get a doctor since most doctors are in associated practice whereby either he or a partner are on call.

Because of lack of an outpatient clinic, the area hospitals provide this service in many instances. In a crisis situation all official police or fire agencies cooperate to get a victim to the hospital as fast as possible after administering the first aid which they have been trained to do. (A14

Carpentier Edict

Ban Go-Karts From Streets

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) — The Secretary of State Monday issued a memorandum to all sheriffs and police chiefs that "go-karts," in most cases, cannot be legally operated on public streets.

This is particularly true in the case of youngsters under the age of 16, according to Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier, because they are too young to drive anyway.

CARPENTIER told the law officers that the law requires vehicles be registered with the state and display license plates.

"In most cases, we will not issue license plates to go-karts and similar motor vehicles because they do not meet the requirements of the uniform act regulating traffic on highways with respect to equipment," he said.

He said the law requires all motor vehicles be equipped with brakes on all wheels, with front lights visible at least 500 feet and with signal devices for indicating turns.

"Since most go-kart types of motor vehicles do not have that kind of equipment, their operation on public thoroughfares by anyone, whether he holds a valid driver license or does not, is illegal," he said.

THE SECRETARY of State's office said the name "Go-kart" is trademarked by the Go-Kart Manufacturing Company of California, but that the announcement was aimed at all the small, four-wheeled, low-slung motor vehicles that have become so popular around the country.

The vehicles have become particularly popular among youngsters and a number of racing tracks exist in this state.

A spokesman for Carpentier emphasized that the announcement only affected the use of the vehicles on public streets, not on private tracks or roadways. (A-14

Women Win 'Right' To Pass Leaflets

Litter Ordinance Obstacle Overcome

It appears that a group called "Woman for Peace" will now be permitted to pass out handbills on the streets of Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect.

When the women first approached village officials on the matter last Saturday, July 21, they were informed that such action would be in violation of the villages' anti-litter ordinances, and were denied permission.

Mrs. Lillian Hayward, of 1660 Greenleaf, Des Plaines, called the American Civil Liberties Union in Chicago to determine the women's rights, and was advised by Don McKnight, executive director of the CLU, that such action violated their constitutional rights of freedom of speech and the press.

MRS. HAYWARD said that Arlington Heights Village Manager L. A. Hanson and Mount Prospect Village Manager Harold Appleby were "sympathetic" with her problem but felt that distribution of the Woman for Peace literature on the street violated their village's anti-litter ordinance. The handbill the women want to pass out opposes continued nuclear testing by any nation.

Mrs. Hayward said Appleby advised her to contact the manager of the Mount Prospect Plaza at Rand and Central roads to see if she could arrange to pass out the leaflets on private property. She added that when she first called the Mount Prospect police department to inquire about distributing the handbills an officer told her to bring the literature in " 'and let the chief read it. He may let you distribute it.' " she reported.

Mount Prospect Police Chief George Whittenberg, when asked, said, "Oh, I doubt that. She must have misunderstood." Whittenberg said that when people call about such matters he recommends that they write to the village president and board of trustees outlining what they wish to do. "Then the clerk can reply and inform them of the board's decision and what our ordinances are," Whittenberg commented.

HANSON, Arlington Heights village manager, said it was his interpretation that the anti-litter ordinance covered all handbills, but added he was seeking a legal opinion from Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel.

Mount Prospect Village Manager Appleby quoted a section of the ordinance as making it unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to distribute any "cards, circulars, handbills, samples of merchandise or advertising" on village streets.

Asked about the passing out of political campaign literature, Appleby responded that this occurred only around polling places and that voters kept the circulars in their hands up to the time they entered the polling place.

EDWARD HOFERT, Mount Prospect village attorney, discussed the matter with the board of trustees and Appleby Tuesday night. He emerged from the meeting to say that the village's position was going to be that "it would permit the distribution of literature concerned with politics and religion. The policy will not interfer with distribution provided it doesn't interfere with pedestrian or automobile traffic, and, secondly, that provision is made to pick up leaflets left on the ground. Arrangements will have to be made with the village manager on these provisions. This doesn't mean the village either approves or disapproves of the literature being passed out."

McKnight, Chicago Civil Liberties Union director, said that the U. S. Supreme Court ruled on this matter in 1939 in a case titled, "Schneider vs. New Jersey," and commented: "We are of the opinion that the purpose of keeping the streets clean and of good appearance is insufficient to justify an ordinance which prohibits a person rightly on a public street from handing literature to any one willing to receive it. Any burden imposed upon city authorities in cleaning and caring for streets as an indirect consequence of such distribution results from the constitutional protection of freedom of speech and press."

McKnight added that in a 1951 high court decision called "Niemotko vs. Maryland," Justice Felix Frankfurter wrote: "The easiest cases are those in which the only interest opposing free communication was that of keeping the streets of a community clean. This could hardly justify prohibiting dissemination of information by handbills." He cited four Supreme Court rulings to support this contention.

McKNIGHT SAID he had been in touch with the village managers. "I'm giving them the courtesy to get it straightened out with their attorneys. There is no doubt that on the basis of these decisions that ordinances prohibiting all handbill distribution on grounds that such distribution might litter the streets are unconstitutional. We hope that by discussing this issue with the village officials of Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect, they will agree to allow citizens to exercise their constitutionally protected rights within these villages so that it will not be necessary, once again, to defend the clear right distribute non-commercial handbills on any public way in this country."

Arlington Heights Village Attorney Siegel, reached later, said, "As a matter of law and conscience, we are not going to stop anyone from passing out non-advertising material. I hope she (Mrs. Hayward) doesn't litter up the streets too bad, but this is a price to pay for freedom of speech."

Mrs. Hayward said she had assured village officials her three sons would pick up any handbills dropped during the course of the distribution.

Vacationers Empty and Fill Arlington Heights Homes

A miscellaneous assortment of mid-summer activities is currently keeping Arlington Heighters on the go. The peak of the vacation-and-visiting season is both emptying and filling local homes, while parties fill in any vacant slots that might appear on the scene.

Among the many local families using up Dad's vacation with alternating days of relaxing at home and short "let's go somewhere" jaunts are the James Hahns, 919 N. Ridge. They're recently back from a visit with Wisconsin friends, and the eldest boys, James and Thomas, are enjoying an indefinite stay with Grandfather and Grandmother Hahn in Merrimac. They might come home next week and then again, depending on water skiing and the weather, they might not.

For Jim's and Tom's kid brother, Nicholas, the summer isn't quite as much fun. Considering a knee-high leg cast, though, the 10-year old lad is percolating pretty well around home, recuperating from recent surgery and a 9-day stay in Evanston Hospital.

A WEEK in Door County that was a swimming success ended for the Jack Heys Saturday when they returned to 401 S. Highland, well-sunned and a bit sandy.

Also emptying sand, Michigan variety, from pockets and cuffs are the Walter Meyers, 1205 N. Dunton, who returned Sunday from Montague and within minutes welcomed Mrs. Meyer's college roommate Mrs. Charles Atherton, and her three children of El Monte, Calif. The Athertons left today after a non-stop talk session between the "girls" that wasn't quite long enough to make up for 15 years of not seeing each other.

Before the Meyers' return from Michigan, Mrs. Atherton and the children were visitors for a week with Mrs. Roy Olson, Rand Road, and other realtives in Chicago.

Twenty-six Chicago and suburban relatives of Kermit Gabrielsen of Los Angeles enjoyed a reunion here with him Monday in the home of his niece and nephew, the George Gabrielsens, 705 S. Chestnut. The upcoming wedding of another niece, Miss Beverly Gabrielsen of Chicago, occasioned his trip East, the first in five years.

Tommy Thomas, 1233 Sunset Drive, was among several local members of the Don McNiel Breakfast Club cast who spent last week in Minneapolis, where the group entertained at the city's famed Aqua Follies, the summertime counterpart of St. Paul's annual winter carnival.

Besides enjoying the apparently boundless hospitality of city and state officials with the McNiel group, Thomas had the added individual pleasure of a coincidental reunion with the Rev. Harry Evans of the Arlington Heights Evangelical Free Church who was also in Minneapolis last week.

THE CHARLES Kleinofen family, 627 S. Chestnut, were among those in the enthusiastic Aqua Follies audience last week during their visit in Minneapolis with former local neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Merz. The Kleinofens were accompanied by the Merz' daughter, Mrs. John Brogni of Hoffman Estates. They returned Sunday, bringing with them greetings from Mr. and Mrs. Merz to the ex-Arlington Heighters' other local friends.

Minneapolis will soon also be the permanent address of a longtime local resident, Mrs. V. I. Brown, until recently of 619 N. State. She spent some time this week farewelling downstate friends and plans to leave for her new home within a few days.

Contributing, too, to the traffic between Minneapolis and Arlington Heights were Lt. Mike Hawkins, his wife and baby who will return to Minnesota Monday after a week here with the lieutenant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hawkins, 831 S. Vail. Joining Mike for a weekend reunion in the Hawkins home was a fraternity brother, Ben McDougall of New Orleans. The lieutenant will put his army uniform in storage as of his discharge Aug. 1.

MISS RUTH Christopher of Providence, R. I., Friday ended a week's visit here with her cousin and family, the Charles Opelas, 636 N. Dunton, and began a stay in the Sherman House in Chicago where she attended the Christian Book Sellers Convention.

Prior to Miss Christopher's visit, Mrs. Opela's parents, the Percy Snells of Irwin, Pa., were here for three weeks with their daughter and her family.

The John Farr family is home again at 407 N. Drury after two weeks of vacationing and visiting in Arkansas and Missouri. A week at Bull Shoals Lake, Ark. was followed by reunions with nearly 100 family members in the St. Louis area and a short stay with the senior Mrs. Farr in Jefferson City.

The Farrs' son, Skp, had flown to Jefferson City for a vacation stay with Grandma Farr about two weeks before his parents' arrival and returned home with them last Friday.

A "just perfect vacation" recently ended for the William Phares family, 725 S. Chestnut, who say that even the weather was ideal every day of the month they were gone. They began with the long and leisurely route to the West Coast, via the Grand Canyon and Painted Desert, then reunited in Claremont, Calif. with Mr. Phares' mother and brother.

Tours of Disneyland and Marineland delighted the adults as well as the children, and lots of c[illegible] sightseeing kept everyone busy.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Gregg converted their garage and home at 2 S. Waterman into a western gambling town last Saturday night when they entertained 24 local friends with a Las Vegas-inspired party. Everyone attended in costume and six-guns were prominent so a shottin', rootin' time was "jest natcherly come by." The evening meal was chuck-wagon style, gambling was Las Vegas style and dancing was any style at all.

REGINA COUGHLIN, daughter of the Kenneth Coughlins, 507 S. Evanston, was hostess Saturday night to 11 young friends at a "mid-summer night's dream of a party," according to her guests. An outdoor barbecue supper provided energy for a scavenger hunt and some dancing which in turn called for more sustenance so that the Twist could be done with proper gusto.

Joseph Gerard, infant son of the Albert Coliannis, 814 S. Highland, was baptized July 8 in Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Church, and the occasion marked at a family gathering in the Colianni home. Adding their blessings to the day were the baby's godparents, his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Colianni of Arlington Heights, and his grandmothers, Mrs. Hulda Olson of Chicago and Mrs. Susan Colianni of Oak Park.

MR. AND MRS. Anthony Lentine, 1215 E. Maple, were among guests at a surprise silver wedding anniversary party in Chicago July 14 given for Mrs. Lentine's aunt and uncle, the John Vohns by the Vohns' daughters, Christina and Karen. The gala occasion also gave the Lentines several reunion opportunities as 200 family friends and relatives gathered to honor the anniversary couple.

Among the out-of-towners were Mrs. John Scheely of Louisville and the Clarence Baumgardner family of Dixon. Miss Rosalie Baumgardner was the weekend guest here in the Lentine home.

Two recent surprise showers have feted one of Saturday's brides-elect, Miss Margaret Gillon, daughter of the Hugh Gillons, 410 S. Dunton. A week ago Sunday afternoon 10 local friends of the bride-to-be awaited her in the home of Miss Kathy Sellers, 520 S. Chestnut, where Miss Gillon was to join a family cook-out, she thought. Instead she was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower.

Next evening another group of 10 friends, these fellow officer workers, successfully surprised Miss Gillon again. Six of them came to her home, ignored all protests of "But I can't go anywhere like this!" and dragged her off to Sue Alm's home, 823 N. Dunton, where the rest of the party was gathered.

Miss Gillon will be married Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights to Roger Ahlgrim of Elmhurst.

THE 25TH wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Clabaugh, 510 S. Beverly, was celebrated June 23 at a surprise dinner party for 40 longtime friends and was given by their daughter, Judy, and son, Jim.

Miss Clabaugh, who is in the midst of preparations for her forthcoming wedding to Greg Doman of Whiting, Ind., Aug. 25, was feted at a kitchen shower the followng Wednesday, given by Mrs. Lloyd Peterson and her daughter, Judy, at their home, 433 S. Pine. Guests included Miss Clabaugh's Arlington High School friends and their mothers.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. VanOosten, 600 S. Pine, returned home last week from a month's vacation in the Orient. Accompanying them was their daughter, Sue, who will begin her junior year at Lake Forest college this fall. Japan was the first country they visited, arriving in Tokyo by jet from O'Hare Field with only one stopover, which was in Anchorage, Alaska.

After travelling throughout Japan, which they enjoyed immensely, they went on to tour Hong Kong, Bangkok and Formosa the Phillipine Islands, Guam, and Wake Island. A visit to Hawaii concluded their vacation.

ANOTHER Scarsdale family returning from a vacation abroad are the Donald Strathearns, 720 S. Bristol, who, with their daughter, Julie, and son, Don, spent a month travelling through Europe. The Strathearns left for Europe June 19 and flew from O'Hare Airport directly to London.

After spending a week in England, they went on to Holland for a 5-day stay, and then flew to Switzerland for a week's stay with friends. Leaving Switzerland, which they all agreed was the most beautiful country, they motored to Italy, and making Rome their headquarters, visited several Italian cities, including Milano, Portofino and Florence and the art centers of these cities.

The Strathearns spent the last week of their vacation in Paris and flew back home.

MR. AND MRS. Stuart Hanckel, 634 S. Belmont, recently returned from a 3-week motor trip to the East Coast, visiting friends in Greenwich, Conn., and Mr. Hanckel's parents, the Robert Hanckels in Scituate, Mass. The Hanckels' three children, Lissa, Champney and Allan, accompanied them and will remain in the east with their grandparents for the remainder of the summer.

Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Hanckel welcomed her sister and brother-in-law, Col and Mrs. John Everhart, for a brief visit. The visitors had been vacationing in Virginia and are enroute to the Vandenberg Air Force base in California, where Col. Everhart is stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Skinner, 721 S. Beverly, had as their guests over the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Roeder of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lickenbihl of Lincoln, Neb. Both couples had been attending the Shriner's convention in Toronto. During their stay here, the Skinners entertained for them with a cookout, and attended the races, Saturday.

MR. AND MRS. William Graham, 508 S. Lincoln, and their four children, are home after spending five weeks in Colorado, dividing their stay at a vacation resort at Grand Lake and with visits to both their parents, the Douglas Grahams and the Quentin Semotans, in Steamboat Springs.

Mrs. Graham found a pleasant and practical solution to the problem of travelling a long way with children. She stowed all their luggage in the family car, and Mr. Graham and their three daughters drove to Colorado, while she and their infant son went by plane. This worked so well, that they returned the same way.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickman, 423 Mayfair, and their children, Terri and Deborah, spent the past five weeks vacationing in the Northwest. They drove to Montana first, visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Howell of Bozeman and Mrs. C. H. Dickman in Harlawton. From there, they went on to Longview, Wash. for a visit with Mrs. Dickman's sister and family, the James Myklebusts, and then to Seattle to the Fair.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Ross, 341 Bristol, recently took their sons, David and Richard, on a tour of historic points of interest on the East Coast. Their trip began with a visit with Mr. Ross' brother, Ivan, and his family in Birmingham, Mich. and a visit to Niagara Falls, and then to Boston, taking tours throughout that city, and going about alone on foot to see old Revolutionary War sites.

Other places of historic interest visited were Plymouth Rock, Washington D. C., Mt. Vernon, New York City, the United Nations Building and Philadelphia. Making their trip even more enjoyable were the brief visits with several former college classmates living in the east.

Enroute home, they spent a week in Greencastle, Pa., visiting Mrs. Ross' sister and family, the William S. Neumans, and a week in Portsmouth, Ohio, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Glenn Werner.

MR. AND MRS. John B. Helmer, 440 S. Beverly, and their children, Robin and Bradley, returned to Arlington Heights Sunday after spending two weeks in Newark, Ohio, visiting Mrs. Helmer's mother, Mrs. A. L. Chynoweth, and brother, Dr. John Chynoweth and his family, and Mr. Helmer's parents, the W. J. Helmers of Springfield, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jurco, 217 S. Windsor, and their weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. Veraneck of Alma, Wis., attended the Stravinsky birthday concert party at Ravinia, Saturday.

Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Jurco were hosts at a dinner at the "Old Town" for Mrs. Clarence A. Livingston, their former Stonegate neighbor, who is here for a visit from her home in Florida.

SEVERAL OF Stonegate's younger members have found interesting ways to spend the summer months. The Robert Lockwoods' eldest daughter, Cynthia, is working as a stewardess for the Riddle Airline in Wrightstown, N. J., which is contracted by the government to fly army personnel and their families from the United States to Ireland and from Ireland to Frankfort, Germany.

Stopovers in Ireland and Germany allow Miss Lockwood to get better acquainted with the peoples of these countries, than was possible when she visited them as a tourist a few years back.

In the fall, Miss Lockwood will return to Glencoe, where she is a teacher in the elementary school.

Miss Nancy Kay Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Anderson, 1105 Mayfair, returned last Saturday from the Smith Walbridge Camp in Syracuse, Ind., where she was an instructer during two weeks of majorette training. Miss Anderson will return to Northwestern University in the fall to begin her junior year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gillen, 331 S. Windsor, and their three sons, John, Kenneth and Gregory, returned Monday from a 2-week vacation at the seashore in Wildwood, N.J., and in Baltimore, visiting her mother, Mrs. Beatrice Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Daniel, 346 S. Derbyshire, and their two sons, Ricky and Danny, spent the past week vacationing in Minocqua, Wis. Swimming and water skiing were the major activities enjoyed everyday, and a birthday, Ricky's 15th, and the Daniel's wedding anniversary were celebrated.

FORMER Arlington Heights residents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil G. Bowen Sr., who now live in Park Ridge, have just returned from a 6-week vacation touring England. Their journey began on the St. Lawrence River and they sailed on the Empress of Briton. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bowen have many relatives in Britain, whom they have enjoyed seeing again. They were impressed with the renovation of cities that were damaged in the war, and they brought back many pictures to show friends and relatives at home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Brooks, 204 S. Drury, had as their houseguests during the past week, two nuns, Sister Anderina C-S.J. and Sister Mary Giles, C-S.J., of St. Paul, where they are members of the administrative staff at St. Catherine's College and of St. Mary's Hospital.

The Brookses took their guests on an extensive tour of the city, visiting the museums,g art galleries, Planetarium, Aquarium, and many places of interest. They also spent several days visiting religious points of interest, including St. Peters church, St. Mary's of the Lake in Mundelein, the Convent of Perpetual Adoration and the Seminary at Techny.

The Sisters left Saturday for Springfield, Ill., to visit a nephew. (A day go to Jack Christiansen, who celebrated at a family dinner Sunday. Among the guests were his aunt and her fiance from Chicago. Jack is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Christiansen, 428 S. Waterman.

Congratulations go to Sue Oravetz, 533 S. Prindle, and her partner, Jim Michgeison of Mount Prospect, who won the twist contest at the street dance Friday evening.

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

The Arlington Acres Civic Association's first street dance Friday evening lost nothing by being postponed twice. The attendance, better than 100 couples, exceeded the committee's highest hopes. In fact, the affair was rated such a huge success that mention has already been made of making it an annual affair.

Mrs. Paul Bakewell, the dance committee chairman, would like to thank everyone whose efforts helped to make the evening the success that it was.

A WELCOME goes to new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Ashbrook, 416 S. Forrest, and their daughters, Jane, Susan and Nancy, who moved here from E. Moline. Mr. Ashbrook is with Ford Motor Credit of Chicago.

Douglas Soderberg, 436 S. Phelps, and five other Arlington Heights youths, under the sponsorship of the El-Rey Studio, walked off with a trophy for the studio and ribbons for themselves at the convention of the American Guild of Music at the Morrison Hotel Tuesday of last week. They entered the competition as a guitar playing unit.

MR. AND MRS. Gust Hermanson, 437 S. Forrest, with their children, Greta and Mark, drove to Cambridge, Ill., on July 14 to attend the wedding of a close friend, then took the occasion to spend the following two days on interesting sightseeing trips in the area. The family enjoyed visiting Lowden State Park and Lorado Taft's statue of Blackhawk near Oregon, as well as Palisades State Park at Savanna.

Congratulations on his July 18 birthday go across the miles to Chuck Longrie who is stationed temporarily at Lackland AFB, Texas. Chuck's parents are the Lyle Longries, 429 S. Forrest.

Plans for Mark Bayuk's third birthday, July 17, included a "splash" party in his own pool but the weather man vetoed the idea, so after cake and ice cream, Mark and his guests, Lisa Swenson, Lisa Morgan and David and Allen Carlstedt spent the afternoon beside the pool instead of in it, sailing boats and floatable toys.

IN THE EVENING, Mark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bayuk, 408 S. Forrest, hosted a dinner for him. Guests were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Niemz of Edgebrook, and godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carlstedt of Mount Prospect.

Best wishes on his 14th birthday go to Mrs. Beverly Lane has also had its share of birthday festivities. Mrs. Lorraine Larson, who is recuperating nicely after her stay at Northwest Community Hospital, celebrated on July 19.

Mrs. Virginia Heitz' July 19th birthday was the occasion for a chinese dinner with her family.

On July 20 Mrs. Blanche Baker celebrated with just her immediate family. The Bakers' 10-year old son, Scott, is recovering from second degree burns brought about by a bicycle fall onto a smoldering log.

Instead of "Breakfast at Tiffany's" it was dinner at Tiffany's at Golf-Mill July 24 for Mrs. Jack Mutti's birthday. Her mother and brother joined Casey and her family for the occasion.

RECENT houseguest at the Muttis' was Miss Norma Lee Box from Herrin, Ill. The Oscar Johnson family and two other couples from Chicago joined the Muttis and Norma Lee last weekend for a picnic which turned into a marathon drive trying to find a dry spot to picnic. Williams Bay and Fontana proved too muddy and wet, and finally the pavilion at Cedar Lake was chosen for their dining spot.

Bobby Evans, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans suffered injuries at the Willow Springs swimming pool, which necessitated hospitalization at Elmhurst Hospital. He was transferred to Northwest

Eastwood Events

A marvelous week that could not have been nicer was thoroughly enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lane of N. Brighton Place when they attended the Jaycee national convention in Las Vegas. Flying both ways, they stayed at the Flamingo. The Lanes took in all the fabulous shows and sights that they could cram in, and even the weather cooperated, with not a drop of rain to mar their visit.

The second week of the Lane's vacation was spent at home with several days' stay at Starved Rock where the children, John, Curt and Jerry, had a fine time swimming and sightseeing.

Jacksonport in Door County, Wis. was vacation headquarters for Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Coha and their children of N. Beverly Lane. The cloudy and cool rainy weather curtailed some of their boating, swimming and fishing activities, but did give the Cohas a good opportunity for sightseeing the beautiful country around Green Bay and the peninsula.

ON THE RETURN trip the Cohas stopped in Menomonee Falls to visit former Beverly Lane neighbors, Sam and Marion Leone, who have just recently moved from Eastwood.

For one week Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Schwantz and their sons, Bobby, Jimmy and Denny had a restful vacation at Christiana Lodge in Michigan. Will's mother, Mrs. Maria Schwantz of S. Highland Avenue enjoyed the week with them.

After the Schwantzes returned home they celebrated Bobby's 5th birthday on July 15. The Saturday before his actual birthdate he entertained neighborhood playmates at a children's party, and on Sunday his grandparents and relatives came for an outdoor supper which was transferred indoors by the rain.

It's been back to school again for James Drake of 411 N. Beverly. For two weeks he has been attending an office management seminar at Beloit college.

Mrs. Priscilla Ogg is also heading back to the classroom. She will take a modern drama course at the National College of Education in Evanston, taught by Dr. Robert Kidder. Mrs. Ogg, who has her own kindergarten, has always been interested in the theater and has been active with the Des Plaines Theater group.

JULY IS A popular month for birthdays in the John Harty household. Michael was 10 on the 12th and 12 of his friends were invited for a barbecue supper. After a trip to the local movie theatre, his guests returned to the Harty home for ice cream and cake.

Kevin's 14th birthday on July 20 was the occasion for dinner out at Rapp's for the entire family. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Harty of 204 N. Brighton.

HOW LONG CAN A MEDICINE LAST?

Each one has its own problem. Some must be taken soon after compounding for they lose potency daily. Certain drugs deteriorate quickly when exposed to light, — others to heat. Some medicines absorb moisture from the air, — others can give up less stable ingredients and decompose.

Pharmacists have been taught how to protect the potency of all drugs. That is why a pharmacist must attend college for many years to gain this knowledge. When you get your medicines from your pharmacy, potency is positive.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Terrace talk commences with a welcome for new neighbors, Rev. Gerald and Betty Robinson, who with their children, Christine, 10, Bill, 7, and Marcia, 9 months, are now making their home at 1440 N. Race. Rev. Robinson, originally from Minneapolis, met Mrs. Robinson, of Evanston, while he was attending the seminary there, and he now assumes the duties of minister of evangelism at the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights, having just left his post as minister of the Community Methodist Church in Lake Villa. While Mrs. Robinson sings and is a former choir leader, her husband is a boating enthusiast, and they all enjoy spending leisure time aboard the family boat.

On July 7, the home of Joseph and Betty Hanrahan, 1404 N. Race, was a busy place, as 72 guests attended a combination family picnic and baby shower for their daughter, Darlene (Mrs. Charles Barnes Jr.). Darlene's cousin, Miss Terry Newmes of Evergreen Park, was the shower hostess, and with gifts ranging from a complete suite of nursery furniture, and guests including her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Purcell of Chicago, and her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes Sr. Providing entertainment for the get-together was Darlene's uncle, Connie Hanrahan of Chicago, with his accordion, and now Darlene is home at Solcum Lake in Wauconda awaiting the baby's birth.

RALPH AND Shirley Landes, 1251 N. Chicago, have been entertaining out-of-town company for the past week. Ralph's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sokolosky of Oklahoma City, have been here enjoying the local sights and sounds with trips to the loop, the races and the ballpark.

Last week a junior farewell party was held when Claire Lowell and Janet Pendleton served as hostesses at Janet's home, 1240 N. Yale, in honor of Lynn and Cheri Sanberg, who will be leaving the Terrace shortly with their family for their new home in Winston Park. Guests included Kris and Mark Anderson, Jane Giuliani, Debby and Kathy Zare, Gary Gabel, Kay and Reid Lowell and Cindy Pendleton.

Recently Darlene and Gary Lichtblau, 1239 N. Illinois, and son, Kurt, returned from a week's stay with Darlene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Tierney in South Bend. Upon their return Darlene hosted a surprise baby shower and bridge in honor of Shirley Holmes. Guests at the Tuesday afternoon party included Ann Kennedy, Barbara Ferry, Kay Duff, Mary Chatterton and Fay Cornell.

THIS WEEK'S vacation roundup starts with reports from Len and Ruth Stanley, 1408 Oakton, who, with their children, Ronnie, Timothy and Diane, toured the nation's capital. In addition to viewing the "Spirit of St. Louis" and Col. Glenn's space capsule, "Friendship Seven," at the Smithsonian Institution, the Stanleys toured the White House, Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, up to the top of the Washington Monument and the FBI Building. The last phase of their vacation took them to Virginia, where they toured George Washington's home at Mount Vernon.

Seattle, the World's Fair and "home-town" visiting were the highlights of the Vogtritters' vacation this year. Bob, Shirley and the children, Kim Lee, Gary, Scott and Jill, spent their holiday with Shirley's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Witsoe in Seattle.

In addition to the fair, they visited Whidbey Island, where they were once stationed, and Bob and Gary took time out for a 3-day fishing expedition. An exciting and unusual fillip was added to their trip when, while visiting Deception Pass at the Washington State Park, a butane gas tank exploded at a picnic area. While, fortunately, no one was injured, the Vogtritters had an opportunity to see the forest rangers go into action and extinguish the fairly sizeable forest fire that ensued.

Upon their return, Kim and Gary left for a vacation stay with their paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Vogtritter in Front Royal, Va., who had the opportunity of hosting a ninth birthday party for Kim on Sunday.

MARY JO, daughter of Les and Jo Rozdalovsky, 1321 N. Race, enjoyed two parties this year to commemorate her sixth birthday. The first was held on her actual birthday, July 14, in Milwaukee, where she had been visiting her uncle and aunt, the Ned La Presti family. The second was a backyard party at home on Tuesday of last week. Guests included her visiting cousin, Linda La Presti, her sister Shirley, and playmates, Anna Marie Piscopo, Guy Eisenhuth, Susan Catlin and Jimmy Kohler.

Quentico Provincial Park in Ontario served as the starting point for the wilderness canoe trip for Carolyn and William Brown, 1211 N. Race, and son, Doug. As was their second annual pilgrimage, the Browns extended their canoeing to 150 miles and made 26 portages over 15 lakes—the longest was a mile and a half—and made 8 camps in 11 days. Carolyn reports that the term "wilderness" is not an idle one, as they once spent a 2½-day period without seeing any other traveler.

On the other hand, "family togetherness" was the descriptive phrase applied to the 3-week vacation of Jack and Betty Sorensen, 1406 N. Chicago, and the children, Nancy and Richard. They visited Betty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Hewitt of Springfield, Ohio, and Jack's mother, Mrs. Louise Sorensen of Detroit, at their cottage in Glen Lake, Mich. In addition to fishing, riding and swimming, they also enjoyed side trips to Mackinac Island, a Fourth of July barbecue dinner at Empire Beach and a canoe trip on Crystal River.

LAST SATURDAY afternoon a theater party was held in honor of Loni, daughter of Ted and Edith Larson, 1202 N. Race, who was 8. Guests who enjoyed seeing "Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation" included her sister, Thea, Cathy Narup, Dawn Dolejs, Roxanne Petrucci, Linda Cech and Jeanie Kellogg.

Following the party, Ted and Edith joined friends, Mr. and Mrs. Bures of Broadview, in a double wedding anniversary celebration. The Larsons were celebrating 17 years: the Bures were celebrating 14 years, and they visited Chicago's Chinatown for dinner at Chiams, and finished the evening with a stop at the Club New Yorker.

Earlier this month Bob and Betty Gumz, 1248 N. Chicago, entertained both of their fathers, A. W. Gumz and George J. Deutsch, who came up together from St. Louis to see their grandsons, Roger and Jimmy, play with their respective Little League teams, and to help celebrate Roger's ninth birthday on July 8.

Robert and Joyce Anderson, 1234 Yale, and children, Kris, Mark, Karen and Scott, spent a short holiday at the Wisconsin Dells recently, where they enjoyed the usual sightseeing and fun pursuits.

Last Saturday evening Sandy Yates, 1522 Oakton, hosted a birthday dinner for husband Dave. In addition to the children, Leslie, Lisa and David, guests included Sandy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sanders of Waukegan. A second part of the celebration took place a few days later, when he and Sandy visited the London House in Chicago to see, hear and applaud Erroll Garner and his "Misty" piano.

RECENTLY BOB and Darlene Krug, 1212 N. Race, took Bobby, Jeffrey and April for a few days' visit at Madison, Wis., to see former Terrace residents, Carol and Ron Reed and their new baby.

On the pretext of a bridge game, Janet Krewer was inveigled into attending the surprise stork shower held in her honor last Thursday night. Hosted by Karen Murphy, 1314 N. Illinois, guests included neighbors Adele Yore, Marion Nielsen, Elenore Blomquist, Charlene Bang, Judy Zare and Eileen Sanberg, in addition to Jeanne Serpico of Skokie and Helina Kupeck of Park Ridge.

A bucolic holiday describes the visit Donna Garland, 1317 N. Chicago, and children, John, Karen and Debbie, enjoyed last week in the Madison, Dodgeville and Edmund, Wis. area. Staying at the farm home of her aunt, Mrs. Arthur Tremelling, Donna and the children managed to visit many of her relatives in the surrounding area.

A series of celebrations were held when Jack and Alma Harmon and son, Bruce, visited Alma's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wenetta in Des Moines, recently. Birthdays were high on the list with parties for Jack, Alma's sister, Mrs. Kay Byers, and her brother, Edward Wendetta. In addition to seeing her brother and his wife who were vacationing from their home in Los Angeles, for the first time in seven years, everyone welcomed the reunion to congratulate their folks, who were celebrating their golden wedding anniversary. Shelkop TV Moving Location August 1

The relocation of Shelkop TV from 10 W. Campbell St. to 700 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, will take place next Wednesday, Aug. 1, it was announced this week.

Owner Ralph Shelkop told Paddock Publications this week that his television sales and repair business has "simply outgrown the present location."

"We've been located on Campbell Street for 17 years and have expanded the operation three times," he explained. "Now we need more room."

SHELKOP STARTED the business of radio repair after World War II and before the advent of television. Prior to this he had 25 years of radio engineering experience.

He ran the business single-handedly for 2½ years, and then his son, Bob, joined him as a partner. Currently their business extends to Palatine, Barrington, Libertyville, Mundelein and Wauconda.

The Shelkops concentrate on television, high fidelity systems and associated fields of electronics. The firm's trucks were equipped with two-way radios three years ago to better serve the area with faster service.

FULL - TIME employes number six. With part-time personnel added, the business totals 90 years of experience. In 1952, Shelkop began leasing television sets to many motels within a 25-miles radius of Arlington Heights.

The move to Northwest Highway will enable the improved display of top brand name television and stereo merchandise, Shelkop pointed out. Franchised lines include RCA Victor black and white and color, Zenith black and white and color, Motorola and Curtis Mathes. (A

HASBROOK HAPPENINGS

Dick Blassey, 1730 N. Ridge, and Herb Herbeck, 1720 N. Ridge, with sons Mike and Tom, have returned from a week of fishing in Quetico National Forest, Ontario, Canada. Although the weather was bad and the bugs were biting as much as the fish, they're ready to go again next year. Trophy of the trip especially enjoyed by the neighbors was Dick's week-old beard.

The James Weltons, 1534 N. Walnut, have just completed a 2-week tour of Kentucky and Tennessee, visiting Mammoth Cave, Lookout Mountain and the Smokies. It was the second time around on the honeymoon circuit for them since they made the trip alone - their children remained at home with relatives.

Armand and Pauline LeClair, 714 Lynwood, and son, Gary, enjoyed Muskegon, Mich., and a first hand view of the Seaway Festival and the Miss Michigan Pageant on their trip. They also stopped in Grand Haven and St. Joseph.

Don and Ursula Balsover, 1817 N. Patton, motored with their family to Ottawa, Ill., to meet Don's parents, from Indiana, for a day-long outing and visit. The Balsovers report Lisa, youngest member of the clan, observed her first birthday on July 3 with a family party.

THE JOHN MELLORS and their son, Bill, 1831 N. Ridge, spent July 7 and 8 at Gulf Lake, Mich., with friends Mr. and Mrs. Dave Britton, Burton-on-Trent, England. John caught 15 bass, but he took a back seat to 5-year-old Bill, when praise was passed round. Bill caught his first fish - a sunfish.

It was "Tenting Tonight" for Dave and Doris Williams, 1532 N. Patton, and children Rhys, Sandy and Ian, on their 4-day camping vacation in Lowther State Park, Oregon, Ill.

If the "corn is as high as an elephant's eye" in Oklahoma, Dick and Dolores Triest and daughters Vicky and Bonnie, 1531 N. Walnut, must know about it. They recently returned from a motor trip to Tulsa, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Guillette, Dick's parents.

Howard and Jean Bergeson, 706 Lynwood, went separate ways on their vacation, with Jean and daughter off to Canada to see a cousin and Howard and sons fishing in Michigan.

THE CRATTY household, 245 W. Maude, had to get along without Marge for three weeks while she vacationed with her sister in Los Angeles.

Bart and Waunitah Bartkowiak. 710 W. Maude, crammed both business and pleasure into their three weeks away from Hasbrook. Business took Bart to Buffalo, while Waunitah visited for a week and a half with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bartkowiak in Bay City. She then went on to Auburn, where Bart joined her and the four youngsters for a week's vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martinski.

With their offspring Kathy and Johnny in Shorewood, Wis., from July 8-15, Bob and Jane Walsh found 1542 N. Patton a mighty quiet place. The youngsters were guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hubrich. Now Kathy's in Ironwood, Mich., to devote the rest of her summer to keeping maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Kershner, on their toes.

Galley 2 Hasbrook Happenings

Ken Hogrefe's fourth birthday party was held July 7 and guests were his brother, Michael, Cheryl Swenson, Ellen Tierney, Pat Anderson, Glenn Draxler, Nancy and Marianne Madar and Lynn Rizzio.

Apparently the birthday party idea was contagious for Gary Drake, 1836 N. Ridge, Bruce Edwards, 1612 N. Ridge and Lynn Ann Johnson who caught it on the same day, July 8.

Gary turned 11 and he invited Bill and Bob Blackmer, Larry Hogan, Tom Divine, Donald Speer and John Garland to play miniature golf and then baseball with him at Hasbrook Park.

Bruce, 9, had as guests Scott Edwards, George Scholten, Tom Duke, Tom Hartry, George Coker and Gary Caplinger. They had fun roasting wieners and marshmallows on the grill and whittled down the size of Bruce's cake, which was in the shape of a baseball diamond, each of the nine candles representing a baseball player. It was certainly most appropriate for this group of "Little Leaguers."

LYNN ANN'S second birthday actually was July 17, but she celebrated on July 8, also, at a family party at 1830 N. Walnut, with mother and dad, Joan and Ronald, in charge.

Another party on North Walnut this week for Mark Arnoux's fifth birthday, July 13th. On hand were Matt and Kim, Jeff and Kenny Miller, Scott Christiansen, Donna Batefuhr, Larry and Danny Peifer, Ricky Larson, Bruce Zeigler, Randy Schiavo, Billy, Susie and Mike Mummery, Scotty Archer and Chuck Murphy.

Joan Hetherington, 1540 N. Patton, was hostess at a demonstration and dessert July 11. The only "foreigner" in the group was the demonstrator, Courtney Norman, who lives at 1530 N. Kaspar. Everyone else was from Patton: Gloria Harrington, Doris Williams, Pat Milam, Anita Shields, Carol VanSickle, Doris Robinson, Lorraine Jassak, Jane Walsh, Diane Lanigan, Jean Baker and Betty Streit.

Gayle and Frank Pustaver, 707 Lynwood, recently attended the 10th reunion of Gayle's Arlington High class, held at the Golden Acres Country Club.

Bob and Lu Lavernway, 314 W. Maude, have started in a new business, so all their neighbors are making it their business to wish them the best of luck.

IT LOOKS AS if a broken nose is going to bench baseball player Don Keppler, 1802 N. Patton, for a while. He broke it while playing with the Hasbrook Hawks recently and had to undergo surgery before it could be set.

Dick Carleton, 1701 N. Ridge, 1st Lieut. U.S.A.R., is back from two weeks of training at Fort Eustis, Va. Diane spent the time visiting their families in the Boston area.

Apprentice Seaman George Burside, whose family lives at 1835 N. Ridge, is currently stationed at San Diego, Calif., in the Fleet Training Command, studying seamanship and radar.

Bob Thommes, Bill Coy's cousin, was a dinner guest of Jean and Bill, 1518 N. Ridge, a short time ago, while on vacation from his work in Saudi, Arabia. He's now on his way back to Arabia for another 2-year stay.

Bill and Elinor Anderson, 1839 N. Patton, had as weekend company recently, Bill's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hall, and daughter, Peggy, Madison, Wis.

Recent guests of George and Mary Jane Lee, 1525 N. Walnut, were Polly Ann Vaughan and Gerald Hartmann of St. Paul. Miss Vaughan is Mary Jane's sister.

EARLY MONTH guests at 1519 N. Kennicott were Harry Almberg's mother, Mrs. William Hatley, and his sister, Marilyn Gail Hatley of Bloomington. They stayed with Harry, Evelyn and children, Barbara and Ken, for a week.

Bob and Jean Piper, 1626 N. Chestnut, entertained Bob's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Woodfill, Henry, Ill., for a few days.

Sally Ann Reta is vacationing with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Salli, in the northwoods of Michigan. She returned with them to their home in Ishpeming after their weekend at the Reta home, 1519 N. Ridge.

Three-month-old Kathy gave Marge and Tom White, 1832 N. Patton, some anxious hours. She underwent a hernia operation July 11, but she's home now and recuperating nicely.

Michael Bradley Hartshorne, 1524 N. Walnut, Dick and Joan's new son, was christened July 8 in St. Thomas of Villanova Church.

Dick and Jackie Farrell, 1515 N. Kaspar, had their son, Christopher Walker, baptized last month in the Congregational Church of Arlington Heights.

THE OCCUPANTS of 1506 N. Ridge are John and Gloria Robinson, formerly of Richmond, Va., who moved in July 6. They have a son, Johnny, 4½ and a daughter, Cindy, 3½.

Not quite-so-new neighbors are Lee and Kathy Keener who, with Sheryl, Laura, and David, settled down at 1844 N. Patton last month.

Bob and Pat Freeman, 1809 N. Kennicott, have left Hasbrook. Bob, captain in the Marines, was transferred to Cherry Point, N. C.

All Hasbrook was saddened by the death of Edwin Schlect, 1735 N. Fernandez. Deepest sympathy is extended to his family.

While Peck's on the mound pitching out the news there's quite a backfield! Helping to report are Sylvia Nolan, Simone Peifer, Jo Ann Ruggeri, Jane McGee, Carol Van Sickle, Carolyn Walker, Jean Wood, Kathy Miller, Jean Constantine, Jean Coy, Beth Nielander, Lynn Kavanagh and Phyllis Bastien. (A

A pleasant reunion with a high school classmate, Elaine Johnson. Chicago, was enjoyed this week by Barbara Corrado, 2003 E. Lilac. Ceil Lyon, Barbara's mother, gave the ladies planty of free time to reminisce by baby-sitting with Barbara's youngsters, Karen and Vincent, and Elaine's children, Audrey and Alex.

CMDR. CREED Thomas and his wife, Marge, 1924 E. Jonquil, just returned from a family reunion vacation in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The Thomases, with their children, Linda, Stephen and Debbie, drove to Marian, Va., and visited Marge's mother, Mrs. Floyd Doyle, and Creed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thomas. Included in the reunion were Creed's sister and brother-in-law, the Floyd McConnells of Hot Springs, Ark., and another sister, Mrs. David Greear of Marian.

Barbara and Jim Coughlin, 1915 Maple, had Barbara's mother, Mrs. Rose Carsten of Chicago, for a week's visit. Chrissie, their 3-year-old, was delighted with her special privileges of later bedtime and extra spoiling and everyone enjoyed Barbara's birthday dinner at Nielsen's, Elmwood Park.

James Traynor, 1927 E. Elmwood, just finished his annual 2-week National Guard training course at Camp Ripley, Minn. Staff Sgt. Jim handled supplies while at camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Knuttel, 1701 Jonquil, have returned from a 2-week vacation in Philadelphia. Audrey and Norman and their children, Kim, Mark and Kerrie, spent a week with Audrey's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Malcolm Eichner of Germantown, and their second week with Norman's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Knuttel of Lawndale.

WHILE VISITING in Philadelphia, the Knuttels had many one-day excursions, including a day in the Pocono Mountains visiting Audrey's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams, and her grandfather, L. G. Williams. The big event of the vacation for Norman was catching three large flounders at Corsens Inlet, N. J. The big event for the rest of the family was a day at Atlantic City, N. J., spending the greater part of it on the steel pier.

Dr. Fred Kohn and wife, Mary Ellen, vacationed in Cleveland with friends, Ken and Jackie Lyons. They drove there with their youngsters, Freddie and Susie, and made the most of every day there, visiting the zoo, playing golf and sightseeing. They were quite excited about their trip to Cedar Point, located on Lake Erie. Their description of this kiddyland - loved obviously by adults, too - tempts listeners to include this spot in next year's itinerary.

Robert Zimmer, 1823 Lilac, has been away at camp in Heart Butte, N. D., for two weeks, where from all reports, the boys, really go in for "roughing it." Rations are doled out at mealtime and the boys build their own fires, cook their meals and clean up thoroughly. Sleeping out, self-laundering, foot travel and the like indicates a vigorous but healthy routine for a 12 year-old boy.

Police Get Tipoff from Girl, 10

A 10-year-old girl gave Arlington Heights police a lead on vandals Tuesday after a painter discovered paint smeared all over the interior of a new house at 2023 E. Davis.

Paulette Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Payne, 2004 Eastman Court, reported that she and a friend had seen a teenage youth and three other persons near the house Monday evening.

THE PAINTER, Trygve Ims of Chicago, who discovered the damage, said it had occurred sometime between 4:30 p.m. Monday and 8 a.m. Tuesday.

FROM RIDGE PARK

Virginia's historical sites and the Pennsylvania Dutch country were destinations for the Harry Phillipp family, now home at 644 N. Salem after a 2-week vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Phillipp and Marjorie visited Pat's sister and family, the M. Clyde Reamys, of McLean, Va., five miles from Washington. They stopped at the White House, saw the Senate in session, the changing of the guard at Arlington National Cemetery and toured the Bureau of Printing and Engraving.

Lee's mansion, Monticello, and Ash Lawn, President Monroe's house, as well as Mount Vernon gave Marjorie a glimpse into the homes of an earlier era.

In the land of blue gates and hex signs, the Phillipps toured the Hershey chocolate factory and a pretzel factory. They were invited to an Amish farm and met some of the "plain people."

Returning via New York State and Ontario, they stopped at Corning Glass Works, Watkins Glen and Niagara Falls.

TWO BIRTHDAYS in one weekend gave the Harry A. Kunberger family, 926 N. Kennicott, a double chance to celebrate. Jim is 15 now, and Mr. Kunberger also observed his birthday. On hard for both events was Mr. Kunberger's mother, Mrs. Joseph E. Kunberger, of Philadelphia, now visiting Arlington Heights. Saturday they were joined by the Jack Barrys of Park Ridge and Ernest Schotts of Evanston, while Sunday the Lee Doggetts and the Normans, both of Chicago, came out.

Back in time for the celebration was the Kunbergers' daughter, Lynn, home from a month in Saginaw, Mich. with her uncle and aunt, the R. J. Stringers. The Kunbergers spent four days there when they drove up to bring Lynn home.

Birthday congratulations go to Michael Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Grant, 819 N. Salem, who turned six on Wednesday.

Ridge Park welcomes new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Paxton, to 721 N. Kaspar, in the former Myslo home. Mr. Paxton teaches biology at Arlington High School and Mrs. Paxton teaches physical science at Prospect High School. They have been in Arlington Heights five years. The Paxtons recently returned from visiting Mr. Paxton's parents, the D. D. Paxtons, and other relatives in Hedrick, Iowa. Now Mrs. Paxton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Davis of Mattoon, are house guests here.

Two weeks in Florida provided fun and excitement for Gail and Ginny Gaenzle and their cousin, Barbie. Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Gaenzle, 1016 N. Harvard, they visited their aunt, Mrs. Cecile Stewart in Bradenton. They enjoyed the Miss Florida pageant and Cypress Gardens. Meg, their sister, was 8 on Thursday and celebrated with a small neighborhood party. Among her guests were Kathy Andre, Diane Kelly, Joanne Sokolski, Danette Harmon, Kathy McCraig and Jackie McCoy.

NORTHERN and walleyes were targets on the fishing vacation of Mr. and Mrs. Len Rodewald, now home at 803 N. Fernandez after two weeks at Red Lake, Ontario.

A busy weekend is in store at the Warren Bless home, 615 W. Vine. Darlene, 5 on Thursday, plans to celebrate Friday with a small party. Among her guests will be Kathy Wood and Donna Hasbach of Palatine. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Christ of Chicago are expected for supper, and on Saturday the Donald Bless family of Chicago will join the family for dinner. The Blesses' older daughter, Jacquie, returned Monday from Hickory Hill.

Pike and pan fish were in abundance at Siren, Wis., and the J. J. Shaffer family had a good catch. Now they have returned to 917 N. Harvard. Although Greg was 11 June 20, they celebrated his birthday last week. His guests enjoyed supper at the Shaffer home; then left for miniature golf at Palatine, and returned for cake and ice cream. Helping him celebrate were Paddy Donahue, Tom Lightner, Buddy Janis, Kenneth Terry and Bobby Ekstrand.

Weekend camping trips gave two Ridge Park families the chance to use their camping trailers. The F. Deane Shumates and the Henry Inselbergers, both of Salem Street, spent three days at Lake Le-Aqua-Na, Ill.

FROM SHERWOOD

Sherwood residents are planning several parties in honor of the George Thiemans, 1122 N. Patton. The Thiemans and their children, Greg, Scott and Doug, are being transferred to Frankfort, Germany, and expect to leave before the end of the summer.

Saturday the Paul F. Cooks were hosts at their home, 1125 N. Princeton, in conjunction with the members of Mrs. Thieman's bridge club, for a barbecue. Their guests included the Roger Rydens, M. L. Burgesses, David Kenyons, the Robert Fernstroms, former Sherwood residents, Mrs. Herbert Conner and Francis McGrath. Mr. McGrath, Mrs. Cook's brother-in-law, is visiting from Silver Spring, Md.

The John A. Robertson family, 1110 W. Clarendon Road, has returned from an Eastern trip. Their son, Lt. (j.g.) John Stephen Robertson, was married July 7 in a military ceremony at Newport, R.I. His bride was the former Patricia Reardon, of Newport. Neil, his brother, was best man, and Sheila, his sister, was a bridesmaid. After the ceremony, Neil left for Norfolk, Va., to take his Navy summer cruise and Sheila left for Europe.

A NEW GRANDSON for the David Kenyons, 1226 W. Clarendon Road, brought rejoicing. Richard Allan Schwartz Jr., was born July 12. The baby and his parents have been visiting the Kenyons, and left Monday for Chicago. This fall the Schwartzes will be moving to Arlington Heights.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and two children of Greenwich, Conn., were guests at the W. L. Johnson home, 1308 Watling Rad, during the past week. Mrs. Murphey is the former Janet Johnson. Thursday the Johnsons had a family reunion when their son and family, the William Johnsons, of Deerfield, joined them for dinner. The Johnsons have also had as their guest Miss Marjorie Stauss, of St. Louis, Mo.

Jill Giuliani, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Giuliani, 1314 Watling Road, was honored recently at a shower in Clarendon Hills. The shower, given by Mrs. Orville A. Clapper, of Clarendon Hills and Mrs. Robert Anderson, of Arlington Heights, celebrated Jill's coming marriage in August to John P. Kennedy. Guests from Arlington Heights, Beloit and Chicago were present. (A

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

By C. D. Smith

Is College Education Important?

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "Mother and dad insist we children go to college to further our education. Could you tell me why it's so important? Do all parents feel this way?"

OUR REPLY: Unfortunately, thousands of parents desire college educations for their children, yet are unable to manage it financially. If your parents are able—or willing through sacrifice—to send you to college, you should consider yourself extremely fortunate.

A college education is important. In many well-paying fields, a college degree is a job requirement. A college graduate can expect a higher salary for his services than a high school graduate. The average employer believes the college grad better qualified to accept responsibility and is willing to "pay the difference," even though a high school grad might creditably perform the same job at less pay.

Specifically, the college student can direct his training toward a particular profession. He may become a doctor, dentist, or a lawyer.

On the other hand, let us assume there is a "family business" which you will take over some day. Why worry about the future if it's all mapped out for you? You should worry about it. If you hope someday to have something to pass on to your own children, you will have to be able to keep pace in this competitive world. Education enables you to do your best whatever you do.

Times have changed since mom and dad were youngsters. Only a small percentage of high school grads were lucky enough to go to college then. Now going to college is the dream of high school graduates everywhere . . . and it is a dream that may be fulfilled by the student who is capable.

On any college campus you might happen to choose, you may find students who work day and night to gain for themselves the advantages of a higher education.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Arlington Greens

Officers and directors of the Arlington Greens Community Association will meet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tomaso, 635 E. Clarendon, on July 31 at 8:30 p.m. Members are also invited to attend. Plans for the street dance will be completed at this meeting to be held on Aug. 17, weather permitting.

Both the women's and men's bridge groups are still accepting names for their substitute lists. Anyone interested in joining may call Cl 5-4102 for further information. The season's games will begin in September, the second Thursday of each month for the women and the third for the men.

NEW RESIDENTS in the Greens are James and Elinor Holtz who moved into their new home at 1161 N. Beverly Lane on June 25. New to the neighborhood, but not to Arlington Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Holtz formerly lived on Park Place. Mr. Holtz is an accountant for a Chicago firm.

More new residents are Henry and Marcella Salby who moved here July 18 from Racine. They have three children, 12-year-old Susan, Chuck, 10, and Mimi, 8. Mr. Salby is a store manager for S. S. Kresge Company.

The Don Schreiners, 1156 N. Beverly, returned last Tuesday from a 10-day vacation trip to Wisconsin. They were joined by the Bill Neilsen family of Euclid Avenue, for a week's stay at a resort on Birch Lake. Before returning home, they enjoyed a 3-day visit with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wagner, and other relatives in Marathon.

MR. AND MRS. Don Peterson, 701 E. Olive, jetted home last Friday evening from a week's business and pleasure trip to St. Louis.

Mary Coleman, 1170 N. Beverly Lane, returned home Saturday from a week's visit with grandmother, Mrs. Harold Yetter at Rochelle. The second week in July her brother, Jim, vacationed at Rochelle and the first week her sister, Jean, was there. Her stay also included a motor trip to Quincy for a brief visit with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Yetter.

Two weeks of cottaging and summer fun ended last Saturday for the George Mahoney family, 819 E. Olive. Kangaroo Lake near Bailey's Harbor was their vacation choice for this year.

THE HARRY Gildemeisters, 615 E. Olive, motored home on Sunday from a week's vacation. Summer cottaging near Sayner, Wis. and visiting relatives in the area kept the family busy during their stay.

After almost three weeks of vacationing in Wisconsin's north woods, in the Mercer area, the Leslie R. Shannon family arrived home last Thursday evening.

Paul Alan, month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foreman, 1111 N. Pine Court, was welcomed home by his parents, brother, Mark, and sister, Patti, on Monday of last week. The baby had remained in Northwest Community Hospital since his birth, June 25.

Twins to Open Dental Office in Arlington

Identical twins who "work well together" will open a dental office at 1010 S. State, Arlington Heights next Monday.

Drs. Don D. and Ron T. Smith, 31, say their joint practice will be convenient because they were trained together, have worked together and practice the same techniques.

Born in Des Plaines, the twins went to school in Chicago, took pre-medicine training at the University of Illinois branch in Chicago and earned their degrees at the Northwestern University Dental School in 1956.

THEN THEY both joined the Air Force, serving at San Antonio, Tex., and Drux Air Base in France.

But they don't do everything alike.

Dr. Don has been married for nine years and has four daughters, Susan, 6; Margaret, 5; Cathy, 4; and Joan, 2. He was recently discharged from the Air Force after six years' service and has moved with his family into a home at 935 S. Evergreen.

Dr. Ron was married just two months ago. He left the Air Force a years and a half ago and has been associated with Dr. J. F. Fahey of Des Plaines and Dr. Rolley C. Bateman of Palatine since. He and his wife are planning to move to Arlington as soon as they can find a home.

THE TWINS say their decisoin to enter dentistry "just happened." Each decided after pre-med work that this was his special interest.

"We came out here because we like the northwest area," Dr. Ron explained. "This office was available so we decided to settle in Arlington."

About $10,000 worth of equipment was required to stock their three-room office, which includes facilities for doing most of the laboratory work required.

"Dentistry has changed a lot in the past 10 years," Dr. Don noted concerning the equipment necessary to establish a new office. "Many new techniques and treatments have been discovered and put into practice."

THEY FIGURE they'll be able to help each other out when it comes to these techniques, for they worked and studied together through school, then spent four and a half years in adjoining offices in the Air Force.

The dentists are the sons of Mrs. Marguerite Smith, 403 N. Elmhurst, Mount Prospect.

New Hospital Slated In Elk Grove Village

Alexian Brothers, a Catholic order which operates a Chicago hospital, has received approval of its application for a grant to construct a new hospital in Elk Grove Village.

The announcement was made by Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, last Friday, July 20.

The action followed recommendations of the Illinois Advisory Hospital Council which met the day before with Dr. Yoder to consider applications from Alexian Brothers and several other Illinois hospitals.

ALSO APPROVED were an addition to the Sherman Hospital in Elgin and the new Central DuPage Community Hospital to be built in the Winfield-Wheaton area.

Construction funds are made available through the state public health department under the Hill-Burton law, a federal grant-in-aid program.

Illinois' share of federal funds is expected to be between $6 million and $7 million for the 12 months beginning July 1.

ADMINISTRATION of the state program is supported by state funds and federal funds are used entirely for construction. Actual amounts of grants for the approved projects will be determined after Illinois' propriation is known.

Brother Gregory, administrator at the Alexian Brothers Hospital, 1200 W. Belden, Chicago, said a formal announcement on the proposed Elk Grove hospital will be made in a few weeks.

The village zoning board will hold a public hearing on pre-annexation and re-zoning the 30-acre hospital site at the northeast corner of Biesterfield Parkway and Bisner at 8 p.m., Thursday, August 2, in the village hall, Landmeier and Tonne.

THE LAND is owned by Centex Construction Co. which is negotiating with Alexian Brothers. The land is now zoned for farming.

The only other hospital in the immediate area is Northwest Community in Arlington Heights which has 110 beds.

The new Elk Grove hospital is expected to relieve overcrowded conditions at Northwest Community.

Outside of Arlington Heights, the closest hospital facilities are in Elgin, Park Ridge and Des Plaines. (ACM

Board Refers Zone Requests for Area

Applications for rezoning of two property parcels in Wheeling and Elk Grove Township were referred to the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals by the county board last week.

Permission to erect an automobile service station on the northeast corner of Wolf Road and Euclid Avenue on a 1.4 acre plat is being sought.

The present property classification is for R-4 single family residence (10,000 sq. ft. lots). To build the service station a B-5 general commercial zoning is required.

IN ELK GROVE Township the Material Service Division of General Dynamics Corporation, is asking for M-2 general manufacturing zoning in an area now zoned for M-1 light or restricted manufacturing.

The five-acre site on the east side of Elmhurst Road is bounded on the south and east by the Chicago and North Western Railway and is located about 1,300 north of Devon Ave. (vacated).

The cement firm intends to place a cement mixing plant on the site.

Hearing dates for the two zoning cases will be announced by the zoning board of appeals. (ACM-EG

District Releases Borden from Bid

Borden Milk Co. was released from its milk bid by Arlington-Prospect High School District 214 Monday night after the firm told the school board their low bid of $.0525 per 1/3 quart was "in error."

The bid was given to the second low bidder on the milk supply contract, Sunflower Milk Distributors of Lake Zurich. The Sunflower firm supplies Dean's Milk. Their bid was $.0563 per 1/3 quart.

Both the original Borden bid and the Sunflower bid are below the low-bid price last year of $.059 by Bowman Milk Company.

IN WITHDRAWING its bid of $.0525, Borden explained the bid price was figured on the basis of half-pints (¼ quarts) rather than the 1/3 quarts stipulated in the bid forms.

School board members and school administrators generally agreed the bid could be binding, but that in the interest of good service for the school cafeteria and good public relations for the district the milk firm should be released from its bid.

Milk is sold to students of District 214 at a maximum cost of 2 cents per 1/3 quart, with the difference supplied through state and federal lunch and milk program funds. (ACM-E

'Operation Understanding' Is Exactly That for Civilians

by WARREN B. ROGERS
(First of three articles)

I'm sure that no one could have said "yes" quicker than I when Stuart R. Paddock asked me to act as his substitute on the "Operation Understanding" trip to Texas, New Mexico and Colorado Springs; for in addition to the fact that I would much rather travel than work, I wanted to see more of our "new style" armed forces in action.

I had already participated in the Marine Reserve "Operation Inferno" last year at Twenty-nine Palms and El Toro Airbase in California, and received a little basic training in modern "push-button" warfare at that time. The story of that trip appeared in Paddock Publications issues of Sept. 7, 1961.

We departed from the military area of O'Hare Field Tuesday morning, July 10 on an Airforce C-47, and with only one stop at Wichita, Kan. for lunch and refueling, arrived at El Paso, Texas, at 5 p.m. that afternoon.

WE WERE billeted in bachelor officers quarters at Ft. Bliss, and after a rapid clean-up, were driven to the border and walked over the bridge into Juarez, Mexico, where I had one of the finest and "cheapest" steaks I have had since inflation.

I won't attempt to comment further on Juarez, since I feel that this is an area that must be seen to be believed.

Wednesday morning we were driven to a series of briefings on the various missile systems. The welcoming session was handled by Brig. Gen. Stephan M. Mellnik, commanding general of Ft. Bliss, who explained that the sights we would see during the next few days, the people we would meet (he refers to them as "a new breed of cats"), and the information we would receive should bring us to the realization that citizens of the United States need not shudder every time "Mr. K. burps."

WE LEARNED that our present missile defense systems have made attacks by conventional jet aircraft completely obsolete since these missiles have been proven to score an "85 per cent kill" in practice firings.

We were also told that the personnel of all Nike batteries which are maintained around all strategic areas in our country and in many foreign, allied countries as well, are brought to McGregor Range, N. M., at least once each year to actually arm and fire their missiles at high speed drone target planes.

Our defensive missiles are of two basic types. HAWK (Homing-All-the-Way-Killer) has a built-in guidance system which responds to reflected signals beamed on the target from ground controled radar. HAWK missiles are effective against low flying aircraft but are also capable of scoring a direct hit on targets traveling in excess of 1,600 miles per hour at over 30,000 feet altitude.

GEN. MELLNIK described this missile as being comparable to a Frenchman with a keen sense of smell who was blindfolded and turned loose on a Paris boulevard to find a beautiful blonde who was meanwhile being sprayed with Chanel No. 5. HAWK missiles are relatively more expensive since their guidance mechanisms are costly and are of course lost on each firing.

NIKE missiles differ in that their guidance is from the ground, the missile itself containing only enough electronic equipment to move its control surfaces and direct the missile to the target. NIKE missiles have been with us since 1953 when the first Nike-Ajax battery went on site in the Washington-Baltimore area.

Our Nike site in Arlington Heights has been operational since June of 1955. The Arlington Heights site no longer has missiles, but is now the command post for the entire Chicago-Gary defense area and is equipped with the Missile Master which will be discussed in a later article.

THE NIKE-AJAX missile is effective at altitudes of over 60,000 feet and has a range of approximately 25 miles. The Ajax is gradually being replaced by the Nike-Hercules missile which is able to destroy at altitudes of more than 150,000 feet and has a range of 75 miles.

The Hercules can be armed with either conventional explosive charges or with a nuclear warhead which enables one missile to destroy whole formations of enemy aircraft. The greater range and effectiveness of the Hercules has enabled the 45th Artillery Brigade to reduce the number of missile sites in the Chicago-Gary defense area from 24 when only the Ajax missiles were operational to only 17 today, while also providing greater defensive potential.

The 45th Artillery Brigade is commanded by Brig. Gen. Kermit L. Davis, who took command in June, 1961.

THE LATEST missile in the Nike family, the Nike-Zeus was developed by Army Ordnance with the cooperation of Western Electric-Bell Telephone Laboratories and Douglas Aircraft Company. The Zeus is to date the Free World's only anti-missile missile and was designed to destroy intercontinental ballistic missiles and intermediate range ballistic missiles launched from shorter distances and from submarines.

The Zeus missile made headlines just last week, when it destroyed one of our Atlas ICBM's at a range of 4,000 miles. This missile is capable of operating outside the atmosphere of the earth at astounding speeds and is armed with a nuclear warhead. Like the earlier Nike weapons, the Zeus is a surface-to-air missile guided to its target by ground based radar computers.

The army now considers the Nike-Zeus ready to be placed "on site" around all strategic centers in this country but this program is being held back due to the fact that the necessary funds have not yet been appropriated by Congress.

DURING THE briefings, cutaway models of each missile were displayed showing the various compartments containing fuel, explosive payload and controlling mechanism. A complete set of battery radar and controls was used to demonstrate the manner in which targets are located, their hostile nature determined and the missile is launched for interception.

Movies of actual firings of the various missiles were shown in which long range and infra-red cameras recorded the destruction of the target.

Next week we will attempt to explain more fully the method by which these missiles are launched and directed unerringly to their targets and report on the firings we witnessed at McGregor Range.

MY COMPANIONS on this trip were Wayne Brennan, president of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce; Clarence Hendrickson, one of our Arlington Heights realtors; Edwin Griswold, president of Roycemore, Inc., of Wheaton; Glenn Westlake, superintendent of Lombard schools; Jeff Kurland, student of Mather High School in Chicago and winner of a 1962 Science Award; and William Rankin, one of Jeff's teachers at Mather High School.

We were joined at Ft. Bliss by two larger groups of civilians from the Washington-Baltimore defense area and from South Dakota. These groups included the governor of South Dakota and the Mayor of Baltimore. (A-14

THE ENTIRE NIKE FAMILY of missiles on display at Ft. Bliss, Texas, (above) indicates the relative size of the earliest Ajax (farthest from the camera), the Hercules in the center, and the recently perfected anti-missile missile in the foreground.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to help keep freedom in your future for $4.33 a week

The sum of $4.33 a week will buy you a dozen Savings Bonds in a year. A few years of this and you'll be $1,000 richer.

Nothing wrong with being rich. The more savings strength we have as individuals, the more strength we have as a Nation.

But there are some other rather remarkable wheels you set in motion when you buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

As your Bond dollars grow, your country uses them to protect the things America stands for. And to make sure that you and your family will always enjoy the freedoms which a handful of brave Americans set their names to on July 4, 1776.

Buy Bonds for freedom now. All you need to make this investment is a few dollars a week and a belief in America.

Buy an extra Bond during the Freedom Bond Drive

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. Savings Bonds

Mosquitoes Related to Politics?

Democrats 'Breed' On District Board

by JOHN REDDY

If the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District is as effective in eliminating mosquitoes as it is in creating a healthy climate for the Cook County Democratic Organization, suburban residents soon may be able to toss away their bug-chasing tonga torches.

While debate has been raised in connection with the various insecticides used in the abatement of nuisance bugs and tree diseases, some northwest area residents have been looking askance at the district's political complexion.

It all started in December of 1960, when four of the district's trustees arrived at a meeting to find they had been unknowingly ousted. Three of the members, Matthew Cockrell of Arlington Heights, Dr. Henry Chakoian, DDS, of Mount Prospect, and Victor Petersen of Wheeling had hoped to continue serving the district. The fourth member "replaced" was John F. Morrisey of Hoffman Estates.

REPLACING THE trustees who had nurtured the district from infancy in 1957, were Richard C. Crandall of Palatine, Walter J. Wells of Mount Prospect, Richard A. David of Hoffman Estates, and Jacob Goldman of Barrington.

One disgrunted employe reported that "you now have to know somebody to get in, somebody with influence." He told a reporter for Paddock Publications that "guys who worked 2, 3 and 4 years now can't get back on."

The change in hiring practices arrived with the new board, he said.

CRANDALL, president of the district, is the son-in-law of William Payes, director of the Illinois Department of Public Works, an appointment filled by Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner.

Wells is executive vice president of the Elk Grove Towndent of the lk Grove Townganization as president; and Goldburg Township Democratic Orga nization as president; and Goldman is treasurer of the Barrington Township Democratic Organization.

Crandall has stated that employes are hired on the basis of qualifications. Walter Christopher, only carryover member on the board—and a Republican, said he was not aware of any form of hiring practice bearing resemblence to patronage.

HOWEVER, IT IS the opinion of one responsible individual who is close to the workings of the abatement district that Technical Director Wilbur Mitchell may have been subjected to some pressures shortly after the change of the trustees.

The complainant, who alleged the need for "influence" in order to be hired, said Mitchell "has nothing to do with this. Superficially, he does the hiring, but actually it is the board . . . he takes criticism from all sides."

Soon after the new members of the board assumed office, David Bradshaw, Chicago attorney, Palatine resident, and a Democratic candidate for state senator in the 3rd district, was hired. He replaced the firm of Essington, McKibben, Beebe and Pratt, which had served since formation of the district.

GOLDMAN, described in the annual report as an administrator of transportation, was immediately made treasurer of the district, replacing Christopher who was made vice president.

Cockrell said the displaced trustees had considered calling attention to the new appointments, but decided against it. However, he did express disappointment at the way Christopher was shifted from the treasurer's position. "He's as good a treasurer as any civic organization could have," Cockrell said this week.

Actually, Christopher still shoulders the bulk of the financial work, combining with Goldman and the Groh, Gough Co., auditors.

GOV. KERNER had appointed the original trustees when he was serving as Cook County Judge. The four December appointees were named by the present county judge, Thaddeus Adesko, a Democrat.

Former trustee Dr. Chakoian, said none of the replaced trustees had been notified that their terms of office were about to expire nor that there were other candidates being considered.

When Christopher was re-appointed trustee by Kerner it was automatic. Kerner, as Cook County judge, has a reputation of not having permitted political considerations to become factors in making appointments to trusteeships in special districts.

One former trustee said he felt it was only reasonable that the trustees reflect the philosophy (Republican) of the residents of the district trustees serve.

Only recently, the abatement district insurance accounts were transferred to Roy LaLonde, Palatine Realtor and insurance agent. This information is not included in minutes of the board of trustee meetings.

LaLONDE IS A former Democratic committeeman in Palatine Township and a staunch supporter of the local Democratic organization.

Crandall was paid $500 by the district to attend a mosquito abatement convention held in March in Texas. The convention, however, is described as "educational."

Previously, the technical director, who accompanied Crandall, always attended the convention with one of the full-time employes.

THERE ARE three full-time employes and approximately 40 part-time employes serving the district, which covers 245 square miles and overlays eight Cook County Townships.

The district received $165,201 from 1960 taxes. (A-14

Another Solicitor Is Arrested Here

A charge of soliciting without a permit has been filed by Arlington Heights police against a book salesman who represents the same company as another who reportedly said he gets a bonus if he "gets cops to put him in jail."

Norman G. Berg, sales and field manager for the Richards Co., Inc., Chicago, will be tried Aug. 8 on the charge. He was picked up Monday with another man on the complaint of Herbert Sass, 1115 W. Hawthorn.

The other man, Soheil Sahari, was freed after Berg told police Sahari was a sales trainee accompanying him to witness a sales demonstration.

A THIRD MAN representing the Richards Co., Gary Polakoff, was picked up by police on a similar complaint Saturday.

Police attributed the comment about the bonus to him, although he later denied it. He also declared that he had been in jail twice last week and his employer always bails him out, police reported.

Palakoff was advised to get a permit and given a warning by police about misrepresentation and his conduct in public. No charges were filed by the complainant. (A

Local Family Travels Country in 'Class'

"When we travel, we go first class," says Henry Inselberger of 740 N. Salem, Arlington Heights.

And he means it, though he and his wife and three children have just completed a five-week, 8,000-mile trip for a total cost of just $738 and "some odd cents."

The Inselbergers traveled throughout the West from June 9 through July 16 with a camping trailer thoroughly equipped by Inselberger.

"All we needed were washrooms and water," he explained. The trailer, which hooks on behind the family car, is outfitted with beds, specially constructed suitcases and kitchen and bathroom cabinets, two tables, a three-burner gas stove, an oven, lantern, ice box and heating unit.

THIS WAS THE first big trip for most of the family — Jerry, 17, Gregory, 12, and Susan, 9, had never gone farther than St. Paul, Minn., or Terre Haute, Ind. And it was only the second camping trip for Mrs. Inselberger; her only previous experience was a one-night "trial run" at Timberlake Park near Antioch May 21.

But they're all confirmed campers now. They hit the road again last weekend, staying at Le-Auqa-Na Lake in northwest Illinois last Friday through Sunday, and plan to go out this weekend, after "we check the books to find a good spot."

"The books," full of camping tips and travelers' advice and gathered from all over the country, helped make the family's western trip.

INSELBERGER pointed out a shopping bag and box full of maps and suggestions as he explained how he laid out the trip.

"I went out and bought the trailer last September, then came home and told my wife we were going to Seattle," he related. "That's when we started making plans."

Their trip finally took them to the Seattle World's Fair and 11 national parks, on a jagged route through the Badlands, Black Hills, Big Horn and Grand Teton Mountains, Yellowstone, Grand Coulee Dam, Crater Lake, San Francisco, Dinosaur Monument, Yosemite, King's Canyon, Sequoia National Park, Disneyland, Lake Mead, Las Vegas, Hoover Dam, Salt Lake City, Zion National Park, Grand Canyon, the Rocky Mountains and Estes Park.

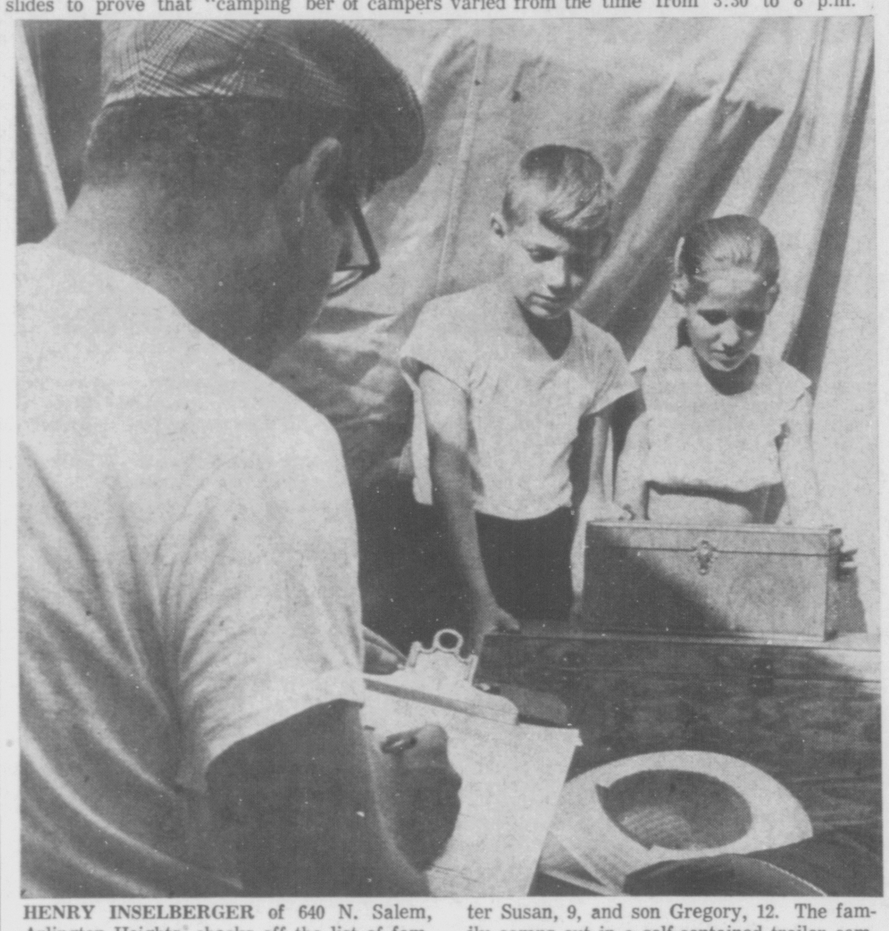
THEY HAVE 360 colored slides to prove that "camping is really the life."

The family stayed at state or national parks, or private camping grounds all but one night, when they had to find space at a trailer court. Costs varied from $1 to $2.25 per night.

Faciilties for campers are getting better and better, Inselberger said, especially at national parks, where the number of campers varied from the 10's to the 100's.

Food costs were kept to a minimum, because the family did most of its own cooking.

THEY WERE ON their way by 8:30 most mornings after breakfast in the trailer. At noon they stopped in town parks for lunch of hamburgers or sandwiches prepared in the morning, and nights they fixed supper after pulling into camp any time from 3:30 to 8 p.m.



HENRY INSELBERGER of 640 N. Salem, Arlington Heights, checks off the list of family camping supplies with the help of daughter Susan, 9, and son Gregory, 12. The family camps out in a self-contained trailer completely outfitted by Inselberger.

Minor repairs for the car totaled less than $50 and the trailer had only one mishap, a blown-out tire.

"And we couldn't have asked for better traveling weather, though we were prepared for anything," Inselberger said. It only rained twice on their whole trip — the day they left home and the day they returned.

The highest temperature was 99 on the Mojave Desert; the lowest, 32 at Yellowstone.

THE CAMPING bug bit Inselberger during his days in the Army, when he served as a cook. He has carried his contagious enthusiasm to Scouts during the past eight years, working with Cubs, Boy Scouts and Explorers.

Son Jerry picked up the bug, too, during his years in Scouts. Mrs. Inselberger is a Bluebird leader and daughter Susan, a Campfire girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Inselberger are program co-chairmen for the Arlington, Palatine and Barrington Wheel Go chapter of the National Campers and Hikers Association. Started last November, the local group has a membership of 32 families and hopes to increase interest this year.

Five of the families participated in the Le-Auqa-Na Lake camp-out with the Inselbergers last weekend, and plans are set for another outing Aug. 17, 18 and 19 at Timberlake Park.

Symphony Conductor To Attend Seminar

Melvin Kasen, conductor of the Arlington Heights Civic Symphony Orchestra, will have an opportunity to practice while learning at an advanced conducting seminar the next two weeks.

He plans to attend the July 29-Aug. 10 Peninsula Symposium for Conducstor at Fish Creek, Wis., where he will work with the Peninsula Symphony Festival while studying. The seminar is jointly sponsored by the University of Wisconsin and the Peninsula Symphony Festival Organization.

ABOUT 20 to 25 conductors from all over the country will participate under the tutelage of Dr. Thor Johnson, director of the Chicago Little Symphony, and Dr. Julius Herford, professor of music at Westminster College, Princeton, N. J. Johnson is past director of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra and Herford is a former director of the Volks - Musik Schul, Berlin.

Arlington Symphony rehearsals for a September lawn concert will begin shortly after Kasen returns from the school.

The concert, tentatively set for Sept. 9 at Hasbrook Park, will kick off the season for the eight - month - old symphony. The orchestra, which now has a membership of 35 to 40, hopes to develop into a full symphony organization of about 75-100, according to Paul Roy, chairman of the board.

HE SAID THE group welcomes the membership of all interested adults in the area.

Eventually, he said, orchestra members would like to set up an artistic workshop from which community organizations could draw for special performances.

The orchestra is a non - profit organization, he noted, and depends to a great extent on the backing of civic organizations for its success. (A

Services of the Christian Church are held at 10:45 a.m. at the Miner Junior High School. A church building is now being erected.

A Message From J. T. Keefer, Your Pharmacist

FREEDOM OF CHOICE.
In our wonderful country we have the right to enjoy many other freedoms besides the privilege of worshipping under the guidance of the religion we prefer.

YOU CAN CHOOSE YOUR PHARMACIST.
The purchasing of prescriptions, medicines, health-aids and sick room needs is almost as personally confidential as a visit to a physician.

TELL YOUR PHYSICIAN THE NAME OF THE PHARMACY YOU PREFER.
If you wish your physician to phone your prescription he will then call the pharmacy you want to entrust with this important duty.

PHYSICIANS WELCOME THIS REQUEST.
Their Code of Ethics does not permit, even a physician financially interested in a clinic owned by physicians to tell you where you must have your prescriptions filled. Sometimes, a busy physician may forget to ask you the name of your pharmacy, but he will be glad to comply with your request.

WE CAN FILL ANY PRESCRIPTION..
Should you ever have to consult a physician in another city, when possible bring the prescription back home for compounding. You can then have it more conveniently refilled and the formulae will be in our records should your local physician want the information.

Two Mothers Solve 'Costume' Dilemma

Suburban Living

Especially for Women

ANITA SNYDER SKETCHES all the various types of costumes she and her partner can make. Sometimes they use patterns they purchase, other times they improvise and design whatever a customer wants.

THE PERFECT MATCH for the Hawaiian skirt is found by Donna. The girls are busy at the present time making costumes for the many Hawaiian Luaus being given in the northwest suburban area.

Business Venture Proves to Be Fun

by MELDA LYNN

As anyone knows who has ever taken part in a play, a dance recital, attended the Mardi Gras or a masquerade ball — dressing in a costume is fun.

It's fun, that is, if the costumed party-goers haven't had to spend antagonizing hours making a costume — or spent frustrating hours going from store to store trying to find the right accessories for the costume.

For some artistically inclined, making a costume for Janie's ballet recital, dressing Junior as a knight-in-shining-armor for the teen-age school dance - or coming up with a prize winning costume for the club social masquerade, - is a snap!

BUT NOT FOR most! Many an artist can't sew a seam. Making a costume is a chore. . .an expense. . .and a time consuming bother.

For two Rolling Meadows housewives, however, making costumes for their children, themselves and their friends is FUN.

Donna Ragland and Anita Snyder, as neighbors often do, were visiting one day - talking about what the kids were doing - their latest homemaking projects - and other "woman" talk.

ANITA HAD just for the dozenth time, finished making dance recital costumes for her two girls. This led to the discussion of one of their favorite hobbies - making things - unusual things - unusual flower arrangements - decorative accessories for their homes - and smart clothes.

They decided their mutually shared hobby was certainly one which brought them many hours of fun - and broke up the routine of normal housekeeping.

"I love making costumes for the girls (ages 12 and 8) and I enjoy seeing them perform on stage in the brilliant finery, but there the fun ends," Anita told Donna, her across-the-street-neighbor.

"After the ball is over - the problem emerges and I find myself saying, 'What will I do with these beautiful costumes?' "

DONNA AGREED that while her children were boys and didn't wear frilly skirted ballet costumes, they had been in a few plays - and she and her husband, Roger, had attended some masquerade parties - and the problem of storing the costumes was one which caused an over-crowding of storage space.

One word led to another until without realizing it, the women had solved a problem for other northwest suburban families - and found a way to spend their evenings having fun - making costumes—to rent - or to sell. They decided to turn their love for making costumes - into an avocation.

They transformed an enclosed garage at the Ragland home into a gaily decorated costume workroom and named it the Harlequin Shop.

Elden Snyder and Roger Ragland, while they joke about soon being able to retire, actually are so proud of their wives and so fascinated with work their wives are turning out, they spend many of their free hours during the evening in the shop trying on the costumes, making suggestions and giving some friendly advice.

BOTH WOMEN, who have made their own clothes since they were school girls, are excited about each costume they make. They take special pains to make them individual and not like the run-of-the-mill ones which can be rented in large commercial establishments.

If a customer wants a certain kind of costume, the girls make it for that particular customer, so it will fit her and can be adjusted to fit another size, if the customer doesn't want to purchase the garment.

In this way they plan to build up their stock for rental.

They are especially busy at this time of the year making Hawaiian grass skirts, muu muus and sarongs for the many luaus being held in the area. During one of the warmest days of this summer, they got a request for a Santa Claus outfit.

A GROUP IN Palatine holds an annual "dress-up" party each year, stressing a different theme. This year's party will be a Greek party, with guests dressing in Grecian warrior an Grecian Goddess type costumes.

Making a hat for a warrior has taken some ingenuity, all part of the fun of making costumes.

The girls have scrounged around and found spears and other Grecian accessories for the guests as well.

Some of the customers will purchase the costumes when they are finished. Others will rent them and turn them back to the shop to become a part of the stock available to others.

ANITA SKETCHES and designs many of the costumes. She has sketched costumes for the Gay 90's, Japanese, Can Can, French Apache, Harem Girls, Ben Casey, the devil, Cleopatra, Playboy Bunny and many others for every conceivable occasion.

Donna's specialty lies in finding materials and ways to make the accessories, such as the warrior's hat. They put their sewing and designing talents together and come up with costumes which are authentic, yet original.

They are constantly on the watch for accessories, not only for costumes, but also to go with a particular party theme, so hostesses can rent "atmosphere" to go with their event.

They have made palm trees, fashioned elaborate fans, leis, hair ornaments, masks and even wigs.

BECAUSE THEY have full time jobs as homemakers, their avocation, naturally, must come when the household chores are finished, and when the children are in bed and father home to listen while they sleep. They do most of their work at night, sometimes working until the wee hours, in order to finish a particular costume.

While their hands are busy sewing and fashioning the unusual - their brains are busy - dreaming of ways to make new - more interesting - and beautiful costumes. They get their fun by helping those who will wear their fashions have the fun of the occasion - without the work.

A GREEK WARRIOR'S HAT was "fun" to make, according to these two Rolling Meadows housewives who have recently turned their hobby into an avocation. They spend their evenings making costumes of all types, for rent or sale. The operators of The Harlequin Shop are Donna Ragland, left, and Anita Snyder.

Civil War Story Told At Museum

A U.S. Army exhibit depicting the military significance of the Civil War will be featured at the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry, July 26 to Aug. 12.

This interesting and educational exhibit—produced by the Army's Chief of Information in collaboration with the Civil War Centennial Commission—is free and open to the public.

THROUGH THE medium of electronics, viewers can see the entire scope of this great conflict unfold,—from the attack on Fort Sumter to the surrender at Appomottox four years later.

A motion picture presents other battle scenes, and a series of colorful cutaways depicts the war's big guns—forerunners of the Army's modern artillery.

One section of the exhibit emphasizes the Army's continuing search for better ways of caring for its wounded and compares the medical facilities of 100 years ago with those of today's Army. (T

You and Your Problems

Hassel Erupts Over Attending Theatre

by GERARD G. NEUMAN Ph.D.

Dear Dr. Neuman,

Summer always brings the same argument between my husband and myself. I love live drama and with summer theatres so close, I feel we ought to see a few plays. My husband would rather stay home and watch television.

He tells me to go ahead and buy tickets for anything I want to see and he'll go along. But I want him to make plans for the evening, so I'll feel that he's really a part of it and that I'm not just dragging him along. I don't feel right if I make him see something he doesn't want to see. On the other hand, I know I'll be very angry if we don't take in some of the good shows the summer theatres offer. Either way, I don't feel right.

Mrs. Q.

If your husband will go to the theatre with you, he either enjoys it more than you think, or he is doing something to please you. Either way, you can feel very right about it.

DR. NEUMAN

In a healthy marriage there is room for difference. Although a husband and wife should agree on the basic important questions, no two people can be exactly alike.

In fact, a wife who insists that her husband see everything exactly her way is trying to dominate him. She is not able to respect him as an individual, which is part of a more mature marital relationship.

Each individual is unique, and recognizing and accepting differences adds spice and variety to marriage. There are many times that a wife may be bored spending time with her husband's friends, but on the other hand he may be equally bored attending a concert with her. Still, they may do these things together because being together is more important than how the time is spent.

IN A SENSE, they take turns pleasing each other, but they may also learn to enjoy people or activities they would never have known before.

I think another part of your problem, Mrs. Q., goes back to earlier feelings and experiences. Most of us still have a Puritan conscience, which makes us feel that pleasure is wrong. There seems to be something almost sinful about planning for a good time for ourselves.

If someone else makes the plans, then we can go along and enjoy ourselves with less guilt, because it was the other person's idea.

WHEN YOU are a child, your parents are usually the ones who plan the "treats." Maybe you are looking to your husband to take your parents' place, wanting him to make all the arrangements and give you permission to have a good time.

If you really enjoy summer theatre, you should feel free to go to plays that you can afford from time to time. If your husband will go along with you, so much the better.

If you have any questions or comments you want to direct to Dr. Neuman, address your letter to Box B-18, c/o Paddock Publications, 217 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights, Illinois. Confidentiality will be respected. (SF

Quite Contrary by Mary

A Second Childhood

I feel that I am entering that period of life known as ones second childhood. I'm not equipped for it. I also didn't expect it. I thought that middle age (middle of what?) was the time for slowing down and enjoying ones aches and pains. I've also heard a lot about growing old gracefully. Believe me I way trying.

MARY

Back when I was a child, I was rather the tomboy type. I like to think that I was just plain athletically inclined. You name it and I took it up. I started as a tree climber, graduated to hopscotch, tag and O'Leary. As age crept up on me, I went out for baseball, soccer, field hockey, volley ball, basketball, swimming and tennis. I won't say that I was stellar at any of them but, boy, I was in there every time doing and dying for dear old Rutgers. It wasn't really Rutgers, more like East High School.

Just think. For years I held the championship of the family for standing on my head the longest. Was I ever glad when one of my athletic girls defeated me in the accomplishment and I could retire from the field knowing I wouldn't have to do that anymore. Rather a silly thing, standing on ones head.

One by one I dropped these sports. It wasn't too easy finding a group of women who are ready for a little basketball or soccer. About fifteen years ago I decided that I didn't care to invite a heart attack by dashing madly over the tennis court. I still swim a bit. Like the side stroke or coasting along on my back. Gone is that old strong Australian crawl. In its place is sort of an old woman's slosh. I did take up golf about four years ago because I was led to understand age didn't interfere with ability.

Unfortunately, it rather looks as though I am going to have to come out of retirement. My 12-year-old wanted to learn to dive. All I could show her was how to bounce the board. I'm scared witless of going off the end. But, I'm still a great board bouncer. Now she has taken up tennis. Her Father, bless him, bought two rackets. Not one. Two. One for her and one for me. Isn't that jim dandy? So here I go. Next stop, hopscotch, tag and maybe O'Leary.

Travel Challenge

Dear Peg:

The children, the suitcases, the dog and I set out Monday morning, in a light drizzling rain, for our annual visit in Indianapolis. It is always a challenge, seeing just how we can arrange all the suitcases (enough for a 2-week stay) and the six of us (Daddy has to stay home and work) and still be comfortable for five and a half hours. But this year came the real test. After considering the fact that Captain would have to stay in solitary, with nothing but food and water for two weeks (a kennel would be so expensive for two weeks) and after convincing ourselves that Nana would love to see him — yes, we were so convinced that we decided not to tell her ahead of time — we faced the problem of just what part of the station wagon he would occupy.

We met the challenge on! Patrick, Joseph and Deirdre sat on the suitcases on the front seat with me (I didn't sit on a suitcase, but I thought I was going to have to for a while). Megan and Bridget occupied the second seat and the rest of the suitcases and Captain filled the floor of the third section.

Departure time was set for 9 a.m. Promptly at 11 we departed. This station wagon always runs behind schedule. Needless to say, this was very poor timing. Everyone had awakened around 6 a.m., had breakfast and were ready to go — everyone except Mama.

Now, when we were only 30 miles from home, rolling nicely down the tollway, they were all famished. I insisted that we wait until we get to the Indiana line before we make our first stop. This was to be one of five stops we were to make before arriving in Indianapolis around 5:30 p.m. At each filling station or refreshment stand, as the case may be, Megan jumped out with Captain and the rest of us would go in and order something for her. After she had refreshed Captain, she would return him to the car and join us.

It was only at the last stop that Captain balked at getting back into the car. However, Megan took the front end and I took the back end and we lifted him into his assigned space.

Nana was so happy to see us that she didn't even mind Captain's visiting too — I don't think she'd have minded a cage full of gorillas as long as we were there too — she's funny that way.

My love,
Patty

Woman's Club Keeps Active In Summer

Mrs. Emil Sporleder last week ended her two years as chairman of Veterans' Service of the Mount Prospect Woman's Club, with the packaging of gifts to be delivered to veterans in Hines Hospital. These articles, representing the accomplishments during the past year of the Veterans' Service Group, include 95 pairs of scuffies, 92 bedside bags filled with toilet articles, 21 decks of playing cards, five knitted lap robes, and a selection of clean used clothing.

ANOTHER department of the club whose service extended into the summer months is the Public Health Department. Mrs. T. Ice Cream Social To Aid Indians

An invitation is extended to all members and friends of Arlington Heights Woman's Club by Mrs. Foster Pedersen, chairman, Indian Affairs, to an ice cream social Wednesday, Aug. 1, from 2 to 4 p.m. at 809 E. Davis St.

Proceeds of this social will be used to purchase school supplies and clothing for needy Indian children of the Chicago area returning to school in September.

Mrs. Pedersen and her committee have been active this summer gathering clothing and food donated by members of the club and neighbors of Arlington Heights and surrounding areas for needy Indian families.

"THE NEED of these Indians coming to the Chicago area from reservations because of the Indian rehabilitation program of the government is extremely great, "commented Mrs. Pedersen." They are in dire need of food, clothing and financial assistance until they adjust to different types of employment and living conditions and are gainfully employed. It is a privilege for the women of Arlington Heights to assist these unfortunate American Indian families," she concluded.

Aqualand Animals Make Maternity Ward Jump

by JEAN WELCH

Travel and Adventure

Having written quite a bit about Wisconsin in the last couple of weeks, I was going to give Wisconsin a pass this week in this column that is made up of travel notes from here and there.

Then came big news from Aqualand, the wildlife sanctuary near Boulder Junction, Wisc., that the maternity ward is doing a thumping business.

"Baby," the seven-year-old Wisconsin black bear, has just had a litter of four cubs: "Silver," the timber wolf, has swelled the population by five pups and "Lillie," the wildcat, now has three new kittens.

Aqualand is a perfect place to take the children, for in addition to infant wild animals, which are always a thrill, many educational facts about native flora and fauna will be painlessly absorbed.

AQUALAND IS located on Highway K, 12 miles east of Highway 51 in Vilas County, near Boulder Junction. It's open daily from 8:30 a.m. to dusk. The admission charge of 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children entitles visitors to all displays on the grounds.

At midnight on Nov. 15 the 10 per cent federal transportation tax comes to an end. At 12:01 on Nov. 16 a five per cent tax on domestic airline tickets goes into effect. Ho hum.

One of the most scenic drives in the United States is the Skyline Drive in the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia, just a day's drive out of Washington, D. C.

Scenic it has been, but not always a comfortable drive. Now we learn that resurfacing of certain portions, additions of third lanes, and elimination of bottlenecks have made the drive much easier and more pleasant. If your travels take you in the direction of Washington, D. C. this summer or fall, try to find time for Skyline Drive.

TRANS WORLD Airlines has filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board a new tariff calling for reductions of 20 per cent in coach round-trip group fares in the United States for passengers traveling in groups of 25 or more. If approved, the fare would become effective July 27.

TWA, as well as other airlines, has had group fares for travel outside the U. S. for some time. Extending this plan to domestic flights should tap a whole new market. To be eligible for these fares all members of a group must have belonged, for at least six months prior to the start of a trip, to the some association or company, or be a family member of one of the group making the flight.

Travel writers have a lot of competition. Now it's the witty and urbane Aubrey Menen who has invaded our ranks with his most recent book, "Speaking the Language Like a Native" (McGraw Hill).

ITALY, WHERE Menen now makes his home, is both the main character and the locale. The book is for all those who have even been to Italy, or have dreams of going there.

Don't forget that this column welcomes questions, comments and requests for information on all aspects of pleasure travel. Write to me, care of Paddock Publications. (T

Resort Trade Hurts: Wisconsin Spokesman

by THOMAS PLEDGE
United Press International

MADISON, WIS. (UPI) — President John Alward of the Resort Association of Wisconsin predicts that 50 per cent of the state's resorts will be out of business in 10 years if they don't "up-date."

Alward said early vacation season returns show the resort business, the backbone of the state's lucrative tourist trade, is running below last year, which was considered a poor one, and tourism is generally spotty. The World's Fair at Seattle, Wash., and the spring stock market slump were two factors he blamed for the decline.

Alward said a reluctance by the state government to advertise Wisconsin's natural resources, and the seeming unwillingness of bankers to loan money to resort owners were two factors that could all but deck the business.

Also to blame are resort owners who failed to modernize from the old bare "spring mattress" and "string from the ceiling light" days, said Alward.

"WE'RE NOT A sick industry, but we need help," Alward said. "Everybody is complaining."

The tourist trade nets Wisconsin close to an estimated $600 million annually, second only to the dairy industry. The resort is what holds the free-spending vacationer in Wisconsin, rather than on a Midwest highway tour.

August Hundt, general manager of the American Automobile Association, said the Northwest has become the tourist "mecca" this year. Highway travel in Wisconsin is up 20 per cent, as many easterners choose state highways to travel to the Northwest, "but resort owners suffer because they don't stay long," Hundt said.

To hold the tourist in Wisconsin, Alward recommended an increase in spending to advertise the state. He said Wisconsin now spends about $440,000 a year to advertise itself, compared to $2 million for Florida and California.

TO RESORT owners, Alward recommends a general modernization, especially of bedroom and bathroom facilities. People are tired of the "rustic" life, he said. They expect accommodations similar to those in the newer motels.

Alward said the recent upsurge in camping may have hurt some resort owners, but camping is only a "novelty," he added. "In a year or two the women in particular will want to trade a sleeping bag for a bed."

He said resort owners have a hard time getting modernization loans from local bankers. "The local bankers just won't loan to a seasonal business." To help with this problem, Alward called for a state agency that could extend small loans to resortmen, "like the federal government does to small business."

"I can very easily see the tourist industry as the state's largest in 10 years," Alward said. But he indicated resorts have to prepare for the future. "The up-to-date resorts are holding their own," he said. "The others are sinking."

Advice to Motorists

Beware Highway Gyps, Club Magazine Warns

"Beware Roadside Gyps" says Charlotte Stone in an article in the current issue of Discovery, the Allstate Motor Club magazine.

These gyps come in all sizes, shapes and forms, from those original Americans selling "genuine Indian design" jewelry actually machine-made in Los Angeles to the roadside stand exhibiting "Florida's biggest alligator" — which happens to be dead.

The most common gyps, according to the article, are the ones practiced by filling stations and garages along scenic tourist routes. One such roadside "motoring expert" told two women traveling from Pennsylvania to the West Coast that they needed a new battery to get through the desert.

FORTUNATELY, they weren't bilked, because they knew the battery still had three months to go on its guarantee.

Another roadside gyp is misleading motel advertising. "TV in every room," which implies a television set that operates by turning a knob, can mean that one operates for half an hour only when fed a quarter.

"'Low Rates — $4 - $5' sounds like a price range but may be the rate for a single cell-without-bath," the author says.

IF IT'S IN A motor club trip plan, one of the guidebooks or a good newspaper or magazine article, it's probably not a gyp, the article says.

One feature of a motor club trip plan is protection against padded motel bills. If a traveler is charged more than the maximum rates listed for a motel in a current trip plan, he receives prompt adjustment by forwarding the receipted bills to the club offices with all pertinent details.

Other pitfalls for the unwary tourists come in roadside restaurants. "Shaking for the check," a racket which started growing in Georgia restaurants a few years ago, seems to be the newest fad to part a traveler from his money.

YOU WIN ON the first roll and then the inevitable question: "Go again—double or nothing?" There have been reports of tourists losing $100 or more on this chance to get your money back" deal, the Allstate Motor Club publication reports.

Watch out for signs saying "minimum service charge." One family got soaked an extra dollar on the bill — a "service charge" for the eight-month-old daughter sitting in a provided highchair.

The roadside gyp artists can be found almost anywhere in the country — or the world. Discovery says in cautioning travelers to be wary while they tour — for peace of mind and security of pocketbook.

Genuine scenic attractions are so numerous that tourists need not be taken in by a flim flam game when seeking entertainment along the way.

For Motorists

Don't Forget Fido In Holiday Plans

YOU'RE ALL SET to go on that big vacation the family has looked forward to for a long time. You've planned your holiday down to the last detail except one "minor" one—whether or not to take the dog.

This is the wrong time to be thinking about it, according to the touring department of the Chicago Motor Club.

The motor club suggests that if you should decide to take "Fido" along, you should plan ahead with these tips in mind:

Before you leave, find out if your dog gets car sick. Your veterinarian can supply you with sedatives or tranquilizers that will help quiet him, and advise you on other items for the dog's comfort.

IF YOUR vacation will take you across state or international borders, you'll probably need a health or rabies certificate for your pet. See your veterinarian before you leave so that your dog can have a check-up and necessary vaccinations.

The time to find out whether dogs are permitted at the hotel or motel where you will be staying is when writing for reservations, not when you arrive. This can prevent embarrassment and delays.

While driving, keep your dog in the back seat, away from the driver; but don't let him hang his head out the window.

Stop frequently to give your dog an airing; everybody will enjoy the chance to stretch. Keep your dog on a leash in National Parks and other areas where dogs must be restricted.

THE AMERICAN Automobile Association has conducted a survey among several thousand motel operators to determine guest problems. About half of the motel operators said that most of their guests who own pets travel with them. One-third of the establishments accept them, the survey showed.

A small percentage of motel managers said they welcome pets—that they are better risks than some people. One motel manager wrote: "Pets are welcome. They do not smoke, they do not drink, and do not spill things on rugs. They are not price conscious. We love 'em."

Marcy Baumgartner Is Married in California

Miss Marcy Baumgartner's wedding to Richard Schier in San Francisco July 14 was a doubly happy occasion for it brought about a family reunion for the four Baumgartner sisters and their parents, the E. G. Baumgartners, 226 S. Main St., Mount Prospect.

Traveling from Glen Ellyn was Mrs. James Collins, her husband and children, Heather, who served as junior bridesmaid for her aunt's wedding, and Douglas, who served as junior usher. Already in California were Priscilla, who resides in San Francisco, and who served as maid of honor, and Mrs. Robert Overmyer of La Jolla. The bride, a graduate of Arlington High School and Moser Secretarial College in Chicago, has been residing in San Francisco for several years, where she is employed as a secretary with a TV and Radio firm.

THE WEDDING took place at 7 p.m. in St. Paulus Lutheran Church with Rev. Arthur Nitz and Rev. Paul Jacobs officiating. Candelabras with white bows marked the aisle and bouquets of glads, stock and Majestic daisies decorated the altar. Solos sung by Ruth Nelson were "The Twenty-third Psalm" and "The Wedding Prayer."

A gown of imported swiss embroidered organza was chosen by the bride for her marriage. The gown was fashioned with a 3-tiered skirt, scalloped neckline and sleeves. Her short bouffant veil was held in place by a small headpiece of lilies of the valley and she carried a small white Bible with bouvardias, miniature ivy and a Harresonia orchid. She completed her ensemble with long white kid gloves which she purchased in Italy, and pearl earrings, a gift from her groom.

MR. BAUMGARTNER gave his daughter in marriage to Mr. Schier, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schier of Redwood City, Calif.

Priscilla's gown was of lemon yellow chiffon fashioned with full skirt and her headpiece was of matching petals. Her flowers were a basket of cascading yellow and white daisies with miniature ivy. The groom's cousin, Nancy Dolle of Oakland, Calif. was bridesmaid and wore a gown identical to the maid of honor and her flower basket contained yellow daisies.

The junior bridesmaid, Heather Collins, and the 5-year-old flower girl, Susan Webster of San Carlos, Calif., wore identical white organdy dresses with yellow slips and carried miniature baskets of yellow daisies.

ATTENDING the groom were Dennis Heintz of San Jose, Calif. as best man and Arthur England and Robert Locker of Redwood City as ushers.

Champagne was served before the buffet dinner in the Fox Hostess House in San Francisco where Mrs. Baumgartner greeted the 75 guests in a beige lace dress with beige accessories and a corsage of phalaenopsis orchids. Mrs. Schier received in a blue silk dress with blue accessories and a corsage of phalaenopsis.

The groom, a graduate of San Mateo College and Healds College in San Francisco is with Tronoff Engineering Co., Westlake, Calif. After spending a week at the Seattle World's Fair, the newlyweds are at home at 447 15th Ave., San Francisco. (S

Log Rolling Meeting Set July 27, 28

The 1962 World's Log Rolling Championship, held at authentic Historyland Logging Camp in Hayward, on July 27, 28 and 29, will be viewed by many more than 25,000 persons.

The "Wide World of Sports," popular ABC-TV sports show, will feature the roleo in an early fall release. Twenty technicians from New York and Chicago will accompany mobile units to record the action.

ABC's sports announcer, Jim McKay, will be making notes on the spot to narrate the show when it is telecast sometime in September.

LIFE MAGAZINE has reported on this lumberjack championship twice in less than 12 months and has featured it as one of the major sports attractions in the midwest.

A total of approximately $3,250 of prizes will be given to winners in the various men's and women's competition events.

Hayward, long known as the musky fishing capital of the world, is located deep in the heart of Wisconsin's north woods, in the northwest section of the state.

WELCOME WAGON

First Presbyterian Church, Arlington Heights, was the scene June 22 of a double ring, candlelight service in which Miss Sharon Rae Bostian, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Bostian, 530 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, became the bride of David K. Miller, son of the Horace Millers, who just four days after their son's wedding, moved from Park Ridge to Lake Park, Fla.

After a reception in the church and a weekend honeymoon at the Hilton Inn in Aurora, the newlyweds are residing at 228 Ridge Terrace, Park Ridge, where the bride is employed at the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. The new Mrs. Miller was graduated June 16 from Lake Forest College and her bridegroom is a junior at Northwestern University Medical School.

DR. PAUL Stumpf performed the service during which Nancy Beasley snag "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." Bows and greens marked the aisle down which Dr. Bostian escorted his daughter to the flower-decorated altar.

The bride, attired in a silk organza over taffeta dress with lace applique and chapel train, carried white roses and lily of the valley. Miss Ruth Ann Bostian was her sister's maid of honor and she and the bridesmaids, Kristin Miller, sister of the groom, and Mary Hough of Lake Forest, a college friend of the bride, were in emerald green silk organza sheaths and carried cascades of yellow fuji mums.

ATTENDING the groom as best man was Asa Wilbourn of Cairo, Ill. and Jack Blake of Chicago and Jeff McClough of Evanston as ushers.

Mrs. Bostian greeted the 200 wedding guests in a coral linen sheath with a corsage of Amazon lilies and stephanotis while Mrs. Miller chose a green and beige flowered chiffon with cymbidium orchid corsage. (S

Scientists Isolate Sawfly Love Potion

MADISON, WIS. (UPI)—University of Wisconsin scientists have isolated a potent love "perfume" that makes the virgin pine sawfly the femme fatale of the insect world.

Discovery of the female's secret may spell the end of the pesty male sawfly. Scientists said a tiny dab of the "perfume" could lure male flies blindly into traps.

Etomologists J. E. Casida and H. C. Coppel said the "perfume" was so potent it spurred males to try and buck winds of 16 miles an hour just to reach a dish holding a tiny amount of the tonic. Few sawflies can buck that kind of wind, they said, but the fact they try indicates how strong is the "perfume" attraction.

TO EXTRACT the "perfume" scientists reared 100,000 of the insects in a laboratory, then soaked the females in ether to get a crude chemical abstract. They then held field tests of the various chemicals to see which brought the males winging. They finally managed to isolate a tiny bit of the sex attractant.

They now are working to extract enough of the "perfume" to test its chemical structure. When they find out just what it is made of Foresters will be able to use manufactured versions to lure males to traps.

This would probably soon rid the forests of the pests, researchers said, since the unmated females produce only male pine sawflies. (Soc

Bride's Father, Grandfather, Take Part in June Ceremony

Three pastors, including the bride's father, her grandfather and a close friend of the groom, officiated at double ring services June 30 in Rochelle, Ill. when a former Palatine girl, Miss Geraldine Olson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Harold E. Olson, now of Rochelle, and Richard H. Love, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Love of Lowell, Ind. repeated their marriage vows in Rochelle Methodist Church. Rev. Olson, former pastor of First Methodist Church of Palatine, was assisted in the double ring service by Rev. Robert Birdsall of Maple Park and the bride's grandfather, Rev. G. R. Brittenham of New Haven, Ind.

Soloists, also relatives of the bride, were an uncle, John Brittenham, and a cousin, Joyce Brittenham. Organist was Merlin Raddatz.

THE BRIDE WORE a gown of peau de soie featuring a neckline bordered with lace and a bustle back flowing into a cathedral train. Her illusion butterfly veil was fastened to a headpiece of organdy roses and her only jewelry was pearl earrings, the gift from her bridegroom.

Attendants were Mary Olson of Arlington Heights, Mrs. Leonard Kregel of Park Forest and Mary Ann Last of Rockford, who wore sheaths of silk organza over taffeta with matching accessories. Their bouquets were of white mums with tulle matching their dresses, which were in hyacinth and shell pink.

Danny Fox of Grant Park was best man and Dennis Danielson and Bill Ungles of Grant Park were groomsmen. Douglas Stevenson of Chicago, cousin of the bride, was candlelighter and junior ushers, also cousins of the bride, were Stephen Brittenham and Donald Buskerk of Fort Wayne.

MRS. OLSON chose a blue lace sheath with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Love wore a beige print silk frock with beige accessories and both mothers complemented their ensembles with corsages of white roses.

The reception was held in the church parlors.

The new Mrs. Love was graduated from Palatine High School and Blackburn College and for the past two years has been teaching second grade in Park Forest. Her bridegroom received his education in Grant Park schools and is now in TAG School with the Armed Forces in Indianapolis, where the newlyweds are making their home.

Braided Cake, Thin Pancakes Featured

by LOIS SEILER

Her Scandinavian heritage plays an important role in Mrs. William E. Hawkins' culinary endeavors. Two of her favorite recipes have been in her family for generations. One is a Swedish Coffee Cake and the other, Swedish Pancakes.

"I make the coffee cake for all family gatherings," Mrs. Hawkins explained. "It is a plain but flavorful cake, flavored, of course, with the Swedish favorite — cardamom."

"This cake is even better if you can buy fresh cardamom seeds and crush them, but commercially ground cardamom will do."

This appealing braided coffee cake has a light sprinkling of cinnamon and sugar over the top, and is delicious any time with a cup of hot coffee.

"The pancakes are a great treat for the children," Mrs. Hawkins said. "I often make them for Saturday or Sunday night suppers, and they are also delicious for brunch."

ALTHOUGH thin and delicate, these pancakes are quite filling and rich. Mrs. Hawkins likes them spread with butter, honey and sugar and rolled up, but they can also be served with maple syrup or jelly.

"The traditional Swedish method is to serve them with lingonberries," she said, "and fresh fruit always makes an appropriate dessert for pancakes."

Another of this good cook's favorite recipes is called Dream Bars. A basic batter is pressed into the bottom of a jelly roll pan, dotted with chocolate chips, spread with meringue and sprinkled with chopped nuts. After baking, the cake is cut into squares while warm.

RICH AND moist, these delicious Dream Bars make an appealing accompaniment for a fresh fruit cocktail topped with a scoop of sherbet.

"They are nice for picnics too," commented Mrs. Hawkins, who also has another picnic specialty for baked beans.

"We call them Scratch Beans because they are made from scratch," she said.

Mrs. Hawkins puts an onion in the bottom of a bean pot and alternates layers of beans and bacon. A flavorful sauce is poured over all and the beans are baked for six hours. They are a tasty accompaniment for all summer cookout meats, picnics and potlucks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins and their children Deborah, 12, Bill, 9, and Christine, 3, live at 620 N. Hickory in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Hawkins is a den mother for the Cub Scouts, a member of the Women's Guild of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, and sings in the church choir.

SWEDISH COFFEE CAKE

1 cup scalded milk
4 tablespoons butter
¼ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 package granular yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
1 whole egg
1 egg yolk
3 to 3½ cups all-purpose flour, sifted
½ teaspoon ground cardamom

Pour scalded milk over butter, sugar and salt in a large bowl. When lukewarm, add yeast which has been dissolved in lukewarm water and beaten eggs.

Beat in sifted flour gradually. Add ground cardamom. Let rise until double in bulk. Punch down and form into two braided cakes. Brush with melted butter and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Let rise until double in size on greased baking sheet.

Bake 20 to 25 minutes at 350 degrees. While still slightly warm, sprinkle with additional granulated sugar.

SWEDISH PANCAKES

2 cups sifted flour
4 tablespoons granulated sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1½ cups milk
½ cup sour cream

Sift flour, sugar and salt into a bowl. Beat eggs in another bowl and add milk and sour cream. Stir until well-blended.

Add egg and milk mixture to sifted flour. Mix slightly with a rotary beater. Let stand for a half hour. Batter should be thin. If batter is too thick, add a little more milk.

Heat a heavy skillet and add one teaspoon butter for every pancake. Pour about 1/3 cup batter into skillet and swirl skillet so that batter reaches the edges to make a round pancake. Brown (about 10 seconds) and flip over with pancake turner.

Spread with butter, honey and granulated sugar and roll up, or serve with maple syrup, jelly or lingonberries. Serves 4 adequately.

DREAM BARS

½ cup margarine
½ cup butter
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup brown sugar
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour, sifted
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon baking powder

Cream butter and margarine. Add sugars and beat well. Beat in egg yolks, vanilla and water. Add sifted dry ingredients and blend. Press into the bottom of an 8½ by 11 inch jelly roll pan. Prepare the following topping:

2 egg whites
½ cup brown sugar
1 small package chocolate chips
½ cup chopped pecans

Beat egg whites until they cling to bowl. Add brown sugar and beat until blended.

Sprinkle chocolate chips over dough in pan. Spread frosting over chips and sprinkle chopped nuts on top.

Bake 35 minutes at 350 degrees. Cut into squares while warm. Store in covered tin.

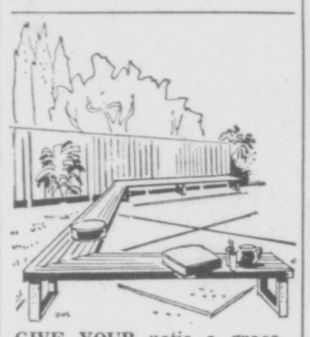
SCRATCH BEANS

Soak one pound navy beans in cold water overnight. Drain. Cover with fresh water and cook slowly until skins break, at least three hours or longer. Drain and save bean liquor.

Cut ½ pound bacon into small squares. Put a layer of beans in the bottom of a two-quart casserole or bean pot. Place a whole onion in the bottom. Then alternate layers of beans and bacon. Prepare the following sauce:

1/3 cup dark molasses
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup dark brown sugar
2/3 to ¾ cup catsup
½ cup bean liquor

Mix ingredients together and pour over top of beans. Bake in a slow oven, 250 degrees, for about 6 hours. Serves 8.



GIVE YOUR patio a graceful ending by building a simple garden bench around its perimeter. Use Douglas fir 2x4's and stain them a soft buckskin beige or let them weather to silver. Bench does a fine job of blending paved patio into adjacent lawn area.

Abundant Fruit Supply Set For Super Markets

Expect to see the produce counters in your local super markets full to overflowing with top-quality peaches, Bartlett pears, cantaloupes, lemons and limes during August. And in keeping with the abundant supplies, prices will be correspondingly low.

The nearly 800 member companies of Super Market Institute, the international trade association of super market operators, were advised of the plentifulness of these and other foods through the Institute's monthly Plentiful Foods Bulletin.

AS AN ASSIST in moving quantities of peaches for other than out-of-hand eating and for preserving, many operators may post a recipe for Frozen Peach Cream, which was also passed along to them in the bulletin:

Thoroughly chill ¾ cup whipping cream or evaporated milk and whip until stiff. Add 2 teaspoons lemon juice and beat until very stiff. Beat in one cup (packed) confectioners' sugar and ⅛ teaspoon almond extract. Fold in 2 cups mashed (into very small pieces) fresh peaches. Freeze in refrigerator tray for at least 2 hours. Makes 5 servings.

Statistics on the plentifuls put the peach crop at 46.6 million bushels; lemons 16.5 million boxes; limes 400,000 boxes, and Bartlett pears, 477,500 tons! The cantaloupe abundance in August is the result of high yields from a larger acreage than last year, plus delays in June and July shipments.

OTHER plentifuls include a wide variety of locally and commercially grown summer vegetables (making this the time to buy quantities for preserving) frozen orange juice, over 100 million gallons made from the 1961-1962 Florida crop of 109 million boxes, the largest ever produced; and turkeys. (SH

Buck Rogers Touch For Smoked Meats

MADISON, WIS., (UPI) — Food processors are taking a tip from Buck Rogers these days and using ray guns to produce smoked meats.

University of Wisconsin scientist, Kenneth Weckel, says instead of smoking meats by direct exposure to the smoke, electrically charged smoke particles are beamed at the meat to come up with the same results.

OTHER PROCESSORS are extracting the chemicals of wood which are responsible for the "smoked" taste and applying them directly to the meat, Weckel said.

Scientists have also come up with a built-in meat tenderizer system, according to Weckel. Enzymes which made meat tender are now being fed to steer shortly before they are slaughtered.

Through digestion, Weckel says the animal's blood stream transports the enzymes to all parts of the body. By the time the animal is slaughtered, he has tenderized himself. (SH

Latin-America Offers Roast Veal Specialty

It doesn't take a green-thumber to grow tomatoes in most parts of Latin-America. Tomatoes of all kinds grow as happily as weeds, both the cultivated and wild varieties. Since, in many of these regions, there is no freezing weather, the tomato supply is constant.

Tomatoes probably originated somewhere on the slopes of the northern part of the Andes, but were enjoyed and cultivated for many generations before the arrival of Spanish explorers in the western world.

Large forms of the tomato have never been found truly wild, but left to the hand of "Mother Nature," as in Latin America, in many sizes, shapes and colors, all good to look at and to eat.

THERE ARE wild tomatoes as small as large currants; cultivated ones that weigh a pound. They come in a variety of colors: red, yellow, white, pale yellow, pink-purple, orange, apricot, striped green and other rainbow hues.

Cultivated tomati or tomati seeds made their way northward to Central America and Mexico before the discovery of America. Three centuries were to elapse, however, before the tomato reached North American dinner tables and then it was in a very round-about way. From either (or both) Peru and Mexico, the tomato went to Europe, was immediately popular in Italy, made its way north across Europe and finally returned to the United States.

Here it lived among the flowers as a purely exotic and decorative plant until about 1834, when, slowly, cautiously our ancestors began eating it.

TODAY, BECAUSE of their flavor and high nutritional value including vitamins A and C, tomatoes have become one of the world's most valuable vegetables.

Every year good cooks discover new and delicious uses for tomatoes. Here are easy and excellent tomato recipes from different parts of Latin-America. Do not postpone until "manana" these good dishes you might as well cook for your family today!

3 lb. boneless veal roast
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground black pepper
2 tablespoons olive or salad oil

½ cup sherry wine or beef or chicken stock
Tomates Rellenos

Rub veal with salt and ground black pepper. Place in a Dutch oven or roasting pan with oil, onions and wine or stock. Cover and cook in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees) 2 hours or until veal is tender. Place meat on a serving platter and surround with Tomates Rellenos, below. Yield: 8 servings.

TOMATES RELLENOS
(Stuffed Tomatoes)

8 firm ripe 1½-inch tomatoes
Salt
Ground black pepper
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 tablespoon chopped fresh parsley
½ teaspoon salt
teaspoon ground black pepper
Olive or salad oil

Wash tomatoes, cut in half crosswise. Scoop out the pulp and seeds, leaving the shells intact. Invert shells on a pan to drain. Sprinkle inside of shells with salt and black pepper. Chop pulp and mix with hard-cooked eggs, parsley, salt and black pepper.

Fill tomato shells with the mixture. Sprinkle with oil and vinegar. Place around veal roast. Yield: 8 servings.

GASPACHO MAS FINO

Salt
Ground black pepper
2½ lb. cooked fresh asparagus, cut 1½ to 2" long

Wash tomatoes, cut a slice from the tip of each and scoop out pulp, leaving the shells intact. (Save pulp to use in vegetable salads or soups). Invert shells on a plate to drain.

Sprinkle inside of tomato shells with salt and black pepper. Marinate cold asparagus in French dressing at least 1 hour. Drain tomatoes well and fill with asparagus. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise. Yield: 6 servings.

TOMATES Y GUISANTES

Heap on top of tomatoes. Garnish with fresh parsley. Serve as a salad or a garnish for fish, potato or meat dishes. Yield: 6 servings. (SH

Investment

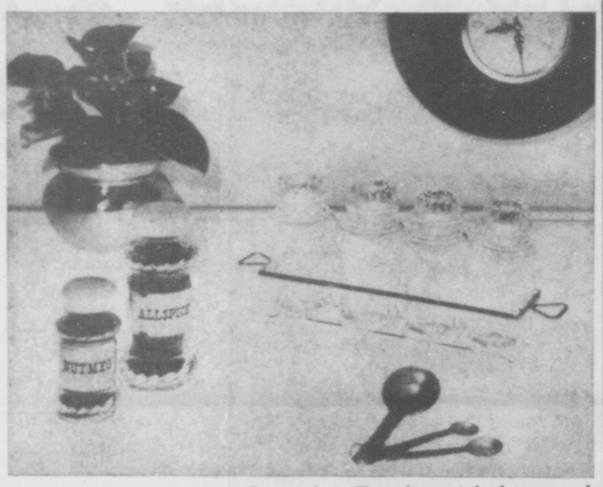
Most families would rather own a $20,000 house and a small car than a $15,000 house and a large car. Why? Hard goods, like automobiles, depreciate rapidly in dollar value.

Putting money into a home, on the other hand, is a long-term investment. A home that is properly maintained retains its dollar value and is an excellent hedge against inflation.

Summer Fireplace Beauty

In the summer months, the blackened, gaping mouth of a fireplace can detract from the beauty of any room. Here's a neat way to "summer-ize" a fireplace, using folding louver shutters of ponderosa pine. These shutters, available from building material dealers in sizes to fit most needs, were hinged together in pairs and painted to match room docor. Drawing shows how well shutters harmonize with diginified Colonial-style mantel. The latter is one of a number of styles of mantels available in stock from building material dealers. Made of ponderosa pine, these come assembled and ready to install and paint. (SH

New Views on Spice



Interest in gourmet cookery and the use of herbs and spice is soaring. Clear glass jars are just right for keeping flavor fresh, permit quick indentification. Four-jar set in brass rack about $1.29. White-capped jars about 15 cents for small, 29 cents for larger. From Hazel-Atlas. (SH

Pioneers Hail Century Old Crosby 'Homestead'

When singer Bing Crosby's grandfather, Nathaniel Crosby III, came to Tumwater, Wash., over 100 years ago, the first thing he undertook was to build a home for his bride, Cordelia Jane.

That home, built of Douglar fir lumber, is as sound as the day it was built. It has become a shrine to the pioneers and recently was refurbished by the Olympia, Wash., chapter of the Daughters of Pioneers.

THESE PATRIOTIC ladies filled the cottage with heirloom furnishings and accessories donated by many Olympia and nearby Tumwater famiiles.

The Nathaniel Crosby home can be seen by motorists today as they speed by on three freeways which surround it.

The tourist spot is located close to Washington state's capitol buildings and today is on Capitol Lake, which was merely an arm of Puget Sound when the home was built in the 1850's.

IN COMMENTING on the home, H. V. Simpson, executive head of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, remarked, "The Crosby home is still another example of the great durability of Douglas fir lumber. A century of life and service is a proven fact in this all-wood home. When lumbermen tell their customers that a home built of wood will last for generations, they have living proof all about them.

"I question the claims of manufacturers of substitutes for wood who make all sorts of wild promises about performance and long life when they have no such background as wood to prove their claims." (SH

Air Conditioner

Trellis built on to roof eaves lowers temperatures inside this house by 10 degrees on hot summer days. Trellis is western red cedar 2x6s with 4x4 posts. Clematis grows over top to form sunshade, and planted strip of earth between house and patio promotes cooling.

Save Magazines

Do you have trouble keeping your magazines clean and handy? Build a narrow wall rack with shelves spaced so magazines can be placed upright. Use hemlock or Douglas fir and put narrow strip on shelf edge to hold in magazines.

Week's Best Food Buys

Fresh produce abundance pays handsome dividends to consumers on swelling volume from major growing areas, accompanied by rapidly falling prices on most popular lines, including melons which are rated as cheap.

Retail quotes on red meats are basically unmoved from those reported a week-ago, with little promotional incentive possible for most beef, pork and lamb. Fryers and eggs show significant increases in area stores.

The University of Illinois consumer service weekly survey of area food markets, for the period ending July 28, notes that fryers and quality large eggs both are up 2 cents to 4 cents in most stores this week.

EXCEPT FOR a few determined operators who elect to promote fryers even at their higher costs, the whole bird retail has moved up to a consensus 39-43 cents. Turkeys remain steady at last week's consensus 39-49 cents range.

Limited supplies of high quality grade A large eggs peg the new retail on these at 47-53 cents in more outlets. To round out the picture, there's more butter but less cheese in the market place these days at prices equal to this time a year-ago.

The U of I market buy value rating currently includes: Meats—beef steaks, chuck and rump roasts, luncheon meats, pork chops and steaks; Poultry — turkeys; Produce — green beans, cabbage, tomatoes, sweetcorn, peppers, carrots, melons, peaches, summer apples and grapes.

IN POULTRY, costs for fryers at farm level continued to climb and reflected again at wholesale with another ½ cent increase to force most stores to boost retails. Meantime, relatively little interest is shown for turkeys. The total storage for all poultry, fryers, roasters, stewers, ducks and turkeys, is about 5 million pounds below a year-ago, to cancel out the apparent super abundance of turkeys.

With new crop production, storage stocks of turkey is now nearly 16 million pounds ahead of last year's totals.

Despite excellent production volume, quality supplies of top grade eggs are limited and it is this factor that helps force higher prices. Eggs are still cheaper than year-ago while storage stocks of both shell and frozen are slightly higher.

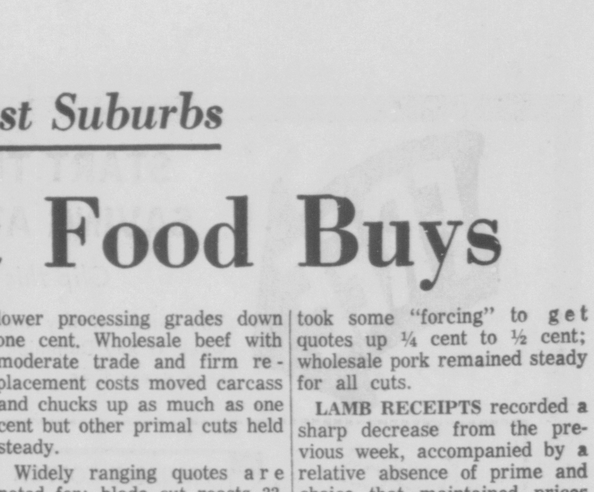
WEATHER REDUCED cattle arrivals failed to stimulate live quotes, better grades holding steady to up ½ cent and lower processing grades down one cent. Wholesale beef with moderate trade and firm replacement costs moved carcass and chucks up as much as one cent but other primal cuts held steady.

Widely ranging quotes are noted for: blade cut roasts 33-59 cents, porterhouse steaks 95-$1.35, sirloin 85 cents-$1.15, and round 75-95 cents.

Hog receipts were the smallest since last August, but it still took some "forcing" to get quotes up ¼ cent to ½ cent; wholesale pork remained steady for all cuts.

LAMB RECEIPTS recorded a sharp decrease from the previous week, accompanied by a relative absence of prime and choice that maintained prices on these grades but dropped lesser grades one cent. Wholesale followed the pattern and retailers hold firmly to their prevailing prices. (SH

No-Bake Ham Salad Loaf Is Delicious



Here's a suggestion for the woman who likes to get things done ahead of time. The luxurious jellied ham salad loaf shown above provides plenty of good main-course eating but requires no cooking.

It's fine for a family supper and festive enough for a small buffet when only a few guests are expected. Easy enough to make twin loaves should a party rounding out to a dozen participants be on the calendar.

SUMMER HAM SALAD LOAF

2 tablespoons gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1 cup hot bouillon
¾ cup real mayonnaise
¼ cup chopped sweet pickle
3 cups finely chopped cooked ham
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
3 tablespoons minced parsley
1 tablespoon minced onion
Salad greens

SAUCE:

½ cup real mayonnaise
½ cup dairy sour cream OR heavy cream, whipped
2 tablespoons mustard-with-horseradish
Parsley

Soften gelatine in cold water. Add bouillon and stir until dissolved. Cool slightly and add ½ cup real mayonnaise. Combine sweet pickle, chopped ham, pimiento, parsley and onion. Fold into mayonnaise mixture.

Pack in 5x9-inch loaf pan which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens on chop plate. For sauce blend real mayonnaise and mustard-with-horseradish.

Fold cream into mayonnaise mixture. Just before serving, spoon sauce mixture in a diagonal strip across loaf and garnish with parsley. Yield: 6 generous servings. (SH

Announce Name Change

It'll Be Official . . . Marathon Oil Co.

The corporate name of the Ohio Oil Co. will officially be changed to Marathon Oil Co. on Wednesday, Aug. 1, the 75th anniversary of the company's founding, it was announced this week.

C. Z. Hardwick, executive vice president, said the name of the company, now with operations in 13 countries on five continents, had outgrown its present name which was adopted when the company was founded in 1887 as an Ohio crude oil producer.

He added that for over 30 years, Marathon has been Ohio Oil's principal marketing brand name for gasoline and other refined oil products.

ON THE AUG. 1 anniversary and name change day, a portion of Ohio Oil's more than 8,000 employes will gather at 22 meetings in locations around the country.

The local anniversary meeting will be held Aug. 1 at 1:30 p.m. in the South Room of the Des Plaines Motor Inn, Lee St., Des Plaines.

All the meetings will be interconnected by long distance telephone hookups with loudspeakers serving as receivers. The 30-minute "Marathon Network" program will originate from Findlay, Ohio, home of the company's general office.

J. C. DONNELL II, president, will address the employes from Casper, Wyoming, location of the firm's Casper production division headquarters.

Employe meetings are scheduled to be held in 22 locations around the world. (BB

The course is equally applicable to new and experienced salesmen. The sessions are held three days a week throughout a two-week period.

THE WORKSHOP is being conducted by members of the staff of Ford's Chicago Marketing Institute, one of six such facilities located throughout the country. The Chicago institute was opened in 1960, and its curriculum is planned to cope with the most urgent problems that Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers face under current market conditions.

Similar basic retail selling workshops have been conducted in other cities in the Chicago institute's training area. (BB

Hanover Park Models Going on the Block

"Model homes which we have used for display purposes, only, for less than one year, are going 'on the block' for immediate sale at tremendous discounts," it was announced this week by Barney Dahl, president of Hanover Builders, Inc., developer of two 700-house subdivisions in northwest suburban Hanover Park.

"We are making room for a complete new line up of models which we intend to build for 1963 construction.

"WE PLAN to have seven new models which include some of our most successful - selling 1962 homes but in slightly different styles and settings," said Dahl, "plus several entirely new concepts of modern homes which have never before been seen in the Chicago area. But we will announce them later.

"Of the ten 1962 models we have had on display, which are being offered at drastic closeout prices, we have only seven left. And these will go 'fast', as they are only a block away from the new Hanover Park 'N' Shop, four blocks from the new 14-room grade school and just three blocks from the Milwaukee Railroad commuter depot.

"They are being offered for immediate possession, subject only to approval of the credit of the buyers," he said.

"ALL OF THE close-out models for sale include face brick fronts, paved driveways, one or two-car garages, full basements; several have built-in ovens and ranges, three or four bedrooms, and all of them are fully landscaped," said Dahl.

"Our offices will be open daily and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. to accommodate all buyers, especially World War II veterans who wish to buy a house before their G.I. rights expire on July 25," concluded Dahl.

Hanover Builders offices and models are located on Barrington Road between Irving Park Road (Rt. 19) and Lake Street west of Chicago. (BB

Gas Company Warns Against Imposters

Northern Illinois Gas Company again emphasizes that employes who need to enter customers' homes all have company identification cards and will present them on request.

This, perhaps, is the way NI-Gas is attempting to warn residents that strangers frequently attempt to gain admittance to homes by posing as "city inspectors" or "gas company inspectors."

ONE NORTH shore resident recently asked NI-Gas if his gas meter could be moved outdoors where it could be read without anyone entering the home.

C. L. Mee, division manager for NI-Gas, said that at the present time the majority of gas meters installed in new homes in the north suburban area are being installed outdoors.

"We are not trying to promote the moving of gas meters outdoors at this time," Mee said, "but we will do this where we can for any customer who requests the change-over and is willing to pay for it." (BB

by Robert E. Hood, Assistant Farm Adviser

The flight of potential leaders from agriculture is frightening. It is even more frightening than the flight of gold from the United States, the depletion of forests, the loss of soil, or the shrinking water level. It is much more serious than the feed and fiber surpluses which have been considered the "farm problem."

The strength of our economy lies in the fact that agriculture has always been a surplus-producing business — always in quantity, and usually in quality of both its natural and human products. Until recently, the balance of power in our economy has been held by agriculture because of its superior numbers.

Business and industry have, by increasing the rewards, skimmed off the cream of the competent persons in agriculture. Even in the 1930's one agricultural leader said, "The agricultural pond has been fished out. The game fish are gone and only bullheads and suckers remain."

Farm youths often abandoned agriculture for business, industry, stores, or offices. The more able went by way of the colleges into professional and business leadership. At the same time the training of agricultural leaders has declined. Between 1943 and 1959 agricultural students declined 30 per cent.

Although agriculture is still the greatest single industry, the greatest source of employment, the biggest user of steel, and employs more money than any other business, one weakness shows up on the horizon. That is the shortage of high quality leaders — leaders of depth and breadth.

We are now seeing attempts of business interests outside of agriculture to provide leadership for the integration of production and marketing of agricultural products.

Even labor has taken the initiative in organizing agricultural workers. Ownership of farms is moving away from agriculture and the management is shifting more and more into the hands of professional managers. It's time for a self-appraisal of our programs for leadership developments.

Since education is the first essential for a competent leader, the agricultural colleges and universities have the major responsibilities in providing both the breadth and depth of training necessary for home-grown leaders. They are the strategic centers for leadership development.

Some groups want a crash program to train spell binders in policy and super-technicians in operations; others point out that wisdom comes only through reflection upon the meaning of great ideas.

Technology produced the mushroom cloud over Hiroshima that spelled disaster, and thoughtful persons have been contemplating the consequences ever since.

The good university will combine the two forms of creativity into a program for developing public leaders.

Leaders need (1) native ability, reinforced by a high level of energy, (2) an ability to entertain diverse and contradictory ideas and to interpret them, (3) a strong preference for complex and a dislike for simple and obvious patterns, and (4) a disposition toward self expression and independence of judgment.

The Land Grant colleges are particularly suited to integrate these types of originality, and to solve the leadership problems for agriculture, because they are usually both investigators and interpreters.

The most important limiting factor in the solution of agricultural problems is the supply of able and purposeful leaders. We need more persons who truly understand what is and what ought to be. The two most prominent political "oughts" in the world today are autocracy vs. democracy. There is a grim contest going on between these philosophies.

We will win or lose, depending upon whether or not we possess the facts and have the wit and energy to demonstrate by our total way of life that leadership is generated by freedom to discover and to speak up, freedom to investigate and to interpret, freedom to determine what is and what ought to be.

This column is based on information given in a speech by D. M. Hall, in charge of field studies at the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service. (BB

New Liquid Detergent Introduced to Market

Although most well-known grocery products are nationally advertised brands, on occasion it is possible to find a "home grown" favorite that continues to keep a loyal group of customers.

Last week's Chicago introduction of American Family Liquid, a new light-duty dishwashing detergent, brings to mind an outstanding example of just such a local success story.

The brand name, American Family, has been a favorite in and around Chicago since 1859. In fact, back in the early days, Kirk's American Family Bar could be found in almost every Chicago laundry room. Homemakers in the 1800's accumulated stacks of valuable American Family premium coupons, just as they still do today.

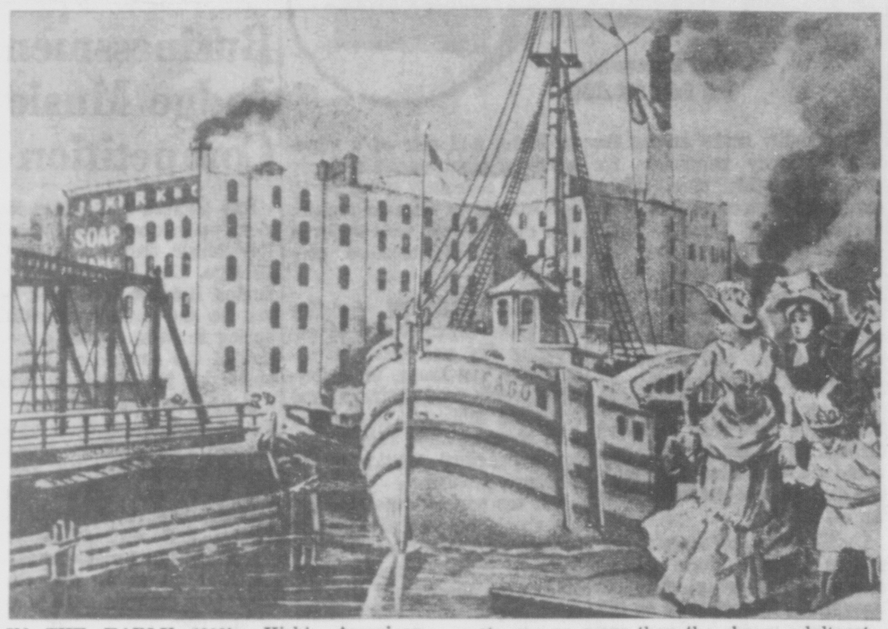
NOTING THE fact that women spent hours chipping off soap flakes for their washing, the Kirk Company took a giant step forward with the introduction of American Family Flakes following World War I.

This new, faster dissolving flakes product gained immediate popularity in the Chicago market and continued to be the largest selling soap product in the area until the early 1950's.

In 1953, American Family continued its progressive marketing heritage by again bringing out a product requested by local housewives: This time, the popular American Family Detergent.

THEN IN JUNE, 1962 American Family Liquid was introduced. This new liquid product is the first to be packed in a bright translucent, fluorescent red bottle. The manufacturer points out that American Family Liquid has a new remarkably clear, mild formula that cleans and rinses so well, you don't even have to wipe glassware or silver.

American Family products are sold in the five state radius around Chicago and have maintained a policy of manufacturing the Bar, Flakes and Detergent products exclusively in the Chicago area. (BB



IN THE EARLY 1900's, Kirk's American Family Soap used card like that shown above to tell the following story: "American Family Soap is the best soap obtainable for laundry use, leaving the clothes clean, sweet and white, without injuring the fabric, and costs you no more than the cheap, adulterated imitations which our honorable competitors have put on the market since ours became so popular, and which some grocers sell because it affords a larger profit."

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

Dial Daily 392-3060

The daylily ranks among the best of hardy perennials for gardens in this area. Many gardeners remember this plant as the Tawny Daylily which spreads rapidly and soon becomes a pest in the garden. The first exposure is unfortunate because the modern day varieties do not possess this habit and are well suited for use in the flower border.

The color range, form, and flower size have been improved through breeding so that you would scarcely know that modern daylilies are descendants of the old species.

Daylilies are herbaceous perennials which form large clumps of rich green, strap-like leaves. The flowers arise on tall flower stalks which arise from the clump. The name, daylily, and the botanical name, Hemerocallis which means beautiful for a day, reflect one of the characteristics of the plant. The individual flowers last but one day.

BUT SINCE there are many buds on each flower stalk the plants remain colorful for several weeks. The foliage remains attractive all season.

Daylilies row best in a medium-heavy loam. They have been raised with considerable success, however, in soils ranging from the lightest sandy types to the heaviest clays, and under widely varying climatic conditions.

To get the soil into good physical condition, spade it deep and work in generous amounts of well rotted manure, compost, leafmold, or peat. This organic matter helps to maintain good tilth, aids in holding moisture, and acts as a storehouse for plant nutrients. Sandy soils are especially benefited by applications of organic matter. The daylily does well under a wide range of moisture conditions.

WHILE CERTAIN varieties will grow satisfactorily in extremely dry and also in excessively wet areas, most daylilies prefer good drainage, and moderate moisture. In gardens with poor drainage, raised beds are a practical solution to the moisture problem.

For top performance the daylily should be planted where it receives full sunlight most of the day. Many varieties grow quite well, however, if they receive only morning sun and are partially shaded during the afternoon. The light shade from a distant tree or mottled sunlight, such as found in open woodland, is ideal.

It will soon be time to plant daylilies. The best way to select varieties is while they are in bloom. Visit your local nurseries or garden centers or even your neighbor's gardens and select the varieties you want for your garden. (BB

Paddock Tourney

Close Races Prevail As Deadline Nears

The deadline for entries to the 13th Annual Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap Golf Tournament is little more than a week away, and yt no squad at the present can truly claim the right to a coveted tourney berth.

Yet by nightfall Saturday, Aug. 4, the field must be complete with the various league leaders as of that date qualifying for competition.

This summer's tournament is scheduled to be held at Golden Acres Country Club Sunday, Aug. 19, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

THE TOURNAMENT will be strictly a team affair with a trophy going to the winning squad and medals to be awarded to members of the first, second and third place entries. A dozen golf balls will go to low individual net player regardless of how his team finishes.

Entry blanks have been mailed to the various twilight league secretaries in the area and should be returned to the Tournament Manager, Paddock Publications, 217 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, as soon as the league's entry has been determined.

Each squad entering the tournament will be assessed $16 to cover green fees. There will be no other costs to golfers.

TYPICAL of the close races being staged around the area this summer is the dogfight characterizing play in the Friday Division of the Mount Prospect Twilight League.

Less than five points separate the first place Kruse Restaurant outfit fro mthe fifth place F-B-K Realtor squad. As a matter of fact, only 18 points stand between the first and last place entries.

The Kruse team has amassed 66.7 counters as compared to the 65.4 total compiled by second place Keefer's Pharmacy. Pro Sports Center is entrenched in third at 64.1 followed by Arlington Camera and F-B-K in that order.

WITH TWO playing dates still slated in the Friday Division, just about anything can happen.

Two other extremely close contests are being staged in St. Emily's Twilight League at Old Orchard and the Arlington Friday Night circuit from Arlington Country Club.

Urban Cleaners currently holds a slim point-and-one-half lead over Jake's Pizza in the St. Emily league, but don't count Prospect Plaza Bank and Thunderbird Bowl out of the running.

JACK GUNNELL'S entries in the Arlington Friday loop and the Rob Roy Tuesday League both are current leaders as of Tuesday. No less than four squads are pressing Gunnell's in the Friday league with Wheeling Lumber and Portage Auto poising the more serious threats.

Wheeling Lumber is one-and-one-half points back in second followed by Rortage, which trails Gunnell's by only two points.

The Gunnell lead is somewhat more comfortable at Rob Roy. The second place John Stearns squad is a full three-and-one-half tallies in arrears with only one playing date remaining.

ARLINGTON Structural Steel and Horcher Decorators are waging a torrid two-team battle in the Arlington Heights Twilight League at Golden Acres.

Structural Steel hold the advantage at present with 71 points as compared to 69 for the decorators.

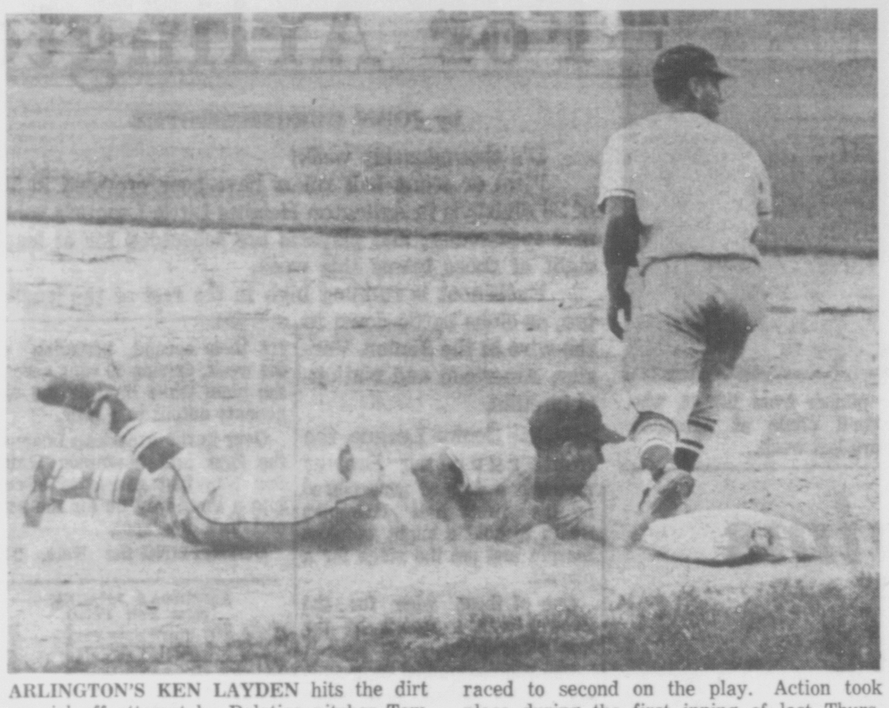
A couple of teams who are enjoying relatively comfortable leads at the present are Picket Paint of the Mount Prospect Monday League and Phil's Pure Oil from the Mount Prospect Tuesday circuit.

Picket leads second place Tumble Fun by six-and-one-half points, while Phil's is on top by four-and-one-third counters.

Mac to Tour Golden Acres

G. A. McElroy, superintendent of Palatine Township High School and veteran Paddock Publications columnist, will offer a hole-by-hole description of the Golden Acres Country Club course in the issue of Aug. 9.

Golfers who will be competing in the Paddock tourney at Golden Acres Aug. 19 may benefit from "Mac's" mistakes.



ARLINGTON'S KEN LAYDEN hits the dirt on pick-off attempt by Palatine pitcher Tom Dettinger, while first baseman Jim Smith watches wide throw sail into bull pen. Leyden raced to second on the play. Action took place during the first inning of last Thursday's American Legion game.

Field Includes Top Fillies

The Beverly Handicap, a $25,000 added affair for fillies and mares, will conclude an extremely competitive week of racing Saturday at Arlington Park.

Saturday's running will mark the 24th renewal of the Beverly, a race which has featured such brilliant distaffers as Durazna, Traffic Court, Bewitch, Real Delight, Dotted Line, Bornastar and Indian Maid.

The Beverly was inaugurated in 1938 as a three-year-old stake and was won by Novelette. It was run at one mile-70 yards in 1938 and '39, but was eventually changed to its present distance, one mile, in 1958.

MANY OF THE better members of Arlington's filly and mare division are eyeing the Beverely. Included in this group are Mary V. Fisher's Goldflower and R. C. Wilson Jr.'s Dinner Partner.

Goldflower may best be remembered for her come-from-behind victory in the six-furlong Modesty of five weeks ago. Dinner Partner was a decisive winner over J. A. Privette's Cherry Laurel in the recent Misty Isle at Arlington.

Fred W. Hooper has shipped in his spirited Teacation from Hollywood Park with the Beverly foremost in mind.

COLFAX MAID, Harold J. Trible and William J. Schmidt's always dangerous miss, also is being groomed for the Beverly. Last year Colfax sizzled a mile in 1:34 1/5, to most minds the fastest mile ever registered by a three-year-old filly.

Dinner Partner first lashed stakes form when she captured Balmoral's Cinderella Stakes. She later bowed to Cherry Laurel as the latter raced to a front-stepping victory in the seven-furlongs Cleopatra, but avenged that setback in the Misty Isle.

Goldflower's Modesty triumph was at the direct expense of J. D. Puckett's Gert Image, another Beverly possibility. Teacation, who last winter was third in Santa Anita's Maria Handicap, probably will have the nimble Bright Holly, a recent spring victress here, as a running mate Saturday.

EQUIFUN CAPTURED first place honors in last summer's Beverly and in the process equalled the best time for the race—1:34. Placing second was Indian Maid followed by Miss Quick in third.

In last Saturday's $33,125 Equipoise Mile at Arlington, an English-bred entry, Intervener, romped to an easy three-and-one-half lengths victory.

Intervener undoubtedly benefitted fro mthe fact that Bluescope and Glass House, the two co-favorites, were scratched because of the rather slow condition of the track.

THE CONSISTENT five-year-old, carrying the blue and gold silks of Miamian Mrs. Tilyou C. Christopher, scored its easy triumph under the whip of jockey Benny Sorensen.

Jacnot Stable's Oink and Mrs. Marilynn . Landy's Natego both closed strongly to finish second and third respectively, only a head apart. Fourth Estate Stable's Editorialist was three-parts of a length away in fourth followed by Fred W. Hooper's disappointing 2-1 choice, Winonly, under high weight of 119 pounds.

Mrs. J. W. Durrett's Illinois-bred Playgoer, who was shipped in from Detroit, and Mary G. Christmas' Towson, an invader from the East, completed the seven-horse field in that order.

INTERVENER, who had won the Meadowland Handicap on the grass earlier in the meeting and placed in three other stakes, returned $10.60 and was timed in 1:37 4/5 under 111 pounds.

Victory was worth $19,625, boosting Intervener's two-year winnings in the United States to $98,830.

The largest daily double pool in Arlington Park history—$223,436—went into the record books Saturday. Fly Nancy ($5.20) and Jimmy O. ($26.20) formed a $129.20 double Saturday.

IN MONDAY'S $27,650 Miss Illinois Stakes for Illinois-bred two-year-old fillies, Shawnee Lady, with Bill Hartack in the saddle, raced to a two lengths victory.

Miss Perfection was second in the six-furlong sprint with Potato Pancake third. Carlock Miss, a 2-5 shot but weighted down with 123 pounds, finished a poor fifth.

Arlington Shocks Leaders

Des Plaines Entry Captures 9th District League Crown

A wild-and-wooly Ninth District American Legion baseball season came to an appropriate zany conclusion last week, but when the smoke finally cleared it was apparent that another Maine Township sweep had been consumated.

Heading into the final week of play, Des Plaines held a precarious slim edge on Palatine and neighboring Park Ridge. Everything pointed to a Des Plaines—Palatine showdown at Des Plaines Friday.

What the leaders hadn't counted on was the potency of Lloyd Meyer's Arlington Heights entry.

IT ALL STARTED last Wednesday when Arlington fought from behind in the bottom half of the ninth inning to hand Des Plaines a shocking 4-3 beating.

Palatine, fresh from a 12-4 conquest of St. Viator on Wednesday invaded Arlington Thursday for the express purpose of extending a current win string to nine straight.

But such was not to be the case. Sparked by the pitching and batting of Jack Lane, Meyer's outfit upset Palatine, 2-1, to further scramble the title picture.

DESPITE THE stunning defeat, Palatine still cherished hopes for a title tie. Coach Claude Bailey's boys battled Des Plaines on even terms for two-and-one-half innings before the roof caved in.

BY THE TIME the third inning had been received as history, Des Plaines had assumed a 7-2 advantage and that was it for 1962.

The rest was anti-climactic. Palatine dropped a 7-3 decision to Mount Prospect, Des Plaines stopped St. Viator, 13-1, and, believe it or not, last place Holy Cross whipped Arlington, 4-3.

In summary, Des Plaines wound up with 14 victories in 16 starts for a one game cushion over second place Park Ridge, which finished with a 13-3 mark.

ARLINGTON and Palatine ended up in a dead heat for third with 11 wins in 16 tries, while Mount Prospect pulled up in fifth place.

And so Des Plaines once again has qualified for the First Division playoffs, an affair which opened a six-game stand yesterday (Wednesday) at Berwyn.

Des Plaines, which last appeared in the tournament back in 1960, battled Park Forest, the Eighthg District champ, in yesterday's second game.

THE DOUBLE elimination tournament will continue through Sunday, or Monday if an additional game is needed. The eventual Divisional titlist then will advance to the state tourney at Woodstock Aug. 9-10-11-12-13.

Paul Splittorf's clutch single with the bases loaded in the bottom half of the ninth gave Arlington that thrilling victory over Des Plaines.

Des Plaines had surged ahead by a run in the top of the ninth when Dehlin walked, moved around to third on an error and scored on a fly ball.

GARY SPENCER walked to lead off Arlington's ninth. Steve Martin was sent in to run for Spencer and he moved around with the tying run on a walk to Mike Frase and Ray Miller's single.

Ken Leyden flied to center for the first out, but Rog Lindstrom walked to load the bases. Splittorff then delivered his clutch single and that was the ball game.

Lane was Arlington's pitcher of record as he relieved Spencer in the seventh. Lehlin was tagged with the Des Plaines loss.

SCORE BY INNINGS:

Palatine, meanwhile, was making short work of St. Viator at St. Viator. The victors punched across two runs in the first inning and never trailed thereafter.

Jim Valukas went all the way for Palatine and limited Viator to four hits. Along the way, he racked up seven strikeouts.

JIM DONAHOE'S booming double with Dick Radzak and Jim Smith aboard accounted for Palatine's two runs in the first. Valukas doubled and scored a second inning run on Radzak's single.

Palatine then broke the game wide open with four runs in the third session. Jim Donahoe started it off with a single, stole second and third, and scored on Tom Dettinger's single.

Dettinger in turn stole second and scored along with Wayne Lewin, who had walked on Mel Helms' double. Helms advanced to third on walks to Dan Leimann and Ken Petke, and then scored on Valukas' infield out.

VIATOR bounced right back wiht a four-spot of their own in the third. Spence walked and raced to second on Carroll's single. Valukas got the next two batters, but Don Bakalar doubled home two runs.

Chaser followed with a smash that got away from Donahoe's short, allowing Bakalar to score, and then scored himself on Joe Sanchez' single.

But that was it for Coach Frank Mariani's crew. Palatine put the game on ice in the fourth with three runs on only one hit—a key single by Dettinger.

SCORE BY INNINGS:

Palatine	2 1 4 3 0 2 0—12
St. Viator	0 0 4 0 0 0 0— 4

Thursday's Palatine - Arlington battle was typical of any athletic contest between the two neighboring towns. Arlington punched across both of its runs in the second inning and then held on for dear life as Palatine almost pulled the game out in the final frame.

Ernie Banks To Highlight Sales' Fair

Ernie Banks, popular star of the Chicago Cubs National League Baseball club, will appear in Arlington Heights Friday between 7 and 9 p.m.

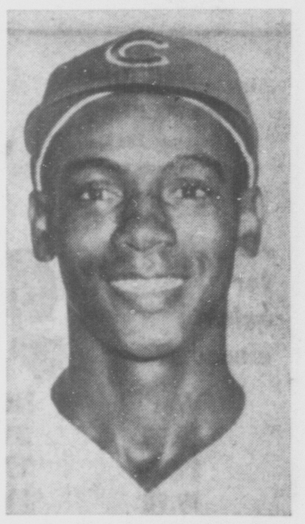
Banks will be present when Ace Washer and Dryer, local Maytag dealer, 1615 Rand Road, (Route 12) holds its annual Sales Carnival of Values.

The fence-busting outfielder is one of five modern era National Leaguers awarded the most valuable player prize while competing for a losing ball club.

AN HONOR traditionally reserved for players on pennant contending outfits, the MVP award went to Banks in '58 and '59, making him the only man to win the coveted plaque twice in succession.

Recently assigned to duty at first base where Cub management felt he was needed most, Ernie owns senior circuit standards at shortstop for slugging and glove work.

Off to a sizzling start this season, he was player of the month in May, and has already put 23 balls over the fence.



ERNIE BANKS

TOMORROW night the young star, who has made such a big hit with the kids during his years with Chicago's North Side ballclub, will cease bombarding Wrigley Field bleachers to autograph baseballs and greet youngsters at Ace.

As an added attraction, the Ace people are offering free baseball caps to youngsters visiting the sales fair.

A mass sale will be held on a large inventory of brand new washers and dryers, demonstrator and used models.

Chick Evans Golf Tourney Opens Monday

Over 140 golfers, including many of the top amateurs from this area, will tee-off at 7:30 a.m. Monday on the first leg of the Seventh Annual Chick Evans Amateur tourney at White Pines Golf Club in Bensenville.

For the first time in the tournament's history, play will be conducted on a medal basis in contrast to match competition in the past.

The field will be reduced to the low 100 golfers at the conclusion of Tuesday's second round. Of this group, the 40 lowest scores will be assigned to the Championship bracket.

PLACES 40-70 WILL shoot for the First Flight title with the remaining 30 contestants competing in the Second Flight.

The entire 72-hole tourney will be played over the challenging terrain of White Pines' South Course.

Awaiting the winner of the Championship Flight are both a beautiful trophy and the Harvey Branigar, Jr. Award jacket. Presentations will be made following next Thursday's fourth and final round.

HEADING the list of entrants is Mark Darnell, the ex-Purdue University student who wrapped up last year's championship. Darnell captured the '61 title by defeating Harry Mussatto, 2 and 1, in the final match.

Mussatto also will be on hand for the tournament.

Others entered are Ace Ellis, 1962 Illinois Amateur champ; Jim Jewell, 1962 Indiana Amateur champ; Tex Simon, 1961 Chicago Amateur champ; Joe McDermott, 1962 Chicago Amateur champ; Buzz Wohl, 1961 Cook County Amateur champ; and Fritz Franz, a two-time Chick Evans winner in '59 and '60.

Benefiting from the proceeds of the tournament will be the Chicago Boys Club Scholarship Fund, which provides college financial assistance for needy club members.

the Arlington escond and moved up a base on Spencer's single. A passed ball by Wayne Lewin advanced the runners to second and third from which point they scored on Lane's timely single.

PALATINE hurler Dettinger blanked Arlington on one hit for the remaining four innings, but his teammates failed to provide the needed offensive support.

In the seventn, Lewin walked with one gone and raced to second on Ron Fenske's single. Bill Smedley then laced into one that had all the earmarks of a game-tying triple.

But such was not the case. Smedley failed to touch first on his way around the bases and was declared out when Lane alertly flipped to Splittorff.

As things turned out, Lewin eventually scored on walks to Radzak and Smith, but Donahoe stranded three men by popping to short.

A sore arm forced Wayne Kehe to the sidelines after two innings at Des Plaines Friday. At the time of his departure, Palatine had tied the game at two apiece in the top of the third.

With one gone, Donahoe singled and tallied on Dettinger's hit. eDttinger advanced on a passed ball and counted on a single by Helms.

Des Plaines came on in the bottom of the third for four runs and then added six insurance counters in the fifth.

For Palatine, Saturday's game was but a mere formality, and Bailey's disappointed and weary crew fell easy prey to a hungry Mount Prospect nine.

Called upon with only two days' rest, Valukas was shelled for three runs in both the first and sixth innings. Bob Geller tripled home two of those first inning runs and scored the third on Dan Schmidt's single.

Palatine came up one run in the third on Donahoe's single, but Dave Gottschalk's three-run homer in the fifth decided the issue.

Saturday's Arlington Heights-Holy Cross contest was an incredible affair. Flushed with smashing victories over Des Plaines and Palatine, Arlington coasted along for five innings as Oberg had a no-hitter on the fire.

Layden's first inning homer gave Arlington a 1-0 lead which blossomed into a 3-0 bulge in the second inning.

And then came that explosive Holy Cross sixth. Obert led off with a walk, took second on Krause's single and scored ahead of the latter on Hynes' triple.

Roulo followed with a single and the game was tied. Oberg settled down momentarily and retired Capron and Petritis, but Fuller produced the winning run with a single.

Little League Playoffs Slated For Arlington Heights Titlists

by JOHN BURGERMEISTER

It's championship week!

First or scond half rulers have been crowned in 16 of 26 divisions in Arlington Heights Little League's summer spectacular, and playoffs are scheduled for at least eight of those teams this week.

Excitment is running high in the rest of the league too, as clubs battle down to the wire in the Senior, Varsity, American and National circuits.

In the Senior League, the front running Browns matched a pair of wins posted by the first half champion Bears to hold a slight won-loss margin and set the stage for a playoff.

One of those wins for the Browns was a forfeit by the last place Lions.

The Bears rambled on in pursuit of the second half honey with wins over the Hawks and Indians on consecutive dates.

Dave Christensen allowed only four hits, one a triple by the Hawks' belting backstop Dave Holst, as he pitched the Bruins to a 7-5 victory.

WITH HOLST banging a pair of home runs, the Hawks picked themselves up to rap the Redlegs, 6-3, in their next contest. Jim Welton was the winning pitcher; John Friedl the loser.

Earlier in the week, the Reds were edged by the Indians, 2-1.

In the South Varsity division the Orioles won a pair to remain one-half game ahead of the second place Wildcats.

Roy Rettberg tossed a two-hitter at the Rams, and his Orioles backed him up with 11 base knocks to gain a 6-2 victory.

BRESSLER AND Swanezy bulldogged Ram hurlers Cronin and Butler for six hits in seven trips to pace the heirs-apparant to the South Varsity throne.

The Orioles made the formal announcement of their intention to repeat as champs with a 9-8 victory over the Redwings. They came from behind twice with three runs in the sixth and four in the seventh.

Jim Bressler started for the winners, then moved to the opposite end of the 60-foot-6-inch path to call signals for eventual winner Jon Keys.

THE REDWINGS evened out their week with a 12-7 win at the expense of the last place Phils. Doug Fink was credited with the win, though yielding a triple and pair of doubles to Larry Malcolmson, armored member of the losing battery.

Giving up only three hits over seven innings of toil on the hill, Kevin O'Connell pitched the Wildcats to a 5-3 victory over the Knights. He also homered to pace his team's attack.

The Cats also nipped the Rams, 5-4, to keep things alive in the division race.

IN THE NORTH Varsity League, the Eagles beat the Generals, 11-7, in a first half make-up game to force a playoff with the title-sharing Vikings.

Second half action saw the Vikings in battle three times during the week, winning two and losing in an upset to the lowly Generals.

The hard-hitting Norsemen pounded out 12 hits to conquer the Raiders, 19-7. Steve Conley gained the win.

TWO DAYS later it was pitching that gave the Vikings another win. Joe Nastal won a duel with Falcon hurler Jerry Donahue to gain a 4-3 Viking victory.

Against the Generals, the Vikings failed in all departments, the box score crediting them with only two runs, while giving up 11 and committing three errors.

The Eagles lost out a chance to pull even with the losing leaders when they played to an eight-all stalemate with the Raiders.

THEY MANAGED, however, to keep things close by ruffling the Pelicans, 13-3. Saflarski and Kanak homered for the winners.

The Generals gave the Raiders their second pounding of the week, driving 19 runs across the plate while limiting the opponents output to a pair.

Over in the American League, the first half champion White Sox won two games to sweep into a three-way tie for the second half top spot.

OUTHITTING the Nats, 9-2, the Pale Hose breezed to a 9-1 decision for Tom Epperly.

Against the last place Yanks, the Sox gained a 7-3 victory.

The Tigers gained a share of the number one berth with a win over the Athletics, the outfit that had owned an undisputed grip on first place.

STEVE STRATTON bested Tom McDonald in that one, to gain a 6-1 triumph.

The A's came back to down the Senators, 5-3, and preserve a one-third interest in the league race. Scott Anderson twirled a four-hit performance to gain the win.

Clouting the Red Sox, 8-4, and losing to the Senators, the Yankees split last week's schedule.

IN THE Senior Circuit, the Braves lost their first contest of the second round, then came back to clip the Angels, 9-2.

Though outhit six to five, the Pirates became the first National League club to best the Braves, winning by a narrow one-run margin, 6-5. Ron Horcher was credited with the win in the spoiler's role.

Two hit pitching by ace Scott Guilfoil was the backbone of the 9-2 win against the Angels.

THE CUBS also won a couple last week to keep the race alive in the National loop.

Shutout mound work by Gunnison and Quill gave the Bruins wins over the Cardinals and Twins. Gunnison limited the Cards to one single after carrying a no-hitter into the last frame.

Against the Twins, Emmett Quill fired two-hit ball as the Cubs pulled a whitewash, 11-0.

THE GIANTS also added two markers to the win column, pulling themselves out of the league cellar.

After beating the Dodgers, 7-1, they clubbed the Bucs, 1-2, behind two-hit pitching and a round-tripper by Bob Edgerton.

In their only winning game of the week, the Twins blanked the Dodgers, 11-0, on Bill Drake's three hitter. Bill Burns was the loser in that one.

IN THE NORTHWEST Intermediate league, the only reported contest was between the Broncs and Saints. The Broncs won it with an early inning run splurge, 8-7. Jim Bayert poled a circuit clout for the losers.

Meanwhile, in the Northeast Intermediate division, the Hornets won two games and swarmed into a first place tie with the Mohawks.

Scoring four runs in the final frame, the upstart Hornets squeezed past the Mohawks and into the top slot, 10-9. Ed Boarini, winning pitcher, belted out a pair of two-base hits, a triple and a single to grab the hero's role.

THOUGH the Hornets forced the playoff with that last ditch victory over the leaders, it was the third place Doves that actually set up the final stand.

Batting in seven runs in the second stanza, the Doves brought anything but peace to the Mohawks, who saw their league lead slip to one game after they had gone down, 13-12.

The Mounties left the Colonels alone at the bottom by edging the Bruins, 8-7. Rhiney Weege held the Bruins to five hits, all singles, in picking up the win.

IN THE SOUTHWEST Intermediate league the Marlins took advantage of a rescheduled make-up game to stop the Terriers, 7-6, and gain a share of the second half championship.

Mart Stahl pitched a four-hitter and contributed a home run to the Marlin's 11-hit parade.

The Royals had a field day in a game with the Huskies, eventually winning, 23-4.

IN ANOTHER rain-out makeup, the Barons dropped the Solons 6-3 to pick up their initial win in second round competition.

Over in the Southeast Intermediate League, the Chargers captured the second division championship with a 5-1 triumph over the Seals.

Going into that action the two outfits had displayed equal records, but Greg Connors held the Seals to five singles and the Chargers had themselves a title.

IT WON'T be the last game for the clubs, however, as earlier in the week the Seals tripped the Dons, 9-8, on John Schroeder's last inning grand slam homer, to salvage the first half title in a playoff.

The two champions must meet once more to decide the season crown.

In other Intermediate action, the Dons stopped the Rangers, 8-4, with five runs in the fourth inning.

THE OWLS are champions of the Northwest Junior division, having outscored the Bees, 11-9, in the deciding game between the winners of the first and second half titles.

Outhit 14 to 8, the Owls bunched seven singles in the opening inning to score eight runs in the first two innings and gain the win for Kevin Koeneman.

In make-up games, the Bees halted the Gophers, 6-5, and the Chicks beat the Astros, 15-3.

IN THE NORTHEAST Juniors division, the Sox won a playoff game but bowed to the Owls.

Jeff Foley twirled a one-hitter and whiffed 12 as the Sox beat the Millers, 5-1, and captured the first half playoff to gain a shot at the Owls and the Northside championship.

The Sox jumped off to a first inning 1-0 lead, collected three more hits than the Owls, but lost 7-3 when Jeff Foley experienced control trouble in the third.

OTHER ACTION saw the Millers pound the Blues, 18-5, and the Gulls trounce the Larks, 12-6. Bill Sheetz of the Millers ran up six total bases on three two-base knocks.

With Johnny Brodnan pitching, the Stags tipped the Jets, 5-4, to complete their set of Southwest Junior championships and earn a shot at the Wrens for the south side title.

The Stags finished the season with an overall record of 15-1.

Ending the season in victory were the Atoms who beat the Jays, 10-8, and the Padres, 10-1.

IN THE SOUTHEAST Juniors league, the Wrens beat out the Oaks for first place with a 9-3 win at the expense of the Beavers.

Scott Tremberth pitched one-hit ball and hit one of two extra-base-hits for the winners.

Fielding gems by Marty Maxtein and Joey Lynch helped pave the way for the Oaks in a 9-7 win over the Gems. Lupe Hernandez was the winning pitcher.

Rounding out the final week of scheduled Little League play, the Colts took advantage of the last place Spartans to end with a win, 12-5. (Sp

Boys and girls from 31 states, national finalists in the second annual BPAA National Junior Bowling Championships, embarked upon an exciting four days of sightseeing and other entertainment when they converged on Washington, D. C., Tuesday to vie for shares in a $10,500 scholarship fund.

Competition for the coveted championships is beking held at Pentagon City Bowl, just a few minutes from downtown Washington, but the battle for scholarships and trophies will be only a part of the program arranged by the sponsoring Bowling Proprietors' Association of America with the assistance of officials of the Metropolitan Washington BPA.

Registration on Tuesday was followed by a kickoff luncheon in the grand ballroom of the Mayflower Hotel, headquarters for the young bowlers and the parents and guardians who will accompany them to the nation's capital.

The tournament was opened officially Wednesday morning after which the 92 young standard-bearers engaged in the first round of qualifying. Following luncheon, the second round of qualifying was held, and then the top six bowlers in each class advanced into today's (Thursday's) final round.

The entire BPAA group, bowlers, parents and guardians, and officials, attended an all-star jazz stage show at the Carter Barron Outdoor Amphitheatre Wednesday night.

FOLLOWING A special White House tour this morning, the match game finals of the titular tourney will be held in two sessions at Pentagon City Bowl, and the champions will be decided.

3 Local Boys Enter Sectional

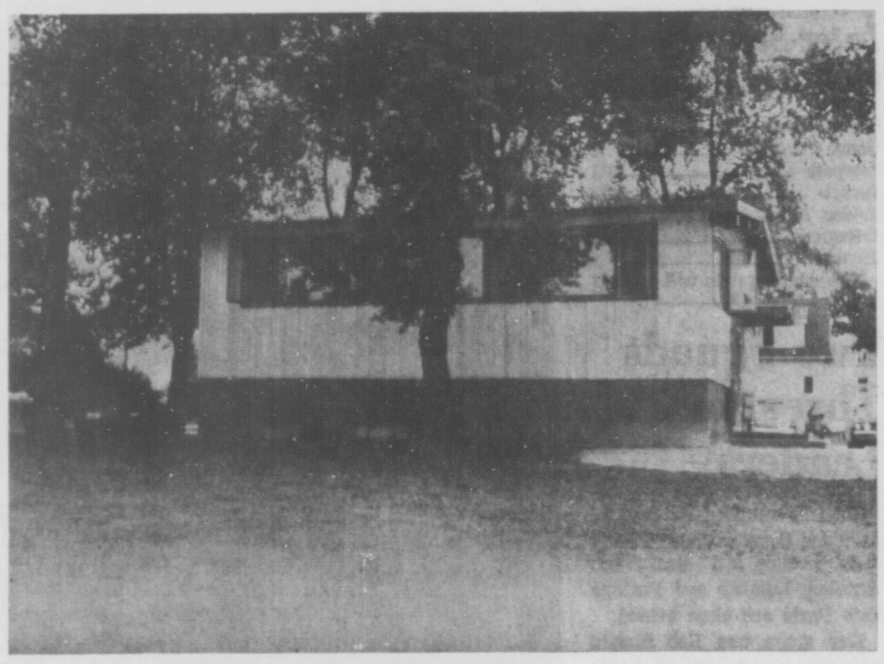
Mount Prospect will be represented by a team of three young athletes at the sectional meet of the Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree Saturday, Aug. 4, at Evanston.

Each contestant won his berth on the team by winning first place in a local jamboree May 19 at Prospect High School.

At Evanston, the youngsters will be pitted against the winners of preliminary meets held in 26 other northern Illinois towns.

FROM AN original field of about 50,000, only 100 from each of the six sectional meets held in Illinois will make the trip to Sterling for the state meet.

Local delegates to the Evanston meet are to be at Prospect High School's south parking lot at 7:45 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 4, where they will be picked up by representatives of the Mount Prospect Jaycees.



EXTENSIVE CLUBHOUSE facilities are available to golfers at the newly-opened Brook Ridge Golf Course, located west of Des Plaines at 9600 Ballard rd. The course offers a par-32 challenge including several interesting par-three situations.

Des Plaines Layout

Pancratz Brothers Open 9-Hole Course

Biff and Chuck Pancratz, owners of Golf and Rand Golf Center, have opened a new nine-hole par-32 layout west of Des Plaines between Dempster and Ballard Roads.

Brook Ridge Golf club was designed and built by C. B. Wagstad to include many of the pitfalls and hazards usually found on a much longer layout.

A good example of this planning is the 502 yard par-five fifth hole, a well-trapped dogleg split by a creek about 200 yards off the tee.

BIFF PANCRATZ, a 15-year Class A PGA pro, points to the eighth hole as his favorite.

The par-three 180-yarder is tougher than its yardage indicates because the green is "right" over the creek.

In all the meandering stream divides the fairways eight times over 225 yards.

INTERESTING bunker position around the bent grass greens also gives championship character to the Brook Ridge links.

The course, which is made up of five par three holes, three par fours, and a single par five, is operated on a semi-private basis.

Cubs Capture Mount Prospect Colt Decision

Only three games were played by Mount Prospect's entries in the North Suburban Colt League last week, but the Cubs and Bruning Sox both played twice, as the crosstown rivals clashed once again.

This time it was the Cubs who ran the show, 5-3. Koehler limited the Sox to three hits and Lytle and Stevens paced the winning hit parade with two safeties each.

Peterson doubled to drive in the winning runs and beat Bruning's Wilkes in a make-up of a previously rained-out game.

THE CUBS lost a close one to Morton Grove last Wednesday, 6-5. Greg Stevens and Don Cooper combined to hold the visitors to three hits, but Morton Grove cashed in on seven walks and several errors to steal the game.

Lytle collected four hits to pace the loser's nine hit attack.

Al Glover's Bruning Sox whipped the Niles No. 2 outfit for the third time this season, 4-3.

THE GAME WAS close all the way, but Wilkes singled in the sixth inning to send the winning run home for the locals. Dave White collected a pair of singles to help the cause.

Junkunc, Froemling and Wilkes worked for the winners. For Niles it was Getowicz with Grimm catching.

Hawkinson Shares Low Gross Title

Reg Hawkinson, 406 S. Nawata Mount Prospect, tied for low gross honors in the recent third annual Chicagoland Lutheran Golf Championship held at Nordic Hills Country Club.

A member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Mount Prospect, Hawkinson fired a 74 to beat out a field of some sixty Lutheran golfers for a share of the trophy.

Tied with the local linkster was Fred Miller of Wheaton.

Rolling Meadows LL

Cardinals, Sox Post Wins; Maitland Leads

With only two weeks remaining in the season and a number of recent rainouts rescheduled, there are games set for every day this week in the Rolling Meadows Little League.

Heading into the stretch, the front-runners in both leagues pounded out high-scoring decisions to hold slim won-lost margins.

The National League leading Cardinals cracked out 20 hits, 11 for extra bases, and clobbered the last place Giants, 19-11. Valentine, LaVigne, and Bell homered for the Redbirds.

THE PENNANT - chasing Braves stayed within reach of the top spot by sacking the Pirates, 16-6. Fensel homered to pace the Brave's 12-hit attack.

Fensel continued to swing the hot bat for the Braves, clouting three round-trippers and driving in six runs to wreck the Dodgers with a one-man-gang routine, 10-6.

But the Cards followed with an 8-4 win over the Dodgers to match the Brave win and reinforce that two-game gap.

KOMONDOROS POSTED another victory for the Braves with a six-hit mound performance against the Cubs, but one day later the situation was reversed, the Braves dropping one to the Pirates.

O'Donnell held the Giants to only one run and Dwyer hit a home run, triple, double and single, as the Cubs scored 20 runs on 14 hits to pull up even with the second place Braves.

The Dodgers beat the Giants, 11-0, before the Pirates beat them, 17-14, in a slugfest which produced a total 28 hits including homers by Piekarski and Reinking.

IN THE American League, Jeff Jacon hammered out a trio of circuit blasts as the first place Sox pounded the Tigers, 14-7.

Scoring a single run in the top half of the eighth inning in an extended affair, the Sox nevertheless were edged by the Yanks, 6-5.

Marucci homered for the Yankees and Jacoby hit one for the Sox.

In another close contest, the Sox showed championship style when they came up with four runs in the last frame to tip the Tigers, 6-3.

THE YANKS kept things interesting in the junior circuit with a 13-7 win over the Senators, and a 10-2 victory over the Tribe.

Against the Indians, Jack Byrnes struck out 11 batters and allowed only two singles. Brother and battery mate Mike poled a home run, as did Jeff Jacoby, his ninth of the season.

In the longest game of the season, the Senators scored a couple in the ninth inning to edge the Tigers, 10-9. Bengal hurlers set down 13 Nats on strikes.

ONE DAY later, the surprising Nats knocked the Indians into third place, 5-2 to round out last week's play.

This Sunday, July 29, the Junior Division Little Leaguers will compete in an all-star game matching the National League against the American League.

JUST DOGS

Dog Hero Winner—

Beggar, a 165-pound St. Bernard from Sacramento, Calif., who rescued her 3-year-old master from almost certain drowning, is 1962's National Dog Hero of Heroes, Ken-L-Ration dog food, sponsors of the award, announced this week.

The dog belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Mitchell of 1865 Discovery Way, Sacramento, Calif. When little Bobby Mitchell, 3, wandered away from the Mitchell home, then in Carmichael, near Sacramento, the youngster became lost. A searching party led by police and sheriffs were unable to locate him. However, a Boy Scout Troop, encamped along the American River, about a mile from the lad's home, came upon the boy and dog a few feet from the river bank. Both were soaking wet, and Beggar was pulling the shivering child along by the sleeve. Toothmarks on the child's body confirmed his story that he had toppled into the river, whose waters were much higher than normal and well over the child's head, and that Beggar had seized him in her huge jaws and swam to the bank.

Beggar, along with Bobby and his parents, will be in Chicago next week for three days. They will be the guests of Ken-L-Ration and honored at the ninth annual awards banquet, where Beggar will receive the coveted Ken - L - Ration gold medal—symbol of America's most heroic dog—plus many other valuable prizes, including a $100 U.S. bond issued in the owner's name.

West Highland terriers—

Folks who own West Highland White Terriers and those who are just plain interested in this perky little breed would do well to keep in mind the fact that this coming Sunday, the Land O'Lincoln West Highland White Terrier Club is going to hold its first all-age fun match.

The location will be in Des Plaines, and the event is to be preceded by a family picnic with the match starting early in the afternoon. Lots of prizes for the winners. A trophy also will be awarded to the best boy and best girl handler. Sounds like a pretty good time should be had by all who attend.

If you are interested in attending, contact Marjadele Schiele, TA 5-1460. She can give you all the information regarding exact location, time and such.

Benefit Night—

A worthy project is on the docket by the Rand Park Dog Training Club of Des Plaines. The club intends to sponsor a benefit night for the companion collies of Illinois, on August 9 at Sportsman's Park. Tickets will be available to all and include the cost of admission to the air-conditioned club house as well as a marvelous smorgasbord buffet.

Every ticket sold by the Rand Park Club will result in a dollar being sent by the club to the companion collie organization. The latter group works with the training of smooth-coated collies for use by blind children.

Further information about the event can be had by contacting Charles Montgomery, 934 Carswell Ct., Elk Grove Village.

Barks and Bays—

If we have more weekends with rain, and more rain—it might be possible that St. Bernards will be needed to pull people out of yards that are half covered with water. Especially those who are out trying to keep the grass cut.

College All-Star Grid Practice Stalled by Rain

The 1962 College All-Star football squad is developing into an aggressive and cohesive unit despite weather difficulties.

Eagerness to learn the offensive and defensive systems taught by Head Coach Otto Graham and his staff is exhibited daily by the 50 college graduates who will take the field Aug. 3 against the Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Professional league, in the 29th annual game sponsored by The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

The All-Star attack will feature superior forward passing, provided by what Graham believes is possibly the finest trio of quarterbacks on any one All-Star squad - Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State, John Hadl of Kansas, and Bobby Ply of Baylor.

THE COLLEGIANS' offensive backfield is a fine running group with more power than was available last year, with big, rangy backs such as Bob Ferguson, Ohio State; Ernie Davis, Syracuse; Ronnie Bull, Baylor; Curtis McClinton, Kansas; Lance Alworth, Arkansas, and Leroy Jackson, Western Illinois.

The defense is bolstered by an unusual number of guards and tackles weighing from 230 to 275 pounds, weight which is a must against the professionals.

The line will include such stars as Merlin Olsen of Utah State, Larry Onesti of Northwestern, Irvin Goode of Kentucky, and Bobby Plummer of Texas Christian.

At end will be some of the nation's top receivers of last fall including Greg Mather of Navy, Charles Bryant of Ohio State, Gary Collins of Maryland and Bill Miller of Miami (Fla.).

Classic Franchise To Pioneer Lanes

Paddock Classic Traveling League will be competing at Pioneer Lanes, Addison, this coming season, as well as seven other bowling establishments in the area.

League franchise formerly held by Ten Pin at Barrington was moved to Pioneer Lanes, giving the DuPage County area served by Paddock Publications direct, local representation in the high-flying loop.

THE LEAGUE will open its sixth year of play Saturday night, Aug. 25. Exact schedule of competition is expected to be released in another week.

Rosters of teams are in the process of being completed and verified by the board of directors.

Paddock Classic loop opened competition in 1957 with six teams, then later increased to eight.

Other lanes holding franchises for the new season include River-Rand at Des Plaines, Jeffery in Wheeling, Gunnell's in Mount Prospect, Beverly in Arlington Heights, Hi-Way in Palatine, Country Lanes at Lake Zurich and Bowlway in Elgin.

Braves, Artillery Units Share Lead

Mark Motors edged Griffith Insurance, 2-1, last week in the Classic 12-inch Softball League at Pioneer Park and thus pulled into a tie for third place with the losers.

Dick Hoffman tossed a two-hitter for the winners and also doubled in the winning run in the sixth inning to highlight a well-played game, which saw Don Sas psull off an unassisted double play at third base.

GLEN KOEHLER scored Mark Motor's initial run, singling in the fifth and moving around to steal home.

In other league action, the 45th Artillary unit blanked the Hasbrook Hawks, 5-0, to retain a share of the top spot with the Bravo Braves, who gained a win by forfeit over the last place Cards.

Royals Suffer Two Pony League Losses

The Royals of the Rolling Meadows Pony League hit a low last week, losing twice in succession for the first time this season.

Elk Grove's Jack McCrea fired a no-hitter at the slumping Royals and the crosstown rival Hawks shut them out the following day to gain their first victory in Ed seven outings.

Taking full advantage of several Royal miscues afield, the visiting Elk Grove outfit came through with timely hitting to send three unearned runs across the plate in the first two innings.

GEORGE Pepnik finished off the Royals with a two-run single in the fifth inning to insure McCrae's no-hit success. Anderson, the losing pitcher, was touched for only five hits, two of those by McCrae.

Back again Rolling Meadows Park last Wednesday, the Royals regained their composure in the field, but not at bat and managed only one single and lost to the Hawks, 1-0.

In addition to turning in a mound masterpiece, Tom Lundgren drove in the game's only run in the top of the first, to hand the Royals their second straight whitewash job.

HE RETIRED the side in order three times over five innings, and allowed only one man to get beyond second base.

The win set the season series between the rival clubs at three-to-one, Royals.

The Elk Grove club that blanked the Royals in all departments, also beat the Hawks on a no-hitter two weeks ago, 2-1.

Mount Prospect LL

Dodgers Trip Yanks; Claim First Place

The Dodgers of the Mount Prospect Little League wrested first place from the Yankees last week, winning three games in a row in American League action behind pitching that limited opponents to an aggregate seven hits.

Going into last week, the Dodgers were two games out. They trailed the Yanks in the win column, having played two fewer dates.

They caught up to the league schedule last Thursday when they knocked heads with those same Yanks on the Owens Field diamond. When Denny Palucki had finished spinning his second masterpiece of the week, the Dodgers were in first place.

SCORING FOUR runs in the opening frame, the Dodgers, paced by Tom Sheppard's two doubles, dropped the Yankees down a notch with a 5-1 victory over Bobby Stephens.

Earlier the Dodgers had beaten the Senators, 16-4, behind Palucki's fine pitching and solid hitting from Stiefbold and O'Brien.

The Yanks recovered in time to get back into the race, and rose to clobber the Orioles, 14-6, last Sunday. Scoring 13 runs in the final innings, the Yanks gave the victory to Behrens in relief and stayed within a game of the Dodgers.

IN THE AMERICAN A Minors the Yankees increased their lead on the idle Cubs by stopping the Cards, 7-3. R. Maly tripled in the fifth inning to drive in the winning run for pitcher D. Hammer.

The Dodgers moved up in the standings with a pair of wins, dropping the Orioles, 7-4, and the Bruning Sox, 10-9.

Over in the American B Minors the Orioles won a pair to increase their lead over the league to three-and-one-half games.

Gary Sydell won his seventh game of the season, allowing only three hits and striking out 12 as the Orioles sunk the Cubs, 8-5.

AGAINST THE Dodgers, Richardson and Seyring slammed round-trippers to back Swolley's one-hit effort and gain a 12-9 win.

In the National A Minors the Senators cinched the title with wins over the Tigers and Giants.

A bases-loaded home run in the third inning and six runs in the fourth were all the Nats needed to put away the game with the Bengals, as they breezed to a 12-6 decision. Tomkins was the winning pitcher.

THE ONLY TEAM in the league with a winning record, the Nats, ended the Giant's pennant hopes, 9-8. Casey was the winner.

In the National B Division, the Lions closed the gap on second place by blanking the Giants, 18-0, behind Arty Hagg's no-hit pitching. Hagg was backed up by some fine glove work on the part of shortstop Bob Seiler.

Cubs, Yanks In Major Loop Playoff

A portion of Bensenville Little League's field day was washed out again last weekend, but league officials confidently have rescheduled the remainder of the festivities for a later date.

Before the rains came, several contests were finished. Mark Romme won the catcher-to-second base throwing contest, and Dave Schacht won the outfield-to-home throwing event in the Minor League division.

The Nationals socked the American League, 9-1, in the Minor League All-Star game.

IN THE Intermediate League, the Senior circuit was also victorious in All-Star play, blanking the American League dream team, 2-0.

Bob O'Connell took all comers in the catcher-to-second base throwing competition. Tom Finn topped the field in the outfield-to-home plate throw.

Earlier in the week, the Cubs beat the Yanks out of a tie for the Major League first round championship in a play-off.

THE YANKS, however, took first in the second round of play to force a playoff with the Bruins for the season title.

The second game of a two-out-of-three championship series will be played this evening (Thursday) at St. Alexis Field with the third game, if needed, set for Monday.

Itasca Pharmacy Clinches Pony Tail Title Tie

Sparked by a trio of outstanding pitching performances the "B" squad clobbered the "A" outfit, 12-1, in the First Annual Itasca Pony Tail Intra-League All-Star game Saturday.

Donna DeGrazia got the starting call for the victors and allowed one run during a three-inning stint. Maggie Koller and Mickey Marye followed De Grazia with a couple of shutout efforts to preserve the victory.

The "A" unit drew first blood with a run in the top of the first as Sue Hinkin tripled home Pam Peterson.

BUT THE "B's" matched that tally with one of their own in the bottom half of the same inning thanks to Connie Whipple's clutch hit, and then pulled ahead for keeps in the second session.

Gail Box paced the winners' attack with three hits in five at bats. Hinkin collected three hits for the losers.

In regulation play, Itasca Pharmacy clinched at least a tie for the Itasca title by downing second place Salt Creek, 17-5, in a crucial game played last Monday.

WHIPPLE, Kathy Snider and Marilyn Peterson starred for the league-leaders with three hits apiece. Marye and Koller combined their pitching talents and held Salt Creek to five hits.

Salt Creek kept its slim mathematical hope for a tie alive last Wednesday, however, by outlasting Schumann's Bakery, 10-7.

Tied with Salt Creek for second place is Elmdale Homes, a 12-11 winner over Itasca Country Club last Tuesday. Both Elmdale and Salt Creek have won six of 10 decisions and trail the Pharmacy by two games.

Dick Craig, number one man of the Prospect Heights Pharmacy team, stole the spotlight in the Rob Roy Tuesday Night League by shooting the par 36 back nine in 34 strokes.

This sizzling round was topped off by a long drive and holding a perfect wedge shot on the par four 18th for an eagle two to give Dick low gross honors for the evening.

The leading Gunnell's Restaurant squad tenaciously held on to their three and-a-half point lead by downing a hard fighting Borchardt's Restaurant crew, 4-3.

BERNEY MAGNESON and L. Blomquist set the pace in this match by defeating their opponents although Stan Pruyn, number four man of the opposing Borchardt's team, walked off with match low net honors by uncorking a fine round of 41-9-32.

Second place John Stearns & Co. kept pace with the leaders by defeating Ray Statz & Associates, 4-3, with Wally Schroeder, number 4 man, of the losers copping low net honors, 45-10-35.

Kelter Realty continued on the comeback trail by whitewashing the powerful Rodewald Farm Dairy boys, 7-0. The realty foursome came through with a great team effort with number 2 man, Bob Hornbostel, and substitute number 3 man, Ernie Smith, carding net 32s. Number one man, Bob Cook, net 35 and number four man, Jim Campbell, net 38 for a terrific team low net total of 137.

Pioneer Park Takes Over League Lead

Pioneer Park took over sole possession of first place in the Arlington Heights Park District 12-inch softball league by handing the High School their second loss by a score of 15-4.

Scoring four runs in the second and fourth innings and seven in the fifth, Pioneer Park powered their way to their sixth straight victory. The High School did their best to help Pioneer win by committing no less than eight errors in the field; four in the seven run fifth.

Jim Jorgenson and Steve LeVan hit home runs for Pioneer. Steve also had two singles to give him a perfect day at the plate. Ron Gustason had three singles and Jim Bersheim a single and triple to lead the high school.

IN ITS OTHER game, Pioneer won over Recreation, 7-2. Leading, 3-2, Pioneer pushed across three more runs in the fifth inning to assure their victory.

Ed Johnson and Herb Earlbacher homered for Pioneer. Mickey Wadzita helped the Pioneer cause by getting two straight doubles, one with the bases loaded. Recreation could manage to get only four singles off pitcher Steve LeVan.

Playing very fine ball, Pioneer now seems to be the team to beat as the league swings into the second half of the schedule.

Evergreen Park, by registering two more victories, moved up into a tie for second place and is still in contention for the league lead.

HAVING TO come from behind with three runs in the last inning, Evergreen beat a much-improved Dryden team, 8-6. After Bill Kellin and Mike Needleman had singled, Bruce Boult hit a game-winning three-run homer.

Dryden jumped off to a quick lead with four runs in the first inning on four hits and two errors. After being shut-out for four innings, Evergreen finally got their offense rolling and pushed across eight runs in the last three innings.

Tom Lundstedt with a homer and two singles, and Bob Berde with two triples and a single, were the leading Evergreen hitters. Larry Weber led Dryden with three straight hits, a double, and two singles.

EVERGREEN made Recreation its second victim of the week. In a reversal of their last game, Evergreen struck early with nine runs in the first four innings, and rolled on to an 11-6 victory.

Once again, Tom Lundstedt led the Evergreen attack with a homer, triple and single. Doug Soudeberg contributed a triple and single, while Bruce Boult had three straight singles.

Dale Dassonville, pitching his first game for Evergreen, was the winning pitcher.

Recreation had a big five run fifth inning. Noni Santo's triple with the bases loaded was the big blow of the inning.

FOLLOWING THEIR loss to Evergreen, Dryden bounced back with an 8-7 victory over Virginia.

Virginia Park played good ball except for a disastrous second inning in which Dryden scored six runs on four hits and five errors.

Despite their mistakes, and trailing, 8-1, Virginia made a valiant effort to come back by scoring three runs in each of the last two innings, but it just wasn't enough.

GREG SCHECK and Gerry Weber each had two hits for the victors. Richard McCoy had the only homer of the game, a solo blast in the seventh inning. Actually, Virginia outhit Dryden, 9-6, but costly errors in the field cost them the game.

Hasbrook stayed in contention by handing Virginia their second loss of the week. With the game tied, 5-5, Terry Taege hit a three-run homer in the fifth inning, and Hasbrook went on to win 11-5.

Larry Strelow hit a two-run homer in the third inning to temporarily put Hasbrook out in front.

VIRGINIA GAVE notice to Hasbrook to beware by scoring five runs in the first four innings, but then their offense died out and Hasbrooks heavy hitting gave them the victory.

Fred Woud was the winning pitcher.

Phil's Pure Oil Routs State Bank; Widens Loop Lead

Phil's Pure Oil improved their grip on first place in Tuesday division of the Mount Prospect Twilight league last week as it overwhelmed Mount Prospect State Bank, 8-2. This widened their lead over second place Winkelman's Shell Oil to four and one-third points, which is the greatest margin any first place team has been able to attain this season.

The defeat dropped the Bankers down to sixth place.

Winkelman's was lucky to mantain its second place position as it suffered a 4½-5½ reverse in their match with Mount Prospect Electric Construction Co., while their close rivals, third-place Licht's Paint Store, added a 7-3 victory over Wille Lumber and Fuel. The Painters now have moved to within one point of second place and dropped Wille's into fourth.

THE SECOND division teams battled it out among themselves with nothing very decisive developing. Annen and Busse, struggling to get back into contention, knocked off Kruses Tavern, 6-4, Keefer's Pharmacy beat Golden's Food Shop, 7-3, and Kirchoff Insurance squeezed out a 5½-4½ win over Kersting's Garden Center.

Low score for the night was a sub-par 32 on the first nine posted by alternate Len Arnold. Len scored birdies on holes three, five, eight, and nine. Glenn Adams posted a 34 for the second nine with birdies on 13 and 15.

Structural Steel Lead Dwindles In Arlington Loop

The annual two-ball foursome was held Sunday afternoon at Golden Acres Country Club after having been postponed from the previous Sunday.

Eighteen brave couples participated, but again the weatherman proved unco-operative by providing the usual Sunday rain. This time, however, a few holes of golf were played and the rest of the afternoon was spent in the clubhouse visiting.

LEAGUE PLAY, which was rained out on July 13, got underway again Friday night. The rest didn't bother C. Jamison who posted two birds, while T. Cara, G. Otto, E. Lyle, L. Haines Sr., K. Seeger, P. Chimes and R. Lippke all posted one bird apiece.

Horcher Decorators continued their march toward first place by taking 8½ points, which put them just two points behind the leaders, Arlington Structural Steel.

New Emerald Cleaners whitewashed Harris Pharmacy to move into third place.

Arlington Tankers Down Two Squads In Triangular

A strong Arlington Heights swimming team, fresh from an easy victory over Northbrook, continued its winning ways Monday by amassing a total of 384 points to defeat Willow Springs Swim Club and Evergreen Park in a triangular meet at Willow Springs.

The Arlington swimmers dominated all the individual events and captured nearly every relay in their preparation for the conference championships in August.

Unofficially Arlington is now 3 and 1 in the won-lost column, having lost only to Park Ridge earlier in the season.

PARTICULARLY outstanding were the 11 and 12-year-old girls who lapped both opposing relay teams in their event, coasting to an easy victory.

Barb Raash, a 12-year-old from Recreation Park won the freestyle, breaststroke and butterfly, and anchored the freestyle relay team. Brother Bill won the 13 and 16 boys freestyle and scored a come - from-behind win as anchor man on the 17 and over freestyle relay.

Todd Behrens won the 9 and 10 - year - old boys 25 - meter breaststroke, and Greg Inman pulled his way to a blue ribbon in the 15 and 16-year-old boys backstroke.

Many swimmers contributed valuable second and third places to prove that Arlington has depth as well as first place power.

Winners in the nine hole division were Dorothy Foster(A), Virdel Pierce(B), and Sue Jones(C).

North DuPage All-Stars Stop Leyden

North DuPage's National League All-Stars stormed into the finals of area Pony League tournament play during the past weekend by sweeping a pair of contests from Leyden.

The National stars butchered Leyden, 15-3, at Leyden Saturday and then decided the best-of-three series Sunday at Itasca by registering a 5-1 triumph.

Actually, the Area finals will be an all-North DuPage affair. Opposing the National Leaguers will be an all-star aggregation representing the circuit's American Division.

THE AMERICAN Leaguers received a first round bye when Elmhurst was transfered to the Aurora District field at the last minute.

Itasca's Washington School diamond wll serve as the site for the entire best-of-three series, which will get underway at 2 p.m. Saturday with a single game. The second game is set for 1:30 p.m. Sunday with a third game, if needed, to follow.

The eventual Area winner will advance to District Tournament play Aug. 4-5 with a berth in the Northbrook Sectional hanging in the balance.

EXCELLENT pitching coupled with some extremely timely hitting spelled out the National Leaguers' victory story last weekend.

Erwin Scharlau received the starting call Saturday and he reponded by throwing a four-hitter at Leyden to spark a 15-3 North DuPage rout. Along the way Scharlau racked up nine strikeouts.

The victors virtually decided the issue with five runs in the top of the first frame. In keeping with the 12-run rule, the game was halted at the completion of the fifth inning.

BOB CARPENTER sparked North DuPage's attack with a double and triple. Mosier and Ballard both contributed a pair of doubles.

Carpenter virtually was a one-man-gang Sunday as he pitched and batted the National Leaguers to victory. He went the distance on the hill for the winners, limiting Leyden to a single hit, and additionally cracked out a home run in the fourth inning.

Leyden went hitless for the first six innings before the lead-off batter in the seventh slapped out the only hit off Carpenter.

North DuPage again found the range in the first inning Sunday, punching across two runs, and then added another two-spot for insurance in the fourth frame.

Tank Squad Beaten

Mount Prospect Park District Swim Team was dunked by the powerful Des Plaines armada, 224-203, last week, but the results showed a definite improvement in the efforts of the local splashers, who lost to the same team last year by a margin of 136 points.

Kathy Farleigh bobbed to the surface with three blue ribbons, while Randy Ballard, Tom Fuith and Bob Perkins salvaged two each.

HOLLY WIEBER and Jeanne Pollard, competing in their first meet of the summer, helped out with a couple of firsts.

Bill Rieser, Paul DeMent, Rene DeMent, Steve Rieser, Rick Carr, Jim Campana, and five relay teams landed single wins.

The loss to Des Plaines balanced Mount Prospect's dual meet record at two wins and two losses.

MAILING HER ENTRY for the fifth annual obedience trials sponsored by Northwest Obedience Club is Cinnamon Brigid, Irish Setter owned by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Murphy of Roselle. The all-day show, one of the largest in the country, will be held August 19 at Prospect High School. More than 200 dogs of all breeds are expected to be entered in the show.

Itasca, Schiller Park Battle to 0-0 Draw

Itasca and Schiller Park battled to a nine inning 0-0 draw Sunday in the opening game of a two-game intercity Little League series.

The two teams will hook up in a rematch at Itasca Sunday, beginning at 2 p.m.

Last Sunday's game was strictly a pitcher's duel. Casey Gauntt, Bill Ladd and Mike Michalczyk combined their pitching talents for Itasca and limited the host Schiller Park unit to three hits.

A SPARKLING double play initiated by Jeff Duncan preserved the shutout for Itasca as Schiller Park had mounted what appeared to be a dangerous uprising in the fifth inning.

The regulation Itasca Little League season officially will be concluded at a special ceremony at the Village Park Saturday, beginning at 2 p.m.

Bill Ladd, director of baseball in Itasca will launch the program with a presentation of team and individual awards to the respective champions and runners-up in the Major, Minor and Pony Tail divisions.

CLIMAXING Saturday's activities wil lbe a girls' softball game matching the Pony Tail All-Stars against a team comprised of the wives of the various coaches and managers who participated in this summer's program.

Joan Box will direct the Pony Tail outfit, while Bill Ladd will manage the "Old-Timer" squad.

The Major League race, which has been a wide-open affair from the outset, appears headed for a climactic showdown this evening (Thursday) when the two front-runners clash head-on.

AS OF Tuesday, Itasca Bank held a slim half-game lead over Itasca Basket. Game-time has been set for 6:30 p.m.

In games of last week, the Bankers chalked up two victories, while the Basket was disposing of three opponents.

Bill Robinson and Tim Schaper pitched the Bank to a 7-1 win over Lions No. 1 last Monday and then teamed up once again last Thursday for a 7-3 decision over Weichert Heating.

Glenn Mensching sparked the victors' attack with his first homer of the season. Bill Carlsen connected for the circuit in the sixth for Weichert.

THE WEICHERT boys also fell victim to the Basket as Buddy Wheaton and Mike Michalczyk pitched the second place club to an 8-1 triumph.

Wheaton spearheaded the Basket's 6-0 shutout win over Lions No. 2 Friday. In addition to turning in a no-hit stint on the mound, he smashed a three-run homer.

T5d½V whrCtixilmOw

Wheaton's mound partner, Michalczyk, contributed a two-run homer, while Gene Szara turned in three sparkling defensive plays to preserve the shut out.

AGAIN Saturday, Wheaton and Michalczyk connected for four-baggers as the Basket stopped Kiwanis Club, 6-1. Michalczyk's blow accounted for four runs.

Lions No. 1 moved to within a half-game of third place thanks to a pair of victories during the week. The Lions Club stopped Kiwanis, 7-1, last Wednesday and then battered Weichert Heating, 13-7.

Larry Schlomann's first homer of the season highlighted the Lions' win over Weichert. Tim Little homered for the losers.

IN MINOR League action, the Cubs clinched at least a tie for the second round crown by downing the White Sox, 11-9, and the Indians, 5-1.

The Bruins had to go into extra innings to defeat the White Sox last Monday. Courney Ladd, Bob Dohse and Mark Forsberg all sa waction on the hill for the winners.

The only team still in contention in addition to the Cubs are the Braves, who scored a 17-16 victory over the Yanks and a 10-7 win over the Dodgers.

JOHN BINNEBOESE and Jimmy Helm comprised the winning mound combination on both occasions.

Reed, Bensenville Blank Wheaton, 2-0

Carl Reed, featuring pinpoint control and a blazing fastball, pitched Bensenville back into the DuPage County American Legion baseball race by blanking Wheaton, 2-0, at Wheaton Monday.

The victory was Bensenville's fourth of the season against one setback. For Wheaton, on the other hand, the setback was its second in succession after three opening victories.

Reed was in complete control of the situation from the outset. He skillfully scattered four hits and found himself in a jam only once during the seven-inning contest.

NEIL GAGNON was equally effective for Wheaton, allowing only three hits, but poor offensive support from his teammates led to his downfall.

Coach John Giannini's crew put together the first scoring threat of the game in the second frame when Fred Picket slashed out a triple with one out. But Gagnon wriggled off the ropes as Reed and Don Gustafson failed to move the ball out of the infield.

Weaton blew a golden scoring opportunity in the fifth session. With one gone, Wayne DeMaar doubled and took third when Bensenville second baseman Guy King booted the relay from the outfield.

DeMAAR DIED at third, however, and Bensenville went on to win the game in the sixth.

An error by Wheaton's Rusty Showalter in right field on Larry Gates' fly opened the door for Bensenville's decisive outburst. King moved Gates along to second on an infield grounder.

Paul Born then lofted a fly to left that Kimball misjudged, and by the time the ball sailed back into the infield, Bensenville had runners on at first and second.

GEORGE STUMP forced Born at second, Gates taking third on the play. Stump then stole second and scored behind Gates on Dick Roll's clutch double.

Gagnon nailed Picket on a grounder to the mound for the third out, but the damage had been done.

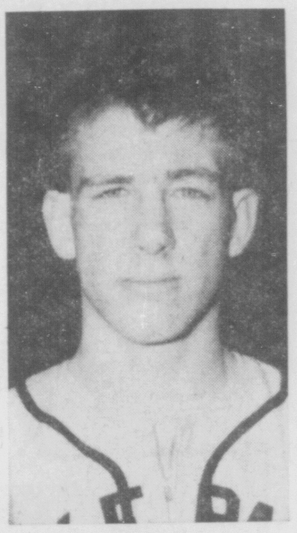
Bensenville's scheduled game with Downers Grove last Wednesday was postponed and will be made up at a future date.

What with Wheaton's collapse during the week, Glen Ellyn, the only unbeaten team in the county has taken over sole ownership of first place with a 3-0 mark. Coach Fred Hancock's outfit leveled West Chicago, 8-3, Friday.

SHARING second place with Bensenville only a matter of percentage points behind Glen Ellyn is Elmhurst. Elmhurst downed Lombard, 3-1, Friday after battling Villa Park to a 1-1 stalemate last Wednesday.

Highlighting this week's full slate of action will be a home-and-home series between Elmhurst and Glen Ellyn. The two squads will meet at Glen Ellyn tonight (Thursday) and at Elmhurst Monday.

Glen Ellyn must also face Bensenville, a team which it beat, 3-2, July 17, at Bensenville Wednesday.



DICK ROLL

IN STATE tournament play, Glen Ellyn wrapped up the 11th District title and a trip to this weekend's Second Division tourney at Rockford by sweeping two straight from Will County champ, Monee.

Hancock's crew stormed from behind to take a 4-1 decision last Wednesday and then breezed to an 8-2 triumph at Monee Saturday afternoon.

Jack Benny Plays At Ravinia Sunday

Plans for a new tri-level stage for Ravinia Park, the world famous music festival center in north suburban Highland Park, were announced this week by the Ravinia Festival Association.

First funds for the new facility will come from a concert featuring Jack Benny with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Alfred Wallenstein.

The concert will be held at 8 p.m., Sunday, July 29, at Ravinia. Wallenstein, internationally known conductor, presided at Benny's first symphony appearance in Carnegie Hall in 1956.

INITIAL PLANS for the new stage were announced by Ralph Michaels, chairman of the Benefit Committee. Ravinia facilities now are inadequate, Michaels said—so much so that not even a small part of its potential is being realized because its physical plant is quite incomplete.

Michaels recalled that the original charming but ancient wooded pavilion at Ravinia was destroyed by a fire on May 14, 1949, and that the present stage pavilion was constructed on an emergency basis in just 45 days so that year's music season could begin.

The stage has no curtains, no wings, no dressing rooms, no orchestra pit, no scenery loft, no proper lighting equipment, no lower level for equipment and storage, no adequate toilet facilities for performers.

THE NEW STAGE has been designed by Holabird & Root, noted Chicago architectural firm. Its size has been tentatively set at 74 feet wide between supporting columns and 45 feet deep.

Ravinia is located between Sheridan and Green Bay roads. It is only 32 minutes from Chicago's Loop via the Northwest of Edens expressways. The North Western Railway stops at Ravinia's gates.

Tickets may be obtained at the Ravinia box office at the park; at the Ravinia benefit office, Room 1634, 104 S. Michigan Ave.; and the Ravinia Association office, Room 405, 105 S. LaSalle St.

They range in price from $3 for a limited number of general admission tickets to $100 each for reserved seats. A major portion of the cost of all tickets is a donation to the cost of the new stage. (Bill

COMEDIAN JACK BENNY tunes up for his July 29 benefit performance at Ravinia. He will appear with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra to raise funds for a stage expansion project at the famous Chicago-area concert site. Since 1956, Benny has appeared at some 25 benefit concerts for good music throughout the United States.

'Music Man' Is Playing At Theatre

"Music Man," a delightful swinging musical comedy for the entire family moved into the Herb Rogers Music Theatre in Highland Park on July 24 and will continue through Aug. 12.

Van Johnson will star during this hit musical's three week run in Highland Park.

NIGHTLY curtains throughout the run will be at 8:30 p.m., with two performances on Saturdays, one at 6:45 p.m. and one at 9:45 p.m. The Music Theatre is at the corner of Lake-Cook Road and Skokie Highway in Highland Park.

This hit musical ran on Broadway for over two years and then enjoyed a triumphant national tour. (Bill

Phyllis Diller Will Star at Melody Top

Phyllis Diller, one of the bright new comediennes in the country, will star in her first musical comedy, "Wonderful Town," at the Melody Top Theatre in Hillside, for two weeks only, July 30 through Aug. 12.

Just five years ago, Miss Diller was a contented housewife with five contented children and a contented husband. Today she is well on her way to becoming an outstanding name in the theater as well as in night clubs and television.

IN ADDITION to her successful comedy albums, she has added many new facets to her career. Last summer she made her legitimate stage debut in the leading role in "Dark At The Top of The Stairs" at three leading eastern summer theaters and also had an interesting cameo role as Texas Guinan in the motion picture "Splendor In The Grass" by Elia Kazan.

"Wonderful Town" is the musical version of the play "My Sister Eileen" by Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov. The same men did the book of "Wonderful Town" which has music by Leonard Bernstein and lyrics by Betty Comden and Adolph Green. (Bill

Give Jalopy At Theatre

Louis R. Jelinek, manager of the Dundale Drive-In Theatre, last week presented a "jalopy" automobile to Donald Israel of West Chicago, winner in the theatre's contest.

Each week, according to Jelinek, a jalopy is given away.

Other winners last week were LeRoy Centella of Carpentersville, a battery; Engrett Clark of Dundee, floor mats; Robert J. Dow of Barrington, a side view mirror. (Bill

'Spartacus' Movie Opening At Prospect Theatre Friday

"Spartacus," the epic film which depicts an episode in history when a rebel army of slaves nearly destroys the tyrannical power in Rome, opens this Friday, July 27, at the Prospect Theatre, Mount Prospect.

Winner of four academy awards, "Spartacus" is headed by a notable cast of seven major stars, Kirk Douglas, Laurence Olivier, Jean Simmons, Tony Curtis, Charles Laughton, Peter Ustinov and John Gavin.

The motion picture is one of the costliest ever put on the screen.

IT IS DIRECTED by Stanley Kubrick and scored by Alex North, six-time academy award nominee for motion picture music.

A key supporting cast of such players as Woody Strode, Nina Foch, Joanna Barnes, John Dall, Charles McGraw and John Ireland also appear in the film along with many thousand extras who perform in the massive scenes of rebellion against the power of pagan Rome.

Based on a novel which sold three million copies in 45 languages, "Spartacus" has been widely acclaimed by the critics. Time Magazine called it "a new kind of movie with spiritual vitality and moral force."

OTHER MAGAZINES have declared it to be "a mighty tale . . . brilliant."

The movie was made by Bryna Productions for Universal - International release.

'Mousetrap' Mystery at Hinsdale

Hugh Marlowe and his wife, K. T. Stevens, will appear at Salt Creek Playhouse in Hinsdale July 23 thru Aug. 4 in Agatha Cristie's mystery play, "The Mousetrap."

Marlowe will play the sleuth, Detective Sergeant Trotter, and Miss Stevens will portray Mollie Ralston, in whose home the action takes place.

TYPICAL of all good English mysteries, the scene is a gloomy baronial mansion, and the guests include an army Major, a writer and various and sundry others, one of whom, unfortunately is murdered.

It is then up to Sergeant Trotter and the audience to unravel the clues and find the culprit. "The Mousetrap" is made to order for theatre goers looking for a change of pace from the usual light comedy summer theatre attractions. (Bill

'Guys and Dolls' Is BOB Players Choice

After a two-month rest following the production of "Showboat" last May, the Best Off Broadway Players are ready to roll with the fun musical "Guys and Dolls," to open Nov. 15.

Casting dates for "Guys and Dolls" will be Monday, Aug. 6, Thursday, Aug. 9, and Monday, Aug. 13, at Foster's Dance Studio, 18 N. Bothwell St., Palatine. Auditions will start at 8 p.m.

This play is a composite of Damon Runyon short stories depicting the lives of the confused and unemployed. There are parts for 17 men, ranging from principal singing roles to Broadway characters. An equal number of singing and dancing roles are being offered for the "dolls."

THE BEST OFF Broadway Players were formed in 1960 with the purpose of bringing to the general public "high class" musical theatre.

Over and above the casting of a new play, the BOB Players invite every one from ages 16 to 65, who have an interest in theatre, to join them in a musical production. (Bill

John Gavin To Star in O'Hare Inn

John Gavin, top young Hollywood star who recently took time out from his skyrocketing movie career to fill a special diplomatic assignment for the government, is branching out again—to the stage.

He will star in "Heavon Can Wait," the next attraction at the Chicago area's newest summer theater, O'Hare Inn Theatre, at Higgins and Mannheim Roads next to O'Hare International Airport. The play will open Saturday, July 28, and continue to Aug. 12.

GAVIN, WHO HAS appeared in 12 movies—most recently "Back Street" — since his discovery in 1955, might be termed Hollywood's most diplomatic actor. That's because his early ambition was for a diplomatic career and at Stanford University, where he graduated in 1951, his studies were aimed at a foreign service post.

Last year he was named special advisor to Dr. Jose A. Mora, secretary general of the Organization of American States, working to improve communications with the Latin American countries — and donated his time and talent to an assignment unprecedented in the motion picture industry. (Bill

Village Theatre Sends 'Invites' to Patrons

Invitations to take part in community theatre for the 1962-1963 season are being mailed this week to last season's 1,189 patrons of Village Theatre.

Executive Secretary Kay Hawley expects the number of patrons this year to exceed last year's record-breaking total because of the "increasing popularity of community theatre" and the "inacessibility of professional theatre to suburbanites."

A varied slate is being offered to Village Theatre patrons for the coming year, opening with "Desparate Hours" on Oct. 26, 27, and 28 at the Prospect High School Theatre.

THE CHILDREN'S play, scheduled for Dec. 9, remains to be chosen. The mid-season production, "A Majority of One," will be presented in the Arlington High School.

Because of the limited seating capacity there, and cognizant of village Theatre's growing audience, it will be offered on two consecutive weekends, March 1, 2, and 3, and March 8, 9, and 10.

A fitting climax for the season will be the final dish on the menu, "Auntie Mame," slated for May 31, June 1, and June 2 at the Prospect High School Theatre.

Village Theatre's resident director, Richard Tyler, who scored with "Solid Gold Cadillac," will direct the three major plays for the upcoming season.

PATRONS who buy season memberships not only save financially, but are assured of being able to secure tickets, as patrons are always contacted before outside tickets are sold.

The deadline for playbill listings will be Sept. 1, and only patrons who have their checks in by that date may be listed. For further information telephone CL 3-1819.

Local merchants and advertisers who wish to buy space in the playbill may contact Village Theatre President Marshall Moses at CL 3-8981. (Bill

2 Comedies Slated for Golf-Mill

Two, gay, delightful, romantic comedies are to be presented at the Golf Mill Theatre as a double feature attraction.

Opening this Friday, and to be shown for one week, will be "Boys Night Out," starring Kim Novak, James Garner and Tony Randall.

The companion feature is "Mr. Hobbs Takes A Vacation" starring James Stewart and Maureen O'Hara.

A SPECIAL program for children will be shown Saturday afternoon. The doors open 1 p.m. and the show starts at 1:20 p.m. with one hour of cartoons and comedies. The kiddies feature, an A-1 adventure story, "Voyage To The Bottom of the Sea," will start at 2:20 p.m. and ends at 4:15 p.m.

The Golf Mill Theatre is open for matinees every day. Coffee is served free, every evening in the color TV lounge. (Bill

Joan Sutherland at Ravinia on July 26

The appearance of Joan Sutherland, internationally renowned coloratura soprano, on the Ravinia program Thursday evening, July 26, will be a highlight of the 27th Ravinia Festival season.

Miss Sutherland and noted pianist Eugene Istomin will be the soloists during the fifth week's concert series of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra on July 24, 26 and 28, under the direction of Andre Cluytens, eminent French conductor.

Istomin, in his fourth Ravinia engagement, will appear on Saturday evening, July 28. Cluytens will also conduct the sixth and closing week's symphony programs, with Istomin and Byron Janis, pianist, as soloists.

A STATUESQUE Australian, who is known throughtout the world as a star of exceptional brilliance, Miss Sutherland, in her Ravinia debut, will sing the "Mad Scene" from Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor," which has won her tumultuous ovations at Covent Garden, the Paris Opera, La Scala, Chicago's Civic Opera House and the Metropolitan in New York.

Cluytens, whose only previous engagement at Ravinia, and an extremely successful one, was in 1959, has conducted the Chicago Symphony Orchestra in critically-acclaimed concerts at Orchestra Hall during the 1960-61 and 1961-62 seasons. (Bill

THE TECHNICOLOR production stars Kirk Douglas, Laurence Olivier, Jean Simmons, Charles Laughton, Peter Ustinov, John Gavin and Tony Curtis.

Directed by Stanley Kubrick, the Bryna Production is one of the costliest movies ever made and was filmed almost entirely in the United States. (Bill

The Way We See It

Use of Insecticides Should be Curtailed

There is another wasteland besides television which man cultivates. It is his own environment, the earth he occupies. Through ignorance, cupidity and arrogrance, he dissipates his precious natural resources of land, water, vegetation.

What he does not waste, he poisons, pollutes, corrupts, and otherwise fouls in the name of prosperity and progress, bank accounts, the "economy," and special interest groups.

An example is the use of insecticides, whose indiscriminate use has been documented in a six-part series which concludes this week in Paddock Publications.

Since 1945, pesticides have been used extensively on crops, trees, and in mosquito control. The sprays have been found to possess an amazing durability, which even cooking, apparently, will not remove. So we no doubt consume a certain amount of these poisons in the foods we eat.

We are also exposed to them in the air we breath when applications are coated on Dutch elm trees to combat Dutch elm disease, and when the air is flogged to decimate the mosquito population.

Various "experts" are occasionally mustered by chemical firms, agricultural departments or other govermental taxing bodies to dismiss any fears expressed over the use of insecticides. They state that the amounts used in spraying operations are so slight as to only discourage flights of the enemy mosquito, attacks of Japanese beetle on elm bark, and the assaults of various other pests.

Evidence, however, is strong that the cumulative damage of poisonous sprays might represent a serious threat to the well-being of humans. Like Strontium 90 which takes up residence in the bones, the sprays store up in organs rich in fatty substances such as the adrenal glands, testes or ovaries, thyroid, liver, and kidneys. Sprays are being investigated as possible causative agents in development of such disparate diseases as heart trouble, cancer, hepatitis, and even mental illness.

In testimony taken before a House of Representatives select committee investigating the use of chemicals in food products in 1950, a physician told of a woman developing pneumonia "immediately following spraying of her clothing with DDT for mothproofing purposes . . ." He also mentioned a six-year-old girl who developed aplastic anemia, which required repeated transfusions, after spraying of her closets and screens of her bedroom with DDT, and a man in his middle thirties who had continuous gastroenteritis and lost 30 pounds in the first three months of his illness. The illness began following the spraying of his bed with DDT, and removal of it from his environment along with butterfat from his diet (where the poison seems to concentrate), led to a dramatic recovery.

The irony in the use of insecticides is that while insects soon develop a resistence to them and pass a hereditary armor on to their offspring, the sprays are eliminating the bugs' natural enemies. Birds and fish — whose presence is a natural check on the insect population — are being slaughtered by the wholesale spreading of these substances.

Instead of destroying the balance of nature, we should shift our emphasis from spraying — a terminal sort of control — to biological control of insect pests. For instance, before chemical pesticides came to prominence, science developed a strain of wheat which possessed an immunity to wheat rust disease. Another natural control which would not reap such devastating side effects is a disease which attacks Japanese bettle larvae and has been known to wipe out over 95 per cent of the pests. This solution, while recently introduced to the U. S., has seldom been employed.

Sterilization of male insects has also been demonstrated to be a workable control. Another tactic would be the isolating and manufacture of the perfumes most female insects exude to attract the male. Synthetic scents could be developed to lure and wipe out a sizable number of the insect population.

Organic gardeners have shown that good soil produces excellent plants which are practically impervious to their natural enemies. Soil conservation certainly makes more sense than saturating the earth with poisonous solutions which remain potent in the soil for from four to 12 years.

A case in point where natural checks are employed is in the Cook County Forest Preserve District. Chemical treatment was stopped back in 1949, and is only used as a last resort if there is a large concentration of pests in a certain area. But minnow-size fish, which feed on mosquito larvae, are stocked in ponds and streams throughout the district. The forest preserves, according to the district's chief conservationist, are not a heavy producer of mosquitoes.

The most efficient way to control mosquitoes is by drainage and ponding, while spraying is only a temporary solution. (Mosquitoes breed best in polluted water, which shows that man has a way of compounding his problems.)

Because of the serious questions raised concerning the use of chemical sprays, we urge other communities served by the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District to follow Buffalo Grove's lead in requesting the district to apply its tax contributions toward eliminating the breeding areas of these pests rather than resort to the lazy and — on the basis of existing evidence — dangerous expedient of poisoning the air.

Reality Confuses Viewer?

The American people were introduced to a new "gadget" last week when Telstar premiered to an astonished and impressed nation-wide audience.

Now that Telstar is a reality, someone has to decide how to use it.

The thought of beaming westerns, "The Untouchables," soap operas, or "The Three Stooges," across the ocean is not pleasant. Neither is the realization that the program would be accompanied by advertisements of detergents, beer, tooth paste, and cigarettes. Americans are willing to put up with this type of entertainment, but we don't like to tell the world about our tastes.

What we would really like to show viewers on the other side of the world is the "true picture" of the USA, not the distorted Hollywood version of what goes on here. But even the "true picture" would have to include such damaging realities as prejudice, graft, "West Side Stories," crime, and an intellectually lazy, self-centered, uninformed citizenry.

We have dismissed foreigners' opinions of the United States as the result of Hollywood exports and experiences with atypical tourists. The practice of focusing cameras on the real us leaves few scapegoats. We should prefer to be judged on our ideologies.

Perhaps it would be better to turn Telstar over to the world of commercial make-believe, to the script writers who can be censored, to writers of dull educational programs which will never find a sponsor, to cigarette endorsements, living girdles, sleepwalking brassieres, no-money-down proposals, used car salesmen, sexy blondes, late movies, and underwater adventures. Don't confuse the viewer with reality.

Radio to Air Suburb Press

To Debate Article By Paddock Editor

Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications' 14 suburban newspapers, will be among the participants on "Viewpoint," a 50-minute discussion program which will be broadcast Sunday over WMAQ Radio, beginning at 10:10 p.m.

The show's topic is the suburban press, and was prompted by an article by Hayes appearing in the current issue of New City Magazine entitled: "The Growing Stature of the Suburban Press."

HAYES

The program will be narrated by Lawrence Ragan of DePaul University. A representative of the metropolitan daily pres and a Northwestern University research expert will also participate in the discussion.

In addition, a television program in which Hayes discussed the needs of Illinois' senior citizens will be re-televised Sunday at 1:45 a.m. over WNBQ, Channel 5.

The color telecast, "Live and Learn Forum," was first seen Sunday, July 22, at 10 a.m. The concluding program in a series on geriatrics produced by the NBC Public Affairs Department, it consisted of a half-hour discussion in which Hayes answered questions on the aged of Illinois.

Questions were posed by a panel composed of graduate students at Northwestern University and Larry Cameron, chief photographer of Paddock Publications. A series of articles entitled "These Lonely Rooms," which examined the problems of Illinois' aged, was recently published in Paddock Publications. Hayes wrote the series which was illustrated with Cameron's photographs.

New City Magazine, in which Hayes' articles on the suburban press appears, is a magazine of comment and opinion published by the Catholic Council on Working Life.

Critic's Corner

Monopoly Threat

by HELENE BRISTOL

Education Editor

While everyone likes to have people agree with them, I'm not sure that I'm quite comfortable in the company of the latest spokesman for my "pet" crusade.

David Lawrence, columnist leader for most ultra-conservative causes, has come out strongly on the subject of union monopolies. His syndicated column on this has even been reprinted in the July "Reader's Digest."

Understandably, Lawrence stresses the problems union monopolies create to business management, nation-wide strikes in critical industries and the lack of true free economy by virtue of setting industry-wide cost prices.

These issues are all unfortunately true, and business, the buying public, and ultimately the basic American system of free enterprise and the competitive position of the United States in a world-wide struggle of economics and ideology are the losers.

But Lawrence and other writers on the subject do not mention another large group of "losers" under the union monopoly system — the workers, the union members themselves.

In massive union monopolies like the United States Steelworkers, which cover not only the basic steel industry but other metal industries and allied metal-fabricating companies such as can manufacturers, the individual worker is completely submerged in massive numbers.

He has so little to say about his union policies that an ant trying to stop a herd of stampeding elephants would be more effective. Because his opinion, and his vote, is so inconsequential he has developed a "why bother" attitude when it comes to union - company negotiations, work conditions or incentive. Union insistence on strict seniority (while needed in some areas, of course) has promoted a mass of incompetence or, at best, disinterest in doing a good job. People who have seniority always "inherit" the best posts whether they have the actual ability or experience or not.

WHILE MANY people have pointed out how frustrating this is to management in trying to efficiently operate a plant, few have pointed out how frustrating it can be to the workers themselves, particularly those who attempt to do the best job possible or to young, enthusiastic trainees.

When these policies are dictated in a union contract negotiated by a super-level monopoly, the frustration of the individual worker is understandable.

Attendance at union local (as individual plant unions are designated) meetings is almost nonexistent. It could be argued that the individual workers through their neglect of attendance and real activity at plant locals have abdicated their responsibilties and that the union leadership must take on the responsibility for them. The same argument is advanced for socialism in government.

Lawrence and others have pointed out that nation-wide unions and industry-wide collective bargaining fix uniform wage costs by concerted action. Using sheer common sense, this fact alone is as important in fixing non-competitive prices for the buying public as any business monopoly or conspiracy to fix prices.

By looking into the obvious conclusion, not only do most major industries have to pay a uniform wage rate throughout the country, but the raw materials they buy have had their prices "fixed" by similar uniform nation-wide wage rates. This leaves only two major areas where management can really make cost cuts to compete with other firms pricewise.

FIRST, THEY can keep non-union wage rates for office workers at a minimum. Thus, while singing the song of helping the "poor working man," these unions are really depriving many office workers. The union answer to this is that white-collar workers should be organized in unions, a solution obviously not wanted by the majority of office workers.

Second—and the most important to union members — management can cut costs through more efficient operation. Since small efficiencies are almost prohibited through union contract work rules, this has pushed industries toward more and more automation and the consequent elimination of both union-members' jobs and the problems brought by the unions through their nation-wide policies.

Automation might be the eventual solution to production problems by management—but the speed with which industry has taken to automation certainly has been stimulated by nation-wide union monopolies. Now, when the die has been cast, union leaders are beginning to recognize the problem. They reluctantly admit industry must be able to compete in free enterprise, must be able to show progress and money-making ability to stockholders and must be free to put more efficient operations into practice if they are to keep out of the "red ink" bracket.

Maybe this recognition is too late. Even though union leaders point to the problems of automation, they do not discuss their part in creating this problem. How can they? It means their own jobs!

Not only have nation-wide union monopolies brought on these problems, perhaps even more important is the effect these policies have had on the basic attitude of workers themselves. Extra effort, pride in workmanship, special interest or training cannot be rewarded since promotion is bound strictly by seniority. Slipshod work habits, poor attitudes or, in many cases, downright "goldbricking" cannot be corrected without an elaborate union-management hearing. To most management the "cure" is more effort than the problem warrants.

Because wages are set throughout an industry, rather than an individual company, workers have no incentive to do a good job for their personal company to make more efficiencies possible or to make a better product which would compete more readily on the market. They feel that such effort under present union policies only reward management and stockholders - and, in part, they are right, since their own wages are firmly set, whether they do a good job or bad.

Most important, many workers have lost their personal feeling for free enterprise, and they are beginning to view socialism as their only salvation.

They may get it!

REMEMBER, THE nation-wide unions take a very active hand in politics and correction or limitation of union monopolies is highly unlikely through legislative action. Correction through action by union membership is equally unlikely since a union member has been trained to believe only those things the union tells him about business. In their view, business and management is the "enemy," government is their protector and unions are their conscience, spokesman and savior.

Underlying Ugliness

Tale of Ten Cities Shows Faiths Clash

BY MARTIN E. MARTY

"A Tale of Ten Cities" is a brilliant narrative visit to 10 American communities. Its authors, Eugene J. Lipman and Albert Vorspan, approached the areas with one question: how are relationships between the three faiths coming along?

Their report, published by the Union of American Hebrew Congregations ($4.95; 838 Fifth Avenue, New York 21, N. Y.), is surprisingly gloomy.

Yet the events to which they point are unmistakable signs of the fact that we have not yet learned to live up to the meaning of democracy.

I called it a "surprising" report. Why? For one thing, much progress has been made by inter - group planners. For another, Americans are in new kinds of contact with each other. In the older sections of the city there would be a Polish ward, a Jewish, a Scandinavian. Each could live independent lives, thriving on any kind of fiction about the other. Mistrust and misinformation were common; hateful outbreaks were frequent. Military experience, the suburban dislocation, the movement of people, mass media—all these, one would think would help break down old barriers.

WHAT IS more, in our personal experiences most of us have no difficulty getting along with persons of other faiths. Why do these authors find such troubles in the 10 communities they visit? In Minneapolis they found a good attempt to recover from anti-semitism and a nasty battle over some sectarian symbols on a state seal.

In St. Louis they found the archbishop permitting Catholics to attend non-Catholic colleges only with his written acquiescence.

New York's Protestant minority had not yet learned to live with its minority status. The Jewish authors accuse their fellow religionists of wanting to be completely exposed to national life—and yet withdrawing themselves. Most of the people belonged to clubs which catered to their own prejudices.

MUNCIE, Indiana, once a Ku Klux Klan stronghold, has an impressive record of holding the line in housing discrimination. In Boston, Protestant - Catholic tensions run high over birth control and child adoption. In Plainview, Long Island, Christian religious practices in public schools disturb. In Los Angeles, the "radical right" causes mistrust in all the religious communities.

The authors suggest that while on the surface we have a "triple melting pot," under the suface we have a "triple ghetto," that many factors in national life serve as barriers. I believe they have looked at only one aspect of the evidence, but what they have seen is discouraging.

THE ALTERNATIVE is not the globbing together of everyone into "one great faith"—this would be tyrannous even if it were religiously possible. The alternative is not slurring over differences. The alternative is learning to understand people of other faiths; practicing self-restraint in our attempts to crowd others with our own; learning what the ground rules of American life mean.

The authors think a great deal of ugliness is just under the surface. How would they do if they looked behind the facades of our pleasant towns? What are we doing about it?

The Fence Post — Letters to the Editor

Let's Broaden The Tax Base

Here we go again. It's the Monday "morning after" the Saturday election for park district improvements, with the villagers commiting themselves to another $395,000 debt.

The brochure sent to the residents indicated passage of the referendum would result in a minor increase in our property tax bill. This may be so, but one must consider the recent passage of a needed fourth high school and the total effect on future property tax bills.

My own property tax bill was increased 18 per cent for 1961, with a total increase of $160 in the four taxing years I have been a resident of this community. I wish to assure you that my residence is by no menas in the lavish section of the town.

IT WOULD BE interesting to know when our elected officials will expend effort in the direction of securing desirable industry to broaden the tax base instead of continually placing before the people referendums to increase taxes. My sympathies are with the retired people on fixed incomes who are obligated to pay for facilities that they will never use.

One need only to tour the village streets to find on virtually every block "For Sale" signs. Admittedly, Arlington Heights can be classed as a transient community with many villagers transferred in their employment each year; however not all for sale signs appear for that reason.

I overheard a remark at the Arlington Heights station this morning which certainly has some truth in it. The remark was "the only thing Arlington Heights won't have is people."

Parents Should Supervise Kids

My congratulations to your paper and your news editor, Melda Lynn, for the excellent article, "Problem Children," which appeared in the July 12 issue of the Mount Prospect Herald. It is this writer's earnest hope that every parent in our village read this article and will take cognizance of its contents.

Very often childless couples are told "you just don't understand children," to which my husband and I take exception; we don't understand parents who turn their children loose on other peoples' property to create nuisance in order to get them from "under their feet."

In our childhood our parents and teachers in school impressed upon us our responsibility as citizens—to respect private as well as public property and to be considerate of the rights of others. This apparently is not being done today and if we continue to permit children to run wild without proper parental supervision, it won't be very long before our community will be no better than some of the slums of our metropolitan neighbor.

We need more of the type of article which appeared in your paper. We seem to concern ourselves about everything that goes on in all parts of the world, but neglect to teach our children good citizenship and patriotism, which in my opinion should start in the home.

Jaycees Honor Fine Gentleman

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated for doing honor to what I think is the number one citizen of Palatine, Mr. Stuart Paddock.

I have known this gentleman for 35 years. I have seen him working in his little newspaper shop that many years ago. I have waatched him grow with his newspaper not through sensationalism but through Human Kindness and his love for our town.

He has always had understanding and foresight and is deserving of any honors we can give him. Thanks J.C.'s for honoring a fine gentleman and adding some happiness to the twilight years of his life while he is still with us.

Smashed Bottle Dangers Cited

I want to congratulate Melda Lynn on her excellent article on "Problem Children." The things she describes are very true, judging from what I have observed.

There is one thing I want to add—some children drop or throw empty soft drink bottles wherever they may happen to be when they are finished with them. Another will come along and smash the bottles on the sidewalk or on stones in a prairie or in a driveway. Smaller children may fall on the sharp glass particles and suffer pain and anguish unnecessarily and even permanent injury. It may be a good deed for the Boy Scouts to salvage these bottles for their value at the store.

Bus Service Is Needed to Shop

Well, here I go again. I had an item in the Fence Post of the Paddock Publications some weeks ago about bus service needed here. So far no noticeable results.

Here we're going to have a new shopping center opening up soon and no way to get there but by private transportation.

I think many people agree with me but are afraid to voice their opinions. I just wonder how many people are for or against bus service here or in the outlying communities.

I'm sure everybody would be willing to pay 25 cents a ride with transfer facilities to other busses, such as from West Central Road to Rand Road, and Rand Road to the centers or Central Road into town would help a lot.

I know of many young people who would like part-time jobs, including my 17 year old granddaughter, but can't get there unless somebody drives them. Now come on, let's get going on this.

Praise Village Role in March

Arlington Heights played an important role in the Danny Thomas St. Jude Research Hospital "March." The first volunteer to respond to Danny Thomas's plea over W.L.S. was Miss Sandy Feide, junior at Arlington High of 100 Wing St. in Arlington Heights. Also Mr. Fred Harms Jr. and his Vibratones had a dance (donating their services) and raised some $60.

We have a soft spot in our hearts for Arlington Heights. Also, (God forbid, I forget) our most dynamic district leader, Anthony Jhababy and his wife Mary were a "tower of strength."

All in all, we're proud of you out there.

Up to Parents To Curb Kids

There is no need for more stringent traffic laws in Elk Grove Village.

We believe Elk Grove Village is a model community in most ways, including the observance of traffic laws. The basic street system throughout the village was designed to prevent any real speeding.

Let's have the parents keep the kids off the streets. This is the crux of the matter. The responsibility for the life of one's children belongs to the parents; it is not to be dumped onto the bureau of street signs.

Roller Derby Earns Cheers

We would just like to extend our thanks for the fine hospitality shown us at your recent Triangle Roller Skating Rink Roller Derby. Between the two of us we have been associated with roller skating for over 20 years, but without a doubt have never been treated to a finer display of all-out effort in organizing and executing. Also, we have rarely seen such a fine incentive to winning as the trophies presented the top three.

Undoubtedly, this will stand as the first in a series of such races. Surely with similar publication and awards, the race should grow every year as the word gets around (and leave it to us to spread the word at Nationals this month.)

Please extend our thanks to Paddock Publications, too, for their publicity and coverage of the race. There are probably many more who deserve recognition and credit. We can only say thanks to everyone for a job well done.

Parents Must Share Drivers Responsibility for Children

In recent months two young children have lost their lives in the streets of Elk Grove Village. It is not my purpose here to point an accusing finger at anyone involved in these unfortunate accidents. My sympathies are extended to the families of the children and my compassion goes out to the drivers involved. I only hope that we can prevent the reccurence of such accidents in the future.

It has been my experience and I am sure that of many a motorist in our village to note with alarm the large number of primary grade school children and pre-school children utilizing our streets as playgrounds, not to mention the cyclists, many of whom are teenagers, specializing in weaving to and fro in front of motorists. The recent action of the Village Board to strictly enforce speed limits within the confines of the village was good; however, it leaves much to be desired since neither of the aforementioned deaths can be attributed to speeding automobiles.

Certainly it is always good to urge caution on the part of motorists, particularly in residential areas and even more particularly in areas with a large number of small children such as in Elk Grove Village, but why end the cautioning with motorists? Don't the parents share the motorists' responsibility for the safety of the children?

WE CAN CALL on the authorities to enforce existing regulations in regard to traffic; however, in the long run the responsible authority to call upon in keeping children from playing in the streets is the parents themselves.

—It is the parents, who upon becoming parents have assumed the responsibility to raise children and to provide for for their welfare.

It is the parents, who have delegated to the churches, the schools and the local governments the responsibility for teaching and safeguarding their children, but initially this responsibility belongs to the parents.

—It is the parents, who are improperly using their parental responsibility by neglecting it entirely or by foisting their responsibilities upon their neighbors who also happen to be motorists.

—It is the parents who have the responsibility to teach their children the dangers of running and playing in the streets and who have the authority to enforce their own regulations governing their children.

CERTAINLY IF the parents would accept their parental responsibilities and assert their parental authority by keeping their children out of the streets needless accidents could and would be avoided.

Your comprehensive, timely and well written article on parental responsibility and authority in last week's issue was very apropos and seemed to hit the nail on the head. It might be good to repeat it, as it is apparent that many of the problems of today's youth are spawned by the lack of acceptance of parental responsibility and assertion of parental authority.

Santa Village In Full Swing

I handle the publicity for Santa's Village which got a pretty good going over from Patty McArdle.

While she said some very nice things in the beginning of her letter, she had some misconceptions which I would like to point out.

The card system which she talked about has been discontinued and people now pay as they go. The card system was started because we thought it would be a convenience, but Miss McArdle was not alone in feeling that it was a hardship. The cash system has been in use for about two weeks, now.

SHE SPEAKS of the price of hot dogs, etc. I frankly don't know where in this area you can buy a hot dog for less than 30 cents and still get a good one.

There are many attractions at Santa's Village which are free, several of the rides the children use are free as well as the Santa Claus home and the visit with him and the cards and buttons which are given and the courtesies shown with his elves and helpers.

Obviously, we could have gimmicks like many amusement parks and advertise this or that for free or for half price, etc. and then "soak" them on the more attractive rides. The people at Santa's Village, as Miss McArdle points out, have a beautiful and highly expensive property and they sell it in that vein. Admission is charged to cover many of the free attractions and the training of the animals and other facilities.

When Miss McArdle uses such phrases as "robbery," "sneaky," etc., I think she is being very unfair. We have even advertised lately the fact that we have a free picnic area and invite the people to bring their own lunch. . . If this is robbery, maybe Miss McArdle uses a different dictionary than I do.

SHE POINTS out her criticisms in wondering why more people don't go there. I believe the answer to that is that Santa's Village didn't get opened until about June 1 this year and the momentum hadn't quite picked up by the time she visited us.

However, through advertising, including your own paper, and promotions, people now realize Santa's Village is in full swing and Miss McCardle would be pleasantly surprised if she visited us now.

My main purpose in writing you is to ask that, since your paper has taken such an interest in Santa's Village, you might want to do a picture and story feature on some of our wonderful attractions. . Among our proudest attractions is a duck that plays the piano, a reindeer that runs a printing press, a goat with a set of triplets which the children love to follow around, a "kissing bunny" and many other attractions that can neither be found in a zoo or at any other amusement park.

Subdivision Is Causing Floods

The article appearing on the front page of the Roselle Register of July 12 spurs this comment.

Four plus years ago we built our home on Spring Street. At that time there were no homes east of us. Since then the entire area east of Spring Street to the crest of the hill in Medinah has been developed. Many homes plus a school have gone into this area.

Thus began our woes of drainage problems. In April of 1961 I presented this problem to the village board. An article even appeared in the Register at that time. From April through July of that year I attended the village board meetings. Result? The village engineer was sent out to survey the situation. He made his report to the board, at a meeting I attended, in which he recommended regrading the drainage ditches and servicing the culverts for three blocks which would cost in the neighborhood of $500. Nothing was done. The board felt they didn't have that kind of money to pay for the regrading of the ditches for three blocks.

THE ARTICLE in the Register this week states it would cost $600 to "fix the problem in front of the Schumacher residence." Anyone driving on Spring Street can view the drainage ditch in front of the Schumacher residence which drains and has no stagnant water standing in it.

But two lots down the drainage system we encounter a culvert at Berkshire. This culvert is completely filled with dirt. Not dirt put in by citizens trying to improve the situation but by eroded, uncared-for ditches and silt. This culvert causes Spring Street to completely flood during a rain. Yet Mr. Wolt claims, according to the paper, that, quote, "Just cleaning a culvert at Berkshore as Mrs. Schumacher requested would increase the problem of standing water." Does this make sense? Keeping the water flowing in the direction it was designed to go is going to create a problem of standing water?

Trustee Schuessler stated that the drainage put into our area was not meant to serve the entire subdivision. Yet when this so-called "gripe" is aired at the meetings some board members make light of it by trying to pass off the blame to the residents who have tried to take care of the ditches by eliminating standing water. If this street was not designed to take all the flood waters from the subdivision, why force it on us?

I BEG to differ with Trustee Wolber about the water running where no one has done anything about their ditches-Berkshire culvert is an example. Mr. Wolber lives in this area so he must drive through our flood-area with his eyes closed. When my husband discussed some of these problems with Mr. Wolber he was told, "If you don't like it, why did you move here?" I'd like to inform Mr. Wolber that we did not have these problems the first two years. Our problems have been created by "drainage, never meant to serve the entire subdivision."

As tax-paying citizens of the village of Roselle, I feel we have a right to a solution to this problem without so many "pass-the-buck" insinuations.

Reprinting of Speech Lauded

It was with great satisfaction that I noted your reprint of General MacArthur's West Point Farewell in your paper on Thursday, July 5. The eloquence and beauty of this sermon should be apparent to every reader. For this reason alone, I believe history will accord it an honored place in the annals of American literature.

However, I believe the most important single fact of this farewell speech was the feeling of deep patriotism shown by this man who served his country so well during his career. I feel that everyone who has read the speech will love his country just a little stronger than before.

I congratulate you and your paper for reprinting the speech in its entirety.

Ban on Flying Is 'Foolish'

I have just noticed a new sign behind the Wood Street High School prohibiting the flying of model airplanes, etc. This I discovered was the result of a petition submitted by nearby residents.

Since we are all bombarded by sounds we cannot curb (jets, power mowers, etc.) venting our anger and frustration on more easily controlled noises is a normal human reaction. However, I think we are doing ourselves and our community a disservice.

Anyone living near a park or other public property surely should expect a certain amount of inconvenience. As a Wood st. property owner (directly across the street from the high school I can testify to the nuisances caused by the nearness of the grade school, high school, and Palatine Park. In most cases these are minor and bearable. When I am out of sorts they are more vexing than at other times.

THE FLYING of model airplanes by young teens is a wholesome, constructive recreation enjoyed by observers as well as participants, and a far more acceptable activity than some of the hi-jinks indulged in by young people. Surely we are doing more harm than good when we bar them from the open areas in town.

The use of school property could possibly be restricted to the hours between 10 a.m. and dusk. This should give us enough time to enjoy the peace and quiet of our neighbors' loud radios and blaring hi-fis. We have neither teen-agers nor model airplane flyers in our family. This letter merely states my feelings about the responsibility of the citizen to the community. It seems foolish to restrict the legitimate interests of our young people and force them into acts of mischief and va-n into acts of mischief and vandalism as an outlet for their energies.

Tax Exemption Hike Is Needed

One method of cutting the income tax where it is most needed, and to which there probably would be the least objection to, is outlined below, and is simplicity itself.

When the income tax law first became effective, the allowance of $600 per dependent was arrived at because actually, at that time, $50 per month would keep any ordinary person of any age in life's necessities. That is no longer true. On such as old age assistance pensions, soldier's pensions, and the like, this same government of ours, of their own accord, granted, first an, "across-the-board," 10 per cent increase, ignores it in the case of the $600 we taxpayers are supposed to feed, clothe, and house an individual dependent on. This, too, should have been increased to $660 with the first pension increase, and then later a little less than 11 per cent, to about $775 at this time.

INCREASING THE individual exemption to, say, an even $800 per dependent at this time would thus decrease almost all wage-earners, in fact, all of them with any dependents, by at least $40 per dependent per year. We doubt if any opposition argument could possibly be raised against this change, accomplishing your purpose smoothly and being universally popular at the same time.

In line with this, then, a general corporation income tax decrease amounting to, perhaps, 10, 15 or even 20 per cent would follow in order, and smoothly.

People who pay to shop

Most retailers, we suspect, would shudder at the idea of charging customers an admission fee to shop in their stores.

Yet, we do it regularly. Readers buy this paper for the news and features, but they also buy it to see your advertising. They want to know what you are selling, what your prices are, and compare this with what another merchant is advertising.

Readers are shoppers, and people who pay to shop, shop to buy.

Your advertising reaches them as an invited guest. They study it at their leisure, and they will respond if what you have to say interests them.

Who measures this paying audience?

As members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, we submit our circulation records to regular inspection by traveling ABC auditors. This is an organization of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers, whose sole purpose is to give accurate and factual circulation reports.

ABC measures our circulation audience, in accordance with the highest industry standards.

Its reports tell how many shoppers buy our paper, where they buy it, what they pay, and many other facts to help you know our paying audience.

For full details on the people who pay to shop, ask to see a copy of our latest ABC report.
